LIFFORD A GOOD SERMON. The Rev. H. F. Burgess. Epi-copal minister of Manvers, preached on last Sathath in St. Mary's church, one of the best temperance sermons we have ever had the pleasure of listening to; from the 9th, 10th and 12th verses of 6 h chapter of 1st Counthians. It was coquent and impressive, and we trust will be productive of good results. The Manners central Scott act committee had requested all ministers in the township to preach a temperance sermon of the 22nd. The bishop of Toronto had also appointed the 22nd as temperance Sunday, so that Mr. Burgess complied with both requests at the same time. We carrestly pray that the rev. gentlemanmay long be spared in health and strength, and he endued with wisdom, power and cloquence from on high to herald the tidings of salvation and prohibition.

Scott Act.—There was a large congregation in the Methodiet church on Sunday evening to hear a temperance sermon by Rev. Mr. Woodger, taking leaish xxviii...7, as the foundation of his remarks. He showed how men erred, financially, physically, sociably and morally through strong drink, and mode a very earnest appeal to all to lend their influence and cast their votes for temperance on the 28th..... Rev. Mr. Creighton, minister of the Episcopal church here, also preached an earnest and appealing temperance sermon to his congregation on Sunday morning. All the resident ministers are using their influence to secure the passing of the Scott set. May their efforts be not in vail.

BASKET SOCIAL.—The ladies' benevolent society gave a basket social at Mr. J. Lee's on Friday, 13th inst., which was a grand success. The boys appeared to be well natisfied with their purchases and shared their board with their partners. The bas-kets were everything that could be desired, and the literary entertainment was good.

BAND CONCERT.—The concert given by the band on Wednesday, 18th inst., was enjoyed by all present. The town hall was packed. The Omemeeites came down handsomely—a whole load of 'em. Among handsomely -a whole load of 'em. Among those from the above town we noticed the Omemee Herald scribe, with his brow "sickiled o'er with the pale cast of thought" and with his platonic smile and greeting for every one. Mr. J. D. Thornton appeared on the platform. It is unnecessary to make special mention of the ladies who were on the program from Omemee. They are favorites as musical and literary stars. However, we must not and literary stars. However, we must not forget to specially mention Mrs. W. W. Daley, who kindly offered to render a few pieces and assist to make the entertainment a success. She held the audience spellbound, while the applause and encores afterwards were deafening. We hope to have the pleasure of hearing her again

The public are invited. Admission free.

Young Men's Liberal Association. A regular meeting of this association was held Among those deserving special mention are Mrs. Lillie White, who presided very ably at the organ, and Mr. Isaac Laidley of Janetville, who gave an excellent recitation and a number of comic songs. The selection from "Pericles' funeral oration," had been well read by Mr. J. Campbell and Mr. H. L. Dunn, B. A., respectively, an interesting paper on "The habitability of other worlds," was given by Mr. Lees. The essayist showed that this theory, while only of comparatively recent date, was gaining ground-though it was not capable of mathematical proof. The similarity between the primary planets of the solar system, of which the earth is one, argues fitness of habitation of all. The analogy does not hold so well in case of the secondary planets. The worlds outside the solar system for various reasons are supposed similar and similarly situated to those in tt—therefore likely seats of life. Again if not to sustain life of what use are these worlds. The theory of other worlds than ours is not opposed to Christianity. The paper evidenced thought and research and was listened to with attention... The debate was on the resolution "That there are other classes of real estate than public property that should be exempt from taxation." Messrs, A. Skinner and R. Consadine in supporting the affirmative held that since only capital invested for revenue should be taxed, church property, educational, art and other institutions for the hencet of all should be avenue. proceeds enriched the l. b. s. treasury con- selection from "l'ericles' funeral oration," had sadine in supporting the affirmative heid that since only capital invested for revenue should be taxed, church property, educational, art and other institutions for the benefit of all should be exempt. Moreover it is unwise to discourage moral and educational growth. The negative was maintained by Messrs. A. W. Broad, B. A., and R. J. McLaughlin, who argued that those who profit by any institution should bear the expense, and justice to all demanded that no classes should be made exceptions of. They held that the question should be discussed from an equitable rather than a moral stand point. The chairman referred the decision to the andience, who gave verdict in favor of the negative......The next meeting will be held on Thursday evening, the 5th prox., when the following program will be offered: Readings by Messrs. T. B. Dess and A. S. Skinner; debate upon the resolution "That justice to our citizens demands the exclusion of Chinese from the Dominion." Affirmative, Messrs. Broad, Leary and Stewart, Negative, Messrs. Dunn, Hall and Campbell.
