Those Queer Quebec Laws. ast week's issue of THE Post was printed a burngraph taken from the daily papers regardprest at Montreal, on a capies, of Mr. K. McTavish, boot and shoe inerchapt of Lindsay It was felt in Lindsay that the detention of Mr. McTavish was due to hasty and ill-advised action, or to a want of knowledge of the true state of affairs by Montreal men. Developments have shown that this impression was correct. Some months ago Mr. McTavish bought the bankrupt stock of A. H. McIville at a rate of 66 cents on the dollar. The stock list prepared after Mr. McIville had assigned footed up to about $11,000. Mr. McTavish gaven payment of cash and notes to the assigned, Ganlt Bros. of Montreal through their agent, Mr. Pickento the amount of $7,000. The stock was removed to the store adjoining the palace shoe house, Mr. McTavish's phec. of business, and there placed on sale. Finding that his venture was not likely to prove a successful speculation Mr. McTavish went to Montreal to arrange matters, having some days before sold the balance of the stock remaining unsold to Mr. G. Weese for $2,000. A telegram from Montreal was answered by a Lindsay party, and misconstruing the purport of that message, Mr. McTavish was held by his Montreal creditors, On Wednesday of last week Mr. John Mosweyn, Mr. McTavish was haven by the Mr. McTavish's lay yer, went to Montreal accompanied by Mrs. McTavish's Mr. McMarshy Mr. M state of affairs by Montreal men. Developments by his Montreal creditors. On Wednesday of last week Mr. John Mosweyn. Mr. McTavish's lawyer, went to Montreal accompanied by Mrs. McTavish's lawyer, went to Montreal accompanied by Mrs. Mortin, sister of Mr. McTavish. Mr. G. Weese, Mr. H. Norman, the latter manager for limitations of the Storman of Lindsay, wont to Montreal and gave evidence before the constitution of the storman's evidence showed very fully that Mr. Norman's evidence showed very fully that Mr. McTavish had been astray in the amount paid for the stock, and in fact the value of the stock had been greatly over-rated. Legal points as to the validity of the sale made by Mr. McTavish to Mr. Weese, and of the payment of the claim held by Mrs. Martin for $2.000 were argued by Mr. McTavish is still held as Montreal ... With regard to the case it is well to remember that the laws of the province of Cuebec dealing with commercial matters differ on many points from those of Ostario. The admission by Mr. McTavish that he intended to return to Lindsay from Mostreal was sufficient to allow of a capias being taken out for his arrest could not have been made. We express the hope that matters will be speedily settled and that Mr. McTavish will be able to resume business at once.

For the Base Ball Club. On Friday evening March 27th, a grand concert will be given in the opera house. In the success of this concert the members of the local base-ball club are directly interested, as the proceeds are to go to the funds of the club. An excellent program has been arranged and will be carried out as proposed. Among the attractions will be club swinging by Mr. J. McNaughfon of Peterboro; gless by the sextette club; cornet solos and duetts, and banjo and guitar solos. Mr. D. Haggart of Peterboro, a clever and versatile reader, will give his able assistance. In our notice of the late Sheriff Kempt last week we omitted to state that he was appointed official assignee upon the retirement of the Hos. S. C. Wood from that position to enter the local government. Mr. Kempt filled the office until the change was made in the law by the present lominion government. We should also have stated that Mr. Kempt shortly after removal from Newcantle to Lindsey was requested by a laws number of influential residents of Durham county to become their cannidate for parliamentary honors, but he declined, although they been successful. The decessed sheriff was very fond of his brother's children (he had none in his own family) and particularly of the fine little boy whose death was received the previous week. —A party of one hundred smart, well-trained, intelligent beys of ages varying from ten to sixteen years is expected to leave England during the month of March, under the auspices of Dr. Rernardo, for farm and other employment in this province. Those desirous of engaging any of these are requested to make application to Mr. Edward Duff, superintendent of Dr. Barnardo's home, Peterboro, Ont.

—"You'll see," said the lawyer, as he stopped the reporter on William st., "you'll see that we'll have a fine spring. An experience of over 187 years confirms the saying that if the winter holds fine up to the 17th March the spring will be a fine one." "That's your experience, is it?" asked the scribe. "Not exactly, but I've heard my mother uniaw make the statement, and—well, I wouldn't like to appear to doubt her word."

-With an eye to the infirmitles of mankind and particularly to the matter of coughs and colds, Mr. S. Perrin is now pushing the sale of his famous preparation, "Perrin's Pine Tar Cordial." Large orders are coming in from retail dealers for this excellent remedy. -Last Thursday afternoon Rev. S. WestonJones met with a painful accident. While driving near the old Midland station his horse shied at some telegraph poles and bolted. After a short run the cutter was overturned and Mr.
Jones was dragged a few yards. His right arm was badly injured at the elbow and it is feared it may be broken. It was very much swollen and was very painful, but is now improving....
His early recovery is anxiously hoped for by his many friends.

-Traffic on the Weilington-st. bridge will be interrupted for the next two or three weeks owing to some repairs which it has been found necessary to make. Two carloads of pine timber have arrived from Milibrook and seven men, under the superintendence of Mr. Alex. Ross, are making rapid progress with the work. One bent has been placed to support the bridge, while a new pier is being constructed to replace the middle one which has become rotten. Part of the bridge will be replanked, and when all is completed will make it almost as good as new.

