TARIFF CHANGES IN THE STATES.

Mr. Morrison of Illinois is to the fore again with a tariff bill making some changes of importance to Canadian interests. It is proposed to put lumber, minerals, salt, coal, extract of bark, and a number of articles of minor consequence on the free list. Reductions are proposed on sugars, cottons, iron, steel and iron rails, and crockery. It is expected the cutting down will diminish the revenue by about twenty millions. This is not much of a reduction in gross revenue; but the changes are in the right direction. The prospects of the passage of the bill are much brighter than a year or two ago, though a very powerful protectionist lobby will be organized against it. If iron ore could go free into the States the mines in the neighborhood at Kinmount would in all probability soon be developed.

HORTH VICTORIA

In nominating Mr. John A. Barron to to oppose Mr. Hector Cameron for the commons, the reform convention of North Victoria have made an excellent and judicious selection, and have recognized long and active services cheerfully given on all occasions. Mr. Barron is person- thoroughly indentified with the riding, is ally popular, and is well-known throughout the riding, in which he was for several years a resident, and partly in consequence of that residence and its personal the waters' lists. With the carried work, North Vistoria will be company funds as any per cent. Lours H. H. S. T. W. H. S. T. friendships and relations, he has always taken an active interest in its material pro-

AN EMPIRE SQUANDERED.

slection from Mr. Charlton's speech at Milton. Reading from a recent parliamentary return, Mr. Chariton showed how the grand resources of our Northwest empire have been squandered in rewarding Sir John Macdonald's parliamentary supporters and their friends. From timber limits, mining privileges and similar sources the Ontario government derive a large and steady revenue; the privileges are sold by public auction or other public competition to the highest responsible bidder, at a time and place well advertised. The Dominion government for a song has given away to followers and favorites millions that ought to have been going steadily into the public treasury. Had the timber resources of the Northwest been judiciously and properly handled from the first there would have no deficit of five millions now staring the of the Hon. Eward Blake was an finance minister in the face; and there would have been a source of revenue for west and Pacific railway burthens. But which was warmly received. the Ottawa government have willed other-with a couple of friends. There seems to he some doubt as to whether there was a fair "divide" or not; but the main question for the electors is why should Mr. Cameron have been enriched by special favors at the public expense. The townships of North Victoria would not vote Mr. Cameron a bonus of $100,000 or $200,-000; then why should he get a big haul from the North-west public domain? The thing is all wrong; and if the conservative electors are truly independent and patriotic they will condemn the policy, the transactions and the men.

Not much has been done in the local house during the past week. Mr. Mc-Intyre has moved for returns showing the sost of maintaining government house in Toronto, with the view of advocating its abolition as unnecessary. Further reference will be made to this question next week. The estimates for the current year have been brought down. They amount to $2,962,514. The public accounts have

The Globe of Wednesday says: "The reformers of North Victoria have acted wisely in being early in the field, and still more wisely in selecting such a candidate as Mr. John A. Barron. Mr. Barron is most popular with the people, is an able speaker, an indefatigable worker, and is thoroughly conversant with the questions of the day. It now remains for the liberals to see that no means are spared to get the names of all qualified liberals on the voters' lists. With a few months of earnest work. North Victoria will be re-

This duty the country may well ask each other Mr. Barron of Lindsay had consented to "whither are we drifting?" "Are these and many other things right?" "Are they had been seled to be present to-day, as worthy of our approval?" "Shall we give these men a renewal of our confidence?" Which are to be first considered: the interests of the country and our interests as taxpayers heavily burthened, or the interests of grasping and self-seeking politicians like those recorded in this long list?

The record will have special local interest for the electors of North Victoria in that Mr. Hector Cameron figures in it with a couple of friends. There seems to congratulated Mr. Barron and assured him of the loyal and hearty support of the convention and liberal party, after which the nomination was on motion of Mr. Gould.

MR. BARRON'S ADDRE Mr. BARRON was then called mon to diress the convention, and on taking the platform was received with enthusiastic cheers. After congratulating the ass lage on the number present and the enthusissen shown Mr. Barron said: Let me thank you from the bottom of my heart for the high honor you have conferred upon me this day. While this honor was unsought I cannot say it was wholly unexpected, for. at the polls. Ambition is a dangerous possess that discretion now, which makes my ambition a safe quality for our party in this riding, and that in accepting your nomination to-day my ambition does not so far overvault itself as to bring hereafter a single regret in the heart of any one single man of our party. I thank you again, and when I say I accept the nomination you you know—you that know me best—that I mean "fight." While your nomination of me is dattering to me I recognize in it your recognition of the young liberals of this province rather than of any personal ability, and if from a combination of circumstances you believe me your strongest man, to the result of an accident is due my nomination and not to any advantage in which I alone have credit. You have a right to expect that I may something on political questions. I say unhesitatingly I am opposed to the franchise act, not alone because it will cost the country at the outset $500,000, but because a uniform franchise ever the entire Dominion is not calculated to carry out in its entirety the grand underlying principle of government, "Representation by population." The words "one uniform franchise" are cuphonious and pleasant to the ear, but they will be found to produce an incongruous system of franchise, because the material interests of man in Canada are as great in difference as in colour white is from black. Is British Columbis, where the population is small, a qualification may exist, which is wholly accent in the more populous

And now, as most of you have far to go and it is getting late, I shall bid you all farewell for the present. My Scotch friends in the audience will let me use the words of their national poetwords used lately by Mr. Chamberlain in his great Glasgow spech—and urge their conservance by our entire party from now forward, and if observed the promise they contain will be gloriously fulfilled at the proper time:
