We did not think though we had any capable of so presumptuous an act as to enter a neighbor's yard and walk off with a hive of bees. If we knew they were so badly off for a taste of sweets we might have left some taffy on a stick in the fence corners, the places where they generally frequent. ORILLIA.

THE SCOTT ACT AND THE TOWN FINANCES.—Anti-Scott act papers are industriously circulating a statement to the effect that the act has caused an increase in Orillia's taxation of twenty-five per cent. The statement is simply rubbish. The loss of revenue from licenses is a trific over one thousand dollars. thousand dollars a year. It is true the rate this year has been increased by an additional half cent on the dollar, and it is possible a few ill-informed people believe the Scott act to be responsible, while it is certain that a number who know better are dishonestly asserting that it is in the hope of making capital against the measure. The truth is the town finances have been behind hand for several years, and every fall it has been necessary to draw a loan from the bank to pay current expenses until taxes began to come in. It was hoped that the very material addition to the assessed value of the town this and last year would enable the council to keep the rate at two cents on the dollar, notwith standing the annual deficit and the loss of license revenue as well, but this hope has been disappointed, and rigid economy will be necessary to bring it back to the old figure next year. Brought back to that figure it certainly must be, either by one set of councillors or another, for twenty-five mills on the dollar is a rate the tax-payers will not submit to long without nomething in the shape of a small rebellion.- Packet.

One of them was called by the prosection to give evidence in his own behalf, but he refused to testify, on the ground the toy so doing he might convict himself. This was a stickler for the police magistrate, who when called upon to do in the township and became acquainted with, and was courted by the son of the defendant, by whom unfortunately she was seduced under a promise of marriage.

After she discovered her condition she met her seducer one evening on the road and asked him to marry her, which he refused to do, and some words passed between them. The son afterwards reported that during this conversation the girl made threats as follows: "I have a notion to burn your father's buildings down," and "I a threst his arcther's, Mr. Isaac Me- keep the peace. > AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE.-A somewhat extraordinary case was tried before the police magistrate on Tuesday morning. Wm. Thompson, hailing from Clinton county, N. Y.; Paul Clifton of Brighton, Ont.; Minnie Sweetman, aged 16; and Nellie Simpson, aged 20, were charged with vagrancy. From the evidence of one of the girls it appeared that the prisoners started on a trip together and located at Trenton, Brighton, Cobourg, and other places, carrying on a system of prostitution of rather a novel kind, the two men bossing the affair by blackmailing any unfortunate fellow that the woman caught in their ner. The gang formed themselves into a kind of gypsey encampment, and issued tickets for admission to their orgies. Chief Rankin of Cobourg got on to the racket and telegraphed to Chief Douglas, and the two officers made a raid on the camping party on Sunday, near Gage's creek, on the Cobourg road, and captured the four prisoners. The girl Sweetman gave a detailed account of their doinz. and after listening with astonishment at the discloaures made, the police magistrate sentenced the two male prisoners to six months in the central prison, and the two girls were sent to the Mercer reform-

ELOPEMENT SPOTLED.-An AN ment here was spoiled last week by the father driving a fast horse before a light carriage and taking the would-be bride home. The elopers, it seems, intended to go the Toronto fair and have the knot tied there, not wishing to trust to the slow process in Oshawa as such things were done more expeditiously in Toronto. SOUTH RIDING FALL SHOW .- The South Ontario fair, which took place on Monday and Tuesday ast, was far more successful than on former years and was not inferior to any county fair in the province. The exhibits were thoroughly illustrative of what this coun y can produce. There were 3,326 entries in all classes, being five hundred more than last year. The attendance was very large and the receipts exceeded those of any previous year. The exhibit of live stock was very fine, and pronounced by many as the best and largest display ever seen in South Ontario. Among the exhibitors of cattle were Jas. Dryden, M.P.P., J. Miller, R. J.