-Some time ago Mr. Geerge A. Cox purchased the Rogers flour and saw mill property and the dam and water privileges, all in Ashburnham, adjoining Peterbero. It is understood that a deal has been made between Mr. Cox and Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, representing the Dickson estate, by which Mr. Cox gets in exchange for the mills and water privileges the "Oriental house' block in Peterboro. Should this be a fact then Mr. Hazlitt, or the Dr. kson estate, will control the whole of the valuable water power developed by the Oronabee river within the town up to that at Hilliard's mills.

The band deserve this recognition of their services and the carnival should have a liberal support on this ground. -We notice from recent division court decisions throughout the province in subscription book cases that subscribers to part and entire subscription books who refuse to pay in full are having rather a hard time of it. It appears that when the publishers fill their part of a contract by manufacturing the book so ordered the law compels the subscriber to fill his part and me matter what verbal arrangement is made between the agent and subscriber if it conflicts with the conditions of publication the conflicts so signed in every case has been held to be valid.

The store is neat and attractive and Melville is an attentive and obliging sale-sman. The stock of gent's furnishings is large and of the newest. -The eclipse of the sun on Monday was a success—undoubtedly a success—as an eclipse, that is, a partial eclipse. Perhaps the fact would be better chronicled as either a partially successful or a successfully partial one. Anyway therejwas no postponement on account of the weather. The sky was filled with clouds and the air with snow, so that hundreds who kept track of the moon's movements across the face of the sun did so under difficulties. This is the only eclipse observable since 1869 in Camada. Not more than one-third of the sun's face was covered by the moon, the diminution of light being hardly perceptible.

Post and the offer of a prize for the first cor-interest we subjoin the statement: The number of pupils on the register of the Lindmay high school for the present year is 115, which is probably about the same as that of last year at the same period, the total number on the roll for 1884 being 136. This shows a considerable failing off from what it was a few years ago, but it is not owing, as many suppose, to a falling off in the attendance of outsiders. The following figures show i be total number on the roll from town and cannity since 1886:

-Rev. Mr. Cooper of Cambray conducted services in St. Paul's church last Sunday.

-Rev. D. McTavish of St. Andrew's church sisting in evangelistic services in the Presh terian church at that place During part of this week Rev. Mr. McTavish is assisting in with St. Paul's church, Peterbero.

—The missionary services in connection with the Methodist church will be held on Sunday, 22nd inst. Rev. Jas. Young of Cobourg will preach the usual sermons on the above date. It is not expected that there will be the customary week night service of this character as well. The plan of having the missionary services on Sunday wholly has been adopted in many localities and is found to work very well.

Tuesday being St. Patrick's day mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church at 10 a.m., Rev. Father Laurent. V. G., officiating. A large congregation was present. Before mass Father Laurent spoke briefly but eloquently on the life and labors of Ireland's apostle and patron saint... In the evening at seven o'clock a large congregation assembled to hear the lecture amounced to be given by Rev. Father Gavan of St. Mary's church, Toronto, in aid of the funds of the confraternity of St. Vincent de Paul. Father Gavan is a gifted and eloquent speaker, and for an hour and a half spoke on a subject dear to every Irishman's heart—Ireland and St. Patrick. He described in succession the mission of St. Patrick to Ireland, the universal adoption of the goupel at his hands by the inhabitants, and the glorious results that followed culminating in Ireland earning the proud appellation of "Island of Saints" and "Cradle of the arts and sciences."

- Mr. Jas. G. Edwards has presented to the Bobcaygen curling club a handsome silver cup which will be competed for annually by the rinks of that club... Mr. M. Boyd has presented the same club with a valuable silver medal for competition amongst club members... The Bebcaygeon club will presently acquire wealth and are already becoming famous.

-On Wednesday night the Bertram cup was played for at points. The ice, while in excellent shape for the regular game was difficult to make point shots on. The rule of luck held good, several of the best players making small scores and others not as skilful doing much better. Six of the players made scores that tied... Mr. W. Mulennan, who has won the cup for two years in succession, was unable to play.

Mr. W. Mulennan, who has won the cup for two years in succession, was unable to play. Had he made the highest score this time the cup would have become his property.

One of the most enjoyable games of the season to Lindsay men was the match at Bobcaygeon with the club of that village. Two rinks drove to Bobcaygeon where they were most hospitably entertained, being dined, wined and bedded at the expense of the village club. We take from the Independendent the following sotes of the match: The game on No. I rink was what is called a "punching out" game, comparing in a manner to the game known as "skittles" in chess—sweeping the board by taking the men—or "roughins" in whist. Still the game was well played. On No. 2 rink the game was a more scientific one, end after end being contested with all the skill and judgment that could be brought to bear. This rink was watched with the deepest interest, frequently breaking interthe warmest esthusiasm. On the conclusion of the game, Mr. Boyd, president of the club, called the street of the club, called the despess interest, frequently breaking into the warmest enthusiasm. On the conclusion of the game, Mr. Boyd, president of the club, call-ed for three cheers for Lindsay, which were given with a vim, accompanied by the waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies. Lindsay re-spended heartly, and the teams then adjourned to the Ferest house, where the visitors were suitably entertained. The following are the rinks and the score:—
