IAN. CAPTURED.—One day last week Mr. George Glassford found one of his lambs mangled as he thought by a dog. He set a trap by the dead lamb and on coming down in the morning he was surprised to find a lynx with its foot in the trap. A couple of shots put an end to the brute. When stretched out it measured over five

PERSONAL -- Mr. Henry Reazin, school inspector, is again able to attend to his duties, but we are sorry to see that his crutches accompany him ... Mr. J. J. Eyrial is very ill at present. He is under the care of Dr. Ray. We hope he will soon be around again.

FEIRVILLE.

RECOVERING. Mr. Albert Feir, who so narrowly escaped death in Mesars, Mel-drum & Davidson's dour mills in Peterbofo, is able to be about again. He will soon be able to resume work.

SUCCESSEUL.—We are pleased to hear of the success that has attended the labora of J. W. Hart, M.D., who so successfully took out a diplama for practicing medicine in that he has worked up a good practice in Huntsville and surrounding country.

A MONSTER .- Mr. Henry Hert due up a potato that grew in his field which turns the scale at 1 lbs. You may talk about large potatoes, but where is the potato that can beat that?

BURGLARS AT STOUFFVILLE. On Thursday night, 14th met., the post-office at Stoudville was entered by burglars, who took sti the money, stamps and valuable papers available. They also entered a store and took some clothing. Next morning they were tracked to where they spent the remainder of the night a short distance out of Souffville. In the measure word was sent to our constable to be on the look out for two stragglers who were on their way to this town. About noon two suspicions looking characters arrived and Constable Wright got the assistance of Robert Johnson and arrested them. One of the stranger refused to be arrested and drew & fev iver on Johnston, who immediately floored him with his cane, They were shot him when crossing the bride. His body was recovered and the doctor decided not to held an inquest.

First Engine.—A deputation from Norwood visited our village on Monday last to inspect our fine engine. After a therough test they placed their order with Mr. Jac. Evans to make them one of the same kind. Mr. Evans made the one we have and it gives perfect satisfaction.

POULTRY SHIPMENT.—T. W. Dodde and Chae, Ivory left here last Saturday with two carleads of grees and ducks for New York. They purpose shipping several carleads this fell.

COLDWATER.

CATTLE BUTCHERED.—Word reached here some time last week that Mr. Vanetta of Fay found a new butcher establishment in a small swamp close to the back end of his cleaning. Having some last of the control his clearing. Having some late cate into which cattle had been in the habit of breaking, last Sunday morning in following some cattle which he had driven out ing some cattle which he had driven out of the oat field towards this swamp he saw hanging to the limbs of a tree two fine hindquarters of beef, nicely dressed, shewing that the butcher was an adept, and at the root of the tree the hide rolled up. He immediately made his discovery known. The place was visited by numerous people, some of whom identified the hide as coming off Mr. Campbell's three year old steer. From the number of young cattle missed in that part of the township it is thought that the butcher has been considerable time in the business.

that the butcher has been considerable time in the business.

THE FAIRS.—Mr. Reid's brown horse carried off the first prize against nine competitors at the Penetanguishene show and was shown at Craighurst on the 13th inst. Some vehicles from W. J. Leatherdale's carriage works will also be taken Business.—It is now an understood thing that Mr. W. Doldge will again open up business as merchant tailor in Reid's block. (50 ahead, Will. We wish you

CHANGING HANDS.—Mr. O. Bush sold four village lots last week east of the planing mill and several more sales negotiating. Some of the parties that have purchased are making every preparation to build this autumn. W. H. Mauning & Co. have started to build another block opposite to the one just finished. Coldwater owes Mr. M. a good deal because he is the most enterprising citizen we have in the most enterprising citizen we have in the place. He set the building ball rolling in this village with as fine a row of cottages as any found in larger places; then his magnificent block. Had we sfew men like Mr. M., Coldwater would be one of the best places on the Midland road. AN OPPORTUNITY.—There is room now for a good book and stationery store, a foundry, a woollen factory, a couple of good honest grain buyers. There is not a hetter location for any of the above in North Simcoe than here-more particularly the last named.

(Crowded out last week.)

ONTARIO COUNTY. A CLOSE CALL.—Mr. Thos. Deverill's son Arthur, about sixteen year's old was down around the Midland station on Wednesday evening, and had started across Dundas-st. on his way home, when he noticed one of his shoes untied. He stooped down to tie it when a rig came along which he had not heard approaching and ran upon him. The frightened horse reared up and came down upon his leg cutting it near the ankle. The boy escaped with his life but was badly hurt.—[Whitby Chronicle.

CIDER AND THE SCOTT ACT. - The case of Lapp of Markham who was up before l'olice Magistrate Harper for selling cider at the Whitby fair was disposed of on Tuesday. The result is one which is calculated to open the eyes of a good many peo-ple. The Canada temperance act does not say how long cider has to be pressed before it is prohibited, it merely says cider shall not be sold. Thus it will be seen that the manufacturer of cider may not sell his production in this county. In defiance to the protests of Inspector Ferguson, Lapp disposed of a quantity at Whitby fair, and his solicitor asked an adjournment at that time to look into the matter. On Tuesday Lapp was fied 850 and costs, with thirty Lapp was fled $50 and costs, with thirty days to raise sufficient dust.-[Whitby

A Good PRICE.-Mr. S. K. Brown sold last week his homestead property, being lot 11. 3rd con., Pickering township, containing fifty acres, to Mr. Philip J. Rowe of Bowmanville, for the sum of $5,500 cash—or $110 per acre.—[News.

