THE SCOTT ACT. THE ALE AND LIGHT WINE CLAUSE REJECTED.

By a Majority of Suly Right—A Close and senate enlarging the privileges of druggists to sell liquor in Scott act counties. These smendments were accepted by a large majority and things looked favorable for the main issue, that of the beer and light wine clauses, which was reached at 8.50. There was great cheering and applause when the speaker read the senate amendwhen the speaker read the senate amendment as follows: "The dealing in ales, por-ter, lager beer, cider and light wines con-taining not more 12 per cent. of alcohol shall be exempt from the operations of the Canada temperance act of 1878."

Mr. Jamieson got up and moved that the Mr. Jamieson got up and moved that the amendment be not agreed to for the following reasons: Because it is a viciation of the fundamental principle of the act, which where adopted, prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; because the act has already been adopted in good faith by the electors of 61 counties and cities of the Dominion, believing that under the everyges provisions of the property of the p under the express provisions of the law it would continue in force unimpaired for three years and would then only be repealed by the same authority which had adopted it, and the passing of the amendment rould be a breach of faith on the part of parliament with the electors of those counties and cities; and, further because the amendment is in direct opposition to the wishes of a large portion of the electors of the Dominion as manifested by the petitions presented to parliament.

Mr. Jamieson made a short speech supporting the above. He said if the senate porting the above. He said if the senate amendment were adopted he would move, if not to repeal the act, at least to change its preamble, for so amended it would no longer be an act to promote temperance.

After consultation with Dalton McCarthy and Hector Cameron, John Small (East Toronto) got up and moved the amendment to the senate desce so that it would ment to the senate clause so that it would read: "The dealing in ales, porter, lager beer, cider and light wines, containing not more than 12 per cent. of alcohol shall be exempt from the operations of the Canada temperance act of 1878 in counties or cities hereafter adopting the said act.

Mr. Colby did not believe in retroactive legislation and made a vigorous speech against such a course. He brought out a new suggestion, namely, that there be two Scott acts—a hard one as the law now is and a soft one, permitting beer and light wines, leaving it for the counties to say which one they want enforced. He would vote, however, under the circumstances. against Mr. Small's amendment.

Mr. Curran of Montreal said he was a conscientious temperance man and a mem-ber of temperance organizations, but as a Roman Catholic he could not accept the principle of prohibition. Archbishop Lynch had expounded the Catholic position, and therefore he would vote for Mr. Small's amendment.

Mr. Casey would not vote for Mr. Small's amendment, but he thought it was possible to introduce a hard and soft Scott act.

Mr. Girouard was in favor of a hard and soft Scott act and of the removal of all tax on beer and light wines.
At 11.30 the division bells rang and Mr. mall's amendment was lost on the follow-

THE MIDILAND BOYS.

Subjoined is the letter from Mr. John Lee, one of the Lindsay boys with the Midland battalion, to Mr. A. Campbell, merhant, of this town:

DEAR MR. CAMPBELL,-This being the first time wherein we have made a stay of any length it gives one a chance to catch one's breath after so much marching. stasmboating and excitement in general that we have went through since leaving the old town. The rain, for which this month is noted for in this part of the country, is now pattering down on the tent, and those who are not on duty employ the time by writing letters home and Systing Vets—Sir John Reconsiders Supports the Senate Amendment.

[Toronto World.]

Ottawa, June 18.—The fullest house for many days was gathered in the chamber to-day when the Scott act amendments came up. There were 174 memters present. Sir John A. Macdonald was in his place, looking well and followed the whole debate very closely. Mr. Blake was also in good shape, notwithstanding his long speech of the day previous. All the galleries were filled, the senators turning out in force-bate.

Eugene O'Keefe, Auguste Bolte and T.G. Blackstock, all of Toronto, seemed to be the head of the lobby in the liquor interest. The temperance party was led by Mr. Jamieson of North Lanark. He was dressed in Halifax tweed and wore a long red silky beard to his waist. Hector Cameron seemed to be the head of the opposition to the Scott act.

The main issue in the afternoon was the consideration of the amendments of the senate enlarging the privileges of druggists to sell liquor in Scott act counties. These sewing on buttons. Before reaching home to bring them here, consequently none are used. Bread is 25c. per loaf, 2-lb. loaves at proper place for the company's money is the government's road. I maintain that we have no right to connive at transactions like this, to approve and endorse them. We never contemplated such an act as this, that millions upon millions would be emitted, representing a nominal capital of $60,000,000 and an actual capital of $24,500,000, and then we should be called upon to lend about $24,900,000 and then be asked for $5,000,000 more and to impair our security and lower our rate of interest, in order that those gentlemen may run no risk at all, but insure to themselves large interest in the meanwhile and a magnificent enterprise subsequently. They say it will pay a dividend from the start. It is just about to start. Let them take their dividend out of the earnings, and use their money to complete the road which is to produce the earnings. Do not let them do like the men of old, put their money in a napkin and bury it in the ground; but let them put it where it will do the most good for the country, where it is destined to go, where it belongs. For what purpose was the stock issued—the stock of $60,000,000,000? To make dividends for the stock-holders. Was it not that the money might be got to build the road. PICNIC ON DOMINION DAY, — Coming vents cast their shadows, and this is undoubtedly true when speaking of our coming annual picnic on Dominion day in connection with the C. M. church here.

The preparations are extensive, and are being carried out to the letter. There has been enough of the "inevitable" subscribed by the ladies on the mission to satisfy the desires of at least two hundred visit-ors. There will be in attendance several of the ablest ministers of the Lindsay district, also our local speakers, who always deal with matters important to those re-siding on the mission. The musical part of the program is to be carried through by the Dalrymple choir. A RUNAWAY.-While Mr. John Irwine

They have won the love and respect of all and it is with sincere wishes for their future success and welfare in the various fields of labor to which they may be called that we bid them farewell. BASE BALL. - A short time ago our boys met together for the purpose of organizing a base ball club, and the meeting was to such good effect that we can boast of a club that, from all appearances, will try the metal of some of the clubs of long standing of the surrounding country. We understand that a match is arranged with the club from Rosedale to be played on the 30th, the grange picnic day. Any other local clubs wishing to have a friendly game at any time can address the secretary, J.C. Rogers, Cambray P. O., and our boys will no doubt be pleased to play them.

OAKWOOD.

. [Correspondence of The Post.] FAREWELL AND PRESENTATION.-Last Sunday Rev. Mr. Doxsee, senior Methodist Sunday Rev. Mr. Doxsee, senior Methodist minister and superintendent of the circuit, preached a farewell sermon from the text, "Finally, brethren, farewell." There was a very large attendance. The discourse was eloquent and impressive, and many were deeply affected. Mr. Doxsee's departure is much regretted. He is greatly esteemed and beloved by all who knew him or who met him. The people from Wesley appointment presented Mr. Doxsee with a highly complimentary address and a well-filled purse as a token of their regard. The address expressed regret at Mr. Doxsee's departure and satisfaction with his labors during the past three years. Mr. Doxsee goes to Welcome and the people there may expect a minister whom
