Lindsay, March 24, 1885.—86,

Son, go work to-day in my vinepard." By REV. J. CALVERT.

Go into the vineyard and labor, Why stand yo hear idle all day? Go put in the spade and the ploughshare-Year go without further delay.

Gainto the vineyard and scatter The seed in the Master's own was: The earth is prepared to receive it. (to nowlin the dawn of the day. 6 into the vineyard and guard it,

For many would fain take away The fruit of thine own right hand planting, (to carefully watch it to-day. Go into the vineyard and gather.

With tenderest'nurture and care, The fruit that is fit for the garner, But burn up the "chaff and the tare."

Go into the vineyard at dawning, When night-clouds are passing away, The sun in his early reflections Will brighten thy soul through the day.

Go into the vinegard at mountide. Perhaps in the says of the sun. A tender young vine of thy planting May sicken and perish full soon.

Go into the vineyard at even. Now that thy labors are spent. And thank Him who crowneth thy efforts With Joy and a Christian content. Omemee, April 12 1886.

A SENSATIONAL RUMOR.—A sumor has been current in town during the past two days that a young emigrant girl, a domestic in a house in town, had her head split open by an axe in the hands of one of the male members of the family. The facts of the case, so far as we can learn, are that on Sunday evening the girl was despatched for some medicine and remaining away some hours was punished on her return. In a fit of anger she knocked her head against the brick wall, causing concussion of the brain, and rendering herself insensible. The family physician being called, put the patient under treatment, but only succeeded in restoring conscioueness on Monday afternoon. The girl yet lies in a critical condition, but hopes are entertained of her ultimate recovery. There is no cut or scratch in the girl's head, the injury being internal, and the sensational rumors aftest are not supported by the facts known at present.—[Times.

CRESNWELL.

THE ROAD TO THE STATION.—The pros-PECES of the road being constructed across the concession to Manilla Junction are now good. We think the G. T. R. Co. has made a very fair offer. If the council can only feel justified in constructing the southern part of the road along the railway line they will by so doing maintain the good graces of the villagers and other interested parties. We are glad to see that over ed parties. We are glad to see that our worthy reeve, Mr. T. Broad, is making an examination of the situation and also that he holds unprejudiced views regarding our statute labor difficulty, viz: -That we are entitled to a part of our labor for repairing and building new sidewalks. Why are we not entitled to it as well as other villages? If our present or past pathmasters can tell us they will very much oblige.

School Matters .- We think the trustees have given the section an opportunity for complaint by giving the contract for fencing privately, instead of letting it by tender. We do not say the contract is not a good one, but still we cannot say that it would not have been done for less, and we consider it an improper way of doing public business.

ty feet added to its rear end, which increases its seating capacity by fifty per cent. and makes it the largest public hall in the village. It has also been reshingled, and is to be covered externally with novelty siding well painted. A platform three feet high and sixteen feet wide runs across the back of the hall and there will be two com-modious dressing rooms. Mr. E. Haw is doing the carpenter work, and the improvements will cost about $100.

FALL WHEAT.—We are glad to hear that the fears lately entertained that the fall wheat was badly winter-killed have been entirely dispelled, and the farmers now say that it looks better than they have seen it at this season for many years. If the pre-dicted May frosts do not injure it, the wheat crop is likely to be good enough to help the farmers out of their present diffi-culties.

DIGGING FOR TREASURE. - Twenty-five pigging for Treasure.—Twenty-five years ago this spring an oldish man named William Jones, who owned and lived upon the east half of let No. 20 in the lat con. of Verulam, was found brutally murdered in his shanty by Mr. T. Bentley's little girl, who is now the wife of Mr. Naaman Everson. Jones, who was unmarried, lived entirely alone, and as he was a somewhat eccentric character and was known to have been in California or Australia a good LOWEST DUR
RADLY FOOLER. The Salvation army of Bownsanville announced that a wedding on Monday, the 2th March, at 8 P. M., Captain Murten and Miss Millican being the groom and bride expectant. The novelty drew hundreds of persons to the place to see this marriage, each paying the admission fee, and when the hour arrived the propie learned to their mortification that they had been badly duped, for the parties were united in the bonds of hele matrix. bave been in California or Australia, a good times to discover it; and rumor says that on one occasion the person (whoever he was) dug until he came to a promising looking box, which, however, mysteriously disappeared while he was leaning against a tree to rest his back and recover from his natural emotion. How long ago this was we don't know; but a determined effort we don't know; but a determined effort—which we hope may prove successful—is now being made by Mesers. Bowden and Decatur of Victoria Road, to locate and disinter poor Jones's supposed wealth. One day this week they came from home fully equipped for the enterprise and went to the farm, which is now owned by Mr.G.G. Keith and is at present unoccupied. Dephtheria.—The hope so frequently indulged in that this dread disease would disappear from this section of the country is again doomed to disappointment, as we understand it has appeared in the family of Mr. George Puffer, township of Minden. The present case was contracted by careless exposure where the disease had been. It would seem as though nothing would be awarning to some people, as the fatal effects of the disease in this locality since its first appearance has been so striking that everybody would exercise necessary precaution and avoid unnecessary proximity to it where it was known to exist. The young man now laid up is seriously ill, the disease having assumed rather alarming symptoms at first, but we understand Dr. Curry's treatment of the case has resulted in a decided improvement of the patient which we trust will continue.—

A DEER ENCOUNTER.—On Sunday while Mary Wellwood and Annie Graham were strolling on the ledge near the village they were startled by the appearance of three beautiful deer. The deer appeared to be more alarmed than the girls were, although that was needless, but we cannot expect the fair sex to be as bold and brave as an old hunter would be with a rifle and four or five knives to protect himself from the wild animals of the forest.

And summer will soon be here;
The birds their happy songs will sing,
Oh welcome spring so dear.

In all this world, I do not think,
There is another thing
That brings joy and gladness to us all,
The same as does the spring.

And should we not all thankful be That summer's gentle breeze Will soon be fanning all our land, And whistling through the trees. Oh, then, I say, thon'rt welcome spring, But not long will you stay; Thou'rt like the rest of all the world, Just come to pass away.

ONTARIO COUNTY. CLOVER CROP.—One farmer west of Cedar Dale, Oshawa, got $500 for his last years crop of clover seed from 18 acres. Part of it he had pastured, and the other part mowed. That part of the field which he

When Rev.Mr.Kenner went out to feed his horse he found a horse cover he had placed on a box in the drivingshed on fire. The wind was blowing a gale at the time.—

A $160 HAUL.—Mr. Charles Trick, Port Perry, reports an extensive theft from his restaurant. He laid $160 away in the drawer of a sideboard on Saturday last, and thinking it would be all right did not look in the drawer again till Monday morning, when he found it had been taken away. Of course there were several customers in on Saturday evening, but it seems quite unlikely any of them could meddle with the drawer in question while Mr. Trick was around. He has no suspicion of any one, and is at a loss to form the least idea as to how the money disappeared.—
