Reception to the Midlanders.

A meeting of the committee who have in charge the details of a reception to the returning volunteers was held at the council chamber on Wednesday evening of this week. After discussing matters it was decided that the reception among other features should have a grand banquet. It was decided to adjourn the meeting of the committee until Friday evening (tonight) at the town hall. The committee were instructed to add to their number, and to bring forward any suggestions relative to the affair that would likely tend to making it more successful. Full details will be given next week. Among other suggestions offered it was pointed out that the proper thing to do would be to bring to Lindsay the whole of the 45th battalion to participate in the reception. This suggestion was decided on and placed on the program. The committee will probably make arrangements to secure a steamer to carry, say from Causeara, the four Bowmanville and Cartwright companies to Lindsay and return. Mr. Rylie is at present building another of those rigs for Mr. E. Fee's livery. -It will be seen by advt, elsewhere that Mesers. Grant & Campbell, the well-known stock-breeders, have dissolved partnership. The herds have grown so large that separation became advisable. Each will continue stock-breeding with the usual enterprise and judgment.

- A platform, painted red, is to be built below the east ward thre bell as a preventative of false alarms. It will give the whole job a finished appearance. The new bell was hoisted into position this week and given the usual test. The bell has a strong, clear tone and will prove a valuable convenience to the ward.

-On Wednesday morning Jennie, the ten-year old daughter of Mr. Chas. Bartlett, was knocked down and run over on Kentst. by a butcher's cart. The child was badly cut about the face and her lower limbs bruised. The little sufferer was taken into a store close at hand and when sufficiently recovered from the shock taken home.

-One day last week Mr. A. Goheen witnessed a very novel sight. While tramping through the woods south of the town he came upon a large family of frogs, numbering three hundred and eight, and all within a space of about ten feet square. Mr. Goheen thinks that this is the largest number of that spaces seen since the largest number of that species seen since the time of St. Patrick.

Agang of men have been sent by Mr. Thos. Waiters to blast the outlet of Mud lake in the fownship of Carden. Owing to a number of large rocks which obstruct the passage the water is held back, thereby flooding a considerable quantity of land and causing the farmers a great deal of annoyance. The work will occupy about two months time and will afford employment to several men.

The Peterboro Daily Examiner says: "Last evening a large basement of Queenstown lime stone was drawn to the Little lake cemetery. It came from the firm of J. & R. Wolfenden, Whitby, and in a few days a beautiful Scotch grey granite monument from the same place will rest upon it, over the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd of Bobcaygeon. The basement measures five feet square and has a thickness of eighteen inches and weights three tons."

Incomparing the scores made by members of the Wimbledon team in their week's target practice at Ottawa prior to sailing for England the superiority in ahooting of the men of the toth batt, is easily seen. In this contest Private W. C. King made a score of 405 points, a score which was only beaten by Color-Sergt. Dalrymple of the Royal Scots. It is to be hoped that Private King will make as large a score on the other side of the herring poud and maintain the reputation which has been gained at Wimbledon by members of that battalion in previous years.
