-A few days ago a little girl named Hurtuboise, of Gatineau Point, near Ottawa, got a pin stuck in her throat. All efforts to relieve her failed, and in a short time she, to all appearances, died in great acony. The neighbors flocked to the afficted domicile, and the little one lay as still as in the sleep that knows no waking. After watching over the prostratabody for several hours signs of animating were visible, and it was at one ascertained that that she had been only in a comatons state. A physician was immediately summended and announced the tidings that the spark of life was not yet extinct. By careful treatment the little girl was gradually

He finds that while alcohol increases the production of heat, it really lowers the bedily temperature by virtue of exaggerated radiation. The caffeine in coffee, however, preserves the heat, and thus, if given in conjunction with alcohol, restrains the tendency of the latter to lower the temperature. The point in this apparently is to take whiskey in your coffee. The old lady who "takes whiskey in her tea" knew a thing or two.

—Mr. W. A. Leckie, the historian, has written a letter on the Irish question, in which he declares that any English etatesman who advocates handling over the property of the government in Irish to the Parnellites, is either a traitor or a fool. To set up an Irish parliament, he thinks, would be an act of fatuity and wickedness unparalleled even in Irish history. What Irish needs, he says, is the restoration of the liberty of the people to pursue their lawful business and fulfil their lawful contracts. Unless the law of the emoira be restored in Irish history. restored in Ireland, he asys, industrial ruin is inevitable, and will be folk wed by anarchy, which can only be quelled by the sword. Stuff and nonsense.

wishing to view the remains had the comin opened, when, to their horror, they discovered that a dreadful struggle must have taken place after burial. The shroud had been tern to shreds, the knees of the body were drawn up to the chin, one of the arms was twisted under the head, and the features bore evidence of dreadful torture, unmistakable proofs that life was not extinct when interment occurred.

Gallagher were en route to Aurora, Ill., on a visit to the former's brother. While crossing from Windsor to Detroit Dunseath complained of feeling sick, and going to the side of the boat leaned over the railing and vomited into the water. His companions stood near by waiting until he should feel able to go ashore. The boat started on the return trip while Dunseath was still leaning over the rails. Carson and Gallagher both say they saw Dunseath keel over the rail and drop head first in the water. An alarm was instantly given, but nothing was seen of the drowning man. It is thought he struck his head on a cake of ice, was stunned and sank to the a cake of ice, was stunned and sank to the bottom. The river was dragged on Satur-day in hopes of recovering the body.

-A London special to a New York paper says: - The situation in Ireland to-day is critical and the advocates of a policy of werdict of the house of commons on the question of home rule, and believes there would be an immense majority in favor of maintaining the integrity of the empire.

—Georga McCabe, a former resident near London. Ont., who was reported to have died in Dakota a few days ago, after having confessed the murder of four wives and attempted to murder a fith turned up in Chicago the other day and denied the whole story.

—It is stated that the losses of cattlement through the cold snap in Texas will mount up into the millions. The water pools on the ranges are frozen solid and the grass is buried in snow, and the cattle capable of comprehending the wants of the purpose of the party are wholly uncommitted to Mr. Gladstone and are free to support the best measure for Ireland that may be precaised. The nationalist members have resolved on making a field day in parliament on the starvation question on the first opportunity that can be found. A debate on the misserable condition of the Irish law administration can deally be got up on the Achille episode and the grass is buried in snow, and the cattle capable of comprehending the wants of the purpose.

The Irish Times (loyalist) offers a new solution to the Irish question in Saturday's issue. It says the outcome of the present situation will be that the lord-lieutenancy will be entirely done away with and the function of thet office will become part of the duties of the president of the present government. This latter officer will be assisted by the chief sacretam for Irish affairs. Immediate excelution of Irish affairs. Immediate excelution of Irish affairs. Immediate excelution duties will be performed by an officer stationed at Dublin. The advocates of this aghene find reason for believing it peacible in the fact that the officers of both parties have already abandoned the idea of creating an —In chapel at Dublin on Sunday, Arch-bishop Walsh denounced the English press for slandering the Irish people in accusing them of being addicted to crime. He ap-pealed to the hierarchy to condamy such slanders. Diphtheria is prevailing in some sections of Searbore township, near Teronto.

Trica Whittington, 12 years of age, a daughter of the late James Whittington, and an eight year old daughter of Mr. Andrew Gilchrist, have both died from this disease lately. The recent cold spell and blizzard in the western states is reported to have been the most fatal to human life ever known. Dozsas of people have been found frozen to death in Colorado and Nebraska, while Kansas reports a total of twenty-eight deaths. Many people have also been found frozen to death in Virginia and South Carolins.

ginia and South Carolins. -The recent rise in the price of phosphate, both on the American an European markets, has created unusual activity in the phosphate limits on the Lievre and Blanche rivers, near Ottawa. America capitalists are flocking into Canada to secure an interest in this growing indus-try, and it is expected that this year will witness a larger output than any year in the history of phosphate mining. Mr. W. H. Fuller has just returned from New York, where he was successful in organizing a strong company, which will work extensive limits in the Wakefield and Lievre districts. During the past few weeks a large number of new mines have been developed, and in nearly every case phosphate has been discovered in paying quantities. -Mr. Frank Lundy, foreman in Case & Co.'s pail and tub manufacturing establishment, Newmarket, while reaching under the saw Friday morning, was caught by the mandral and his head was completely severed from his body. —On Monday, Peter McPhee was committed by Mayor Booth of Orillia for trial for forging the name of Mr. A. D. McPhee to the note for $44 which was purchased by Mr. A. D. Kean. His father, Mr. Archibald McPhee, had already been committed on the same charge, but the impression that Peter is the guilty one prevails.—

-Thomas Pell and his wife Martha Ann, —Thomas Pell and his wife Martha Ann, an aged couple, have been committed for trial on the double charge of arson and perjury at Believille. In November their house was destroyed by fire, and the contents, insured for $1,000, were alleged to have been burnt. Since then the police succeeded in finding most of the furniture, and at the preliminary trial a pretty little adopted daughter of the prisoner's gave damaging evidence against them.

Social.—The ladies' std society held a ten cent social at the residence of Mrs. Day on New Year's eve. There was an unusually large turnout. The enterprise, considering it was the first accomplished by the society, was very successful. The by the society, was very successful. The society was only inaugurated a few months soo. They intend helding one every month. If they all foot up as nice a sum as this one the finances of the church will soon be brought up to par.

MUD LAKE. FIRE.—Last Wednesday night at twelve o'clock Mr. Peter McNabb's house caught fire on the roof from the assistance of a neighbor, Mr. Gilbert Orser and a friend stopping at Mr. McNabb's, he would have been left houseless. As it was there was a large hele burned in the roof. The pump was froze fast and no water could be got and they had to smother, the fire with quilts. Whilst working at the fire Mr. McN. burned the flesh to the bone out of the heart of his hand. His foot slipped and to save himself he caught the burning roof.

NARROW ESCAPE. - New Year's eve ten of our young folks here crossed the lake in the dark, going over to Dairymple to a social. It was very dark and they got along all right till within two rods of the other shore, when they crossed an open crack in the ice onto a small piece of ice surrounded by an open crack the shape of a v. It went down on one side like a hangman's trap and dumped the horses and sleigh, young and dumped the horses and sleigh, young folks and all into the lake. Fortunately the water was only four feet deep, or some of them never would have been seen again. As it was one of the girls was in twice to her chin, another to her arms, and three her chin, another to her arms, and three more clung to the sleigh and got their akirts well wet. The boys surely know the lake better than to drive over the place on suspicious ice. Keep your wits better
