The vagaries of the weather are sufficiently pronounced to merit an item. Thawing temperature and rain on Monday merning to a blustering blizzard on Monday merning to a blustering blizzard on Monday might, with fine, clear, bracing winter weather on Wednesday give the changes on the meteorological gamut.

-Mr. John Everson takes the cake in wood-drawing. He has been filling a contract for Mr. W. Graham of Ops, and has made two trips a day of eight miles each way, or 32 miles in all, with 11 cords of wood each trip. Fetch on the man who can do better. Mr. Everson's team is a 3-year old colt and mate.

-Belleville has sustained severe losses and hardships from the mid-winter floods, caused by the ice damming the river. Last Saturday Port Hope had a flood on a small scale from a similar cause. The water between Peter-st. and the visduet was several feet deep and a number of houses had to be vacated.

—The Mail says that there is at present in circulation a number of counterfeit two dollar Deminion bills. The note conterfeited is the "C" series of the Dufferin issue, dated Toronto, June 1st, 1878. All are signed "J. Nash," the "a" being bietted in the counterfeit. This is the only series of Canadian notes, except the old Dominion of Canadian notes, very few of which are in circulation, that are counterfeited.

—Referring to the pork trade at Peterboro the Review comments as follows regarding the Peterboro branch of Mr. George Matthews' business: "Mr. Matthews has not only used all the local supply of dressed hops available, but has been compelled to import. His representatives have been purchasing at Essex Centre, Chatham, Bridgetown, Belle River and other western points, and up to date he has brought in about twe thousand hops. Mr. Matthews says it is probable that his operations during the succeeding years will be on a much larger scale than during the past."

—Rev. J. Tovell at the Methodist church, Peterboro, preached on Sunday night a sermon—a whole sermon—on the iniquity of keeping the shops open and clerks at work until a very late hour on Saturday nights. This, Mr. Tovell points out—and he peints out truly, too—is the fault of the purchaser, who should buy at a reasonable hour if not the day previous. Possibly, Rev. Mr. Tovell, who draws his salary on bloc, knows nothing of the technicalities about getting paid on Saturday night and doing your marketing after supper. It is after all as much the fault of the paymasters as of the purchasers.

—Inquisitive people often get into trouble. Three curiers were taking a view of things in the rink. "Look at the style the doctor is putting on with hisnew lock," said one. "Ill bet Fve a key that will open it?" says a second; and a third, with the remark that his key would open it, inserted a key in the lock. The key went past the turning point but refused to open the lock, and could not be got out. Tableaux and regretful language and job for locksmith.

all. Mr. P. Messes then sang a French song which apart from its navelty was well rendered and was received with much applause. It was undoubtedly the wish of the audience that Mr. Masson should sing again at some future meeting. The debate, "Resolved that more general information may be derived from reading than from trave," was then proceeded with, Mesera. Chisholm and Considine speaking on the affirmative and negative sides respectively. The subject was fully treated by both gentlemen, and their various views were well expressed. Several of the members then gave their opinions on the matter, after which the chairman very shy summed up the arguments and gave his decision in favor of the affirmative. Rev. Father Sweeny, who had acted as critic, also reviewed in a general way the various points, and congratulated the association on the progress it was making. A hearty vote of thanks was then tendered the chairman for his conduct of the debate, after which the meeting adjourned.
