An Engagement Daily Expected. The Midland Boys on the War-Path

The Capture of Dumontin Montana. Preparations for the Trial of Riel

Gen Middleton is marching rapidly after Big Bear and his band, and hopes to hem them in and surround them. His engage ment is likely to have taken place already, ment is likely to have taken place already, and reports are hourly expected....On our seventh page will be found reports of Gen. Strange's encounter with Big Bear's band, and the capture and subsequent release of Gabriel Dumont in Montana.... Preparations for Riel's trial at Regina are in progress. Messrs. Christopher Robinson and B. B. Osler of Toronto have been retained by the Dominion government for the prosecution of Riet.

concerning the operations against Big Bear at Fort Pitt is momentarily expected.
General Middleton may have to pursue Big Bear, as he threatened to go south to the Canadian Pacific railway among the Plain Crees and Blackfeet.

BATTLEFORD, June 3.—Before leaving here General Middleton announced his intention to make short work of Big Bear, and told Col. Otter that he hoped to be back in about three days at most, when his share of the business would be over. Big Bear's force is variously estimated at from five to seven hundred, but with twelve hundred men at his disposal and pleuty of smmunition it is felt certain that General
Middleton will chase the Indians out of ammunition it is felt certain that General Middleton will chase the Indians out of their coverts in a few hours. At any rate it is evident the general does not propose to pursue the waiting tactics he followed at Batoche, but to rush in and settle the matter off-hand.

Reports of trouble with the Indians at Edmonton reach here, but they command very little attention. However, a regiment will be sent there after Big Bear is disposed of to show the Indians that the government is in earnest.

The "Bloods" on the Warpath. LETEBRIDGE, N.W.T., June 1.-A report was received last night of a skirmish between some of Strwart's rangers and the Indians, supposed to be Bloods, twenty-six miles west of Medicine Hat. Part of C division mousted police, under Major Catton, accompanied by Surgeon Kennedy and also Captain Campbell of the rangers, left this morning for the scene of the reported trouble. They will make fifty miles to-day and probably meet Stewart's rangers. The combined force under Superint tendent Cotton will then follow the Indians if practicable and besides patrol the country between here and Medicine Hat. Cotton will not have a hostile encounter with the Bloods if it can be avoided, but will endeavor to induce them to return to their reserve.

A Scare at Medicine Bat. MEDICINE HAT. June 3.-There was a scare here to-day. A scout was fired upon on the plains the night before last, at a point sixteen miles from here. The Indiane are blamed for it.

Riefs Trial. Offawa, June 3.- The statement that Riel will be tried this month is inaccurate. It will take considerable time to collect evidence and prepare the indictment. Entra Supplies for the Voluntee CLARK'S CROSSING, N.W.T., June 2.— One thousand and one boxes of volunteer comforts for the Grenadiers as well as the Midland volunteers' comforts have arrived en route from the east. The Grenadiers will have three boxes spiece. The Mid-land Companies here are just crossing the river ready to march to Battleford on the arrival of the transport under Colonel Descon.

The Midland Boys.

There are six companies of the Midland bettalion, under Col. Williams, now with Gen. Middleton, viz. : The 15th, Belleville, Gen. Middleton, viz.: The 15th, Belleville, Capt. Lazier; the 45th, Bowmanville, Lindsay and Cartwright, under Major Bughes; both the above companies were at Batoche. The 40th, Campbellford, Capt. Bonnyeastle; the 46th, Lifford and Millbrook, Capt. Winslow; the 47th, Frontenae, Capt. Hunter. These six companies number over 250 strong. The remaining two companies, the 40th, Haetings, Major Herrison, and the 57th, Peterbore, Capt. Walsh, under Col. Dencon, should reach Buttleford ty-day.

An Incident at Entoche.
[W. Hughes in Toronto World.]
In the last house we found the body of a nice little girl, about fourteen years old. She had been killed by a shell, and was dressed for burial. So I lifted the peor little thing into the coffin and covered it up and put it away to one side to keep it from being knocked around. As I was doing so Col. Williams rushed over to me, shouting, "Here is one! Here is one! Give me your rifle!" Mine was leaning against the wall where I put it before lifting the little girl. So he grabbed it up and aimed at a half-breed's head. The breed was aiming at our fellows about fifty yards off, but my rifle was eighted for 400, so the colonel missed him. The rifle was again loaded up and the sights let down. The breed rolled down the bank. The ball struck him under the left arm and passed clean through him, coming out under the right arm. I got his gun and powder horn. We are not allowed to keep the guns, but I have the powder horn all covered with his blood. Col. Williams then left me in charge of a small party in one of the houses, and I at once began loop-holing it on the sides facing the river and the rebels. But the breeds did not stand any longer. They ran in all directions. However, we went to work at once, and by dark had the place strongly fortified; but no attack was expected, as the victory was so complete that it will be a miracle if the bereeds ever attempt to rebel again. nice little girl, about fourteen years old.

On their arrival at Edmonton the 92nd, through their colonel, Osborne Smith, offered to go out at once and attack Big Bear and rescue the thirty prisoners in his hands. The 65th likewise were prompt in demand to be permitted to assist, but the general declined. His conduct is severely commented on and the opinion is openly expressed that as a commander he is not a success.

The correspondent of the Montreal Gazettein describing the last days at Batoche and the charge says:—The rebels seeing that they were hedged in opened negotiations through one of their prisoners, and offered to surrender. Their fire, however, was kept up, and the infantry, consisting of the Midland Battalion and the 10th Grenadiers, extended out in in the usual form of attack on the centre. The prisoner Grenadiers, extended out in in the usual form of attack on the centre. The prisoner whom Riel had sent out to the general told him the position of the rebel force. The two companies of the Midland, who were in the field, saw an opportunity to crawl up to the front, along the river bank, on the left. The rebels, in their pits, on seeing our men so far up on their left flank, hastly started to retire. The Grenadiers rose, and, with a cheer, commenced a

It is now conceeded beyond peradventure that the Midland led the attack at Batoche, and during the fight eminently distinguished themselves. Would it not be well to show our appreciation, in a way perhaps most acceptable to them, too, on their arrival home, declare a civic holiday, give a public reception and present the battalion with a standard on which might be "Batoche," "Death or victory," render imperiabable the words spoken by Gen. Middleton in his admiration of their conduct on that occasion.—I am, yours truly, OBITUARY.—This community is having very frequent warnings of late, showing the uncertainty of life. Last week we had no less than three funerals. The last was that of Mrs. Neil Glichrist. The deceased had been in ill health for some years past. About a year and a half ago she along with her husband moved to the State of Kansas, thinking that a change of climate might effect a cure. For some time after arriving it was hoped she would recover, but the disease was so deeply rooted that nature could not throw it off, and gradually she grew werse until Tuesday, May 28th, when she succumbed. Mr. Glichrist had the body conveyed here for burial. It arrived on the Friday evening train and was met at the station by a large number of friends. The corpse was taken to Mr. Norman McLeod's, Mariposa, father of the deceased, where it remained till the following day, from where the funeral took place. A very large concourse of relations and friends attended. Mr. Glichrist's lot has been a very and one, having lest their children, the last about three years ago. He has the sympathy of his many friends in this community.

The progress in cattle raising and feeding in Mariposa, Eldon and Ops in the past few years is very marked, and the farmers deserve much credit for their enterprise. Presbyterian Services.—The Rev. Mr. Patterson, Presbyterian minister of Cambray and Oakwood stations, delivered an eloquent discourse here on Sunday on "The New Birth," in the town hall, to a large and attentive audience. In the evening of the same day he filled the pulpit of the Methodist church on account of Mr. Carpenter's bodily weakness. Mr. Patterson is very popular here. We believe he has the prayers and good-wishes of the people of this place.

A BAD ROAD. —A couple of weeks ago
I noticed in your valuable columns a comment on the unsafe and neglected state of the Victoria road from here northwards.
Since then business has caused me to pass over that portion of the so-called road referred to. Some portions of it are not so very bad, but thanks to nature and not to viaduct or aqua-duct constructors. Many pieces of the original and of the patched corduroy make a person look to see if the pieces of the original and of the patched corduroy make a person look to see if the wheels of his rig have not become, well, say, eight cornered, and that he is being bobbed or gigged to infinity. Truly for a country road things are peasing strangs. The panorama seems to be a sheet filled with all manner of four footed beasts.

AN OUTOGENARIANS'S ZEAL.—Not many who border on 30 years of age would be able to equal the feat performed by Mr. Angus McCaekill, of this place, who in order to be at his post as representative elder at the Presbytery meeting on Tuesday, on Monday walked all the way from his home near Glenarm to Sonya, a distance of some 23 miles. The old gentleman is to be congratulated both for his hale, hearty old age and his real. Few young men would be ready to follow his example.

memory will long be charished. For those who are afflicted and in sorrow there is deep and general sympathy..... The funeral Tuesday afternoon was very largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. D. McTavish of Lindsay. The contege proceeded to the Scotch cemetary in Brock, where the interment took place.

Cockburn, seconded by Mr. Rennie, and passed:—"That the presbytery record their gratitude to God for the rapid spread of temperance and prohibition sentiments throughout Canada during the past year, especially as seen in the ing the past 7ear, especially as seen in the unparalleled success of the Canada temperance act of 1878 at the polls. That we express our surprise and indignation at the recent unwarrantable action of the senate of Canada in passing amendments destructive of the act, in total disregard of strongly expressed public opinion embodied in numerous petitions and in overwhelming majorities at the polls; and in so much as the said act was ratified by the senate and accepted by the friends of temperance in good faith, we declare these radical changes a stultification of their former action and a flagrant breach of faith with the temperance people of the Dominion, and specially those municipalities where the act has been adopted and has or is yet to come into operation. The presbytery would therefore call upon the honorable the house of commons-the real rep tatives of the people-not to assent to these amendments, so reactionary in their character and so clearly at variance with the well-understood sentiments of the people of this Dominion, and to make no changes in the act except in the direction of greater stringency and as may assist in its more effective enforcement." After other routine business, the next regular meeting of presbytery was appointed, to be held at Woodville on the last Monday of August, at 11 a.m. In the evening the presbytery met with the congregation of Brock, when addresses were delivered by Mr. A.