AN INTERESTING CASE. -A case of some An Interesting Case.—A case of some general importance came off here on Saturday before Judge Dartnell. A party named Towns owns a flour mill privilege in the town of Bowmanville and gets his head of water by means of a dam, which is built principally of wood. The winter freshets last season broke some of the dam away and the timber lodged near a bridge on a road further down belonging to the corporation. When the spring freshets came a great deal of ice floated down the stream and, there being no dam lodged stream and, there being no dam lodged against Town's timbers, as alleged by the corporation, and caused the water to back up to such an extent that the bottom flat of the mail was flooded and some grain de-atroyed. This action was brought on by Towns against the town of Bowmanville to recover damages for the loss caused. The town put in three pleas, first, that the bridge where the ice jam existed is of suftwo, as well half was shot on Saturday. The hor was a valuable one, Mr. Stock that the country of the country o removed from the county, Mr. Alex. Wilson of Whitby was elected to that effice for the bulance of the term. The next meeting will be held in Myrtle in December. It is expected that satisfactory work will be accomplished through the agency of the district division during the coming winter.

A FEBRULE FIELD FOR FROGS.—We are informed that three well-known frog casebers one night last week caught 1.800 frogs is one night on the Trent river. The entire number weighed nearly 300 lbs. One barret of this class of meat was shipped at the station here for the American shores on Friday last. The price lately dropped to 30c, per lb.—[Campbellford Herald.

(Correspondence of The Post.)
OBT.—It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr. Isaiah Beamish, who departed this life after a long illness on the 29th ult. Deceased was twenty four years of age at the time of his death. Rev. Mr. Watch of Omemee preached the funeral sermon at the house before the funeral sermon at the house before the funeral left for the cemetery. The remains were interred in the Lifford cemetery.

Personal.—Mr. Joseph Hart left for Muskoka a short while ago. He intends to spend the winter with his aged parents, who reside in that part.

Correction.—Mrs. W. J. Skuce departed this life in the 27th year of her age in place of 37th, as printed in The Post of last week.

SUNDERLAND. A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—A painful accident occurred to Michael Umphrey on Saturday afternoon last on the farm of Mr. Robert Kay, near this place, while engaged in erecting a new barn to replace one recently destroyed by fire. It appears that Mr. Umphrey while at work, fell from a wall into the cellar, a distance of about ten eet, causing the heel bone to be driven into contact with that of the ankle. Medical aid was procured, but it will probably be some months before the injured man will have free use of his injured limb.

A HOSPITABLE CLERK.—Our old friend, Mr. T. H. Walshe, and his wife, have long been: noted for their hospitality, and on Monday last they retained their old-time reputation by entertaining Judge Dartnell, the lawyers and a few friends attending the revision court to both dinner and supper. The delicacles were both numerous and toothsome and made the guests feel it was a treat indeed to be the guest of the popular clerk. - [Gleaner.

FOUNDRY WRECKED.—The high wind last Thursday night got under the south west corner of the roof of the foundry here and carried it off the main part of the building, after which a large part of the south wall feil in, breaking through the upder floor and damaging a good deal of the machinery inside. The loss is estimat-ed at $1,000, which is a heavy one on Mr. Best, who had the old foundry, which stood on the same site, burned a little over two years ago, and there was no insurance

PURCHASED. - Mr. Adrain, who has been blacksmithing for over two years in the shop here, that was owned some years ago by Mr. Samuel Patterson, has bought both the dwelling house and the shop. Hence we shall have Mr. Adrain as a permanent Down Pigeon River.-Mr. C. R. Court-

CHURCH OPENING.—In every respect the church opening proceedings were beyond the most sanguine expectations of all. Financially it was more than we were looking for, intellectually it was a grand treat, and many cannot but long remember the genial, modest and most composed physiog as well as the mirthful and instructive remarks of Dr. Wild. The Rev. Mr. McGregor was most highly appreciated by all, many of whom were under his tuition as a school teacher at this school move than twenty-five years ago. It is pleasing to motice the improvements in a man. Rev. H. McIntyre, who hails from this place, was highly spoken of by all and is most assuredly on the upward march, and we believe is destined for a great and noble future. Rev. Mr. Thomas also favored us with a good discourse, which all apparently highly appreciated. Physically (I mean with regard to the estables) I give it up. It with regard to the catables) I give it up. It is beyond description without the aid of a volume or two of cook-hooks. UNLOOKED FOR. - I'eter has the fence

PERSONAL -- Mrs. Wescott, nee Miss L. Black, is spending a few days with her old friends, who are all only too glad to receive the hearty shake of hand and sorry that she cannot remain longer... Mrs. Elleker of Whitby is visiting her son, R. A. Elleker, agent at Cresswell junction. Base Ball. - Salem hoys have entirely riddled Sunderland's challenge and almost boasting of a few week's ago.

The whole village is taking an interest in the game. Conspicuous amonget them is our venerable and much esteemed Mr. Foley, J.P., who still holds the championship for pitching three quoits for $5.... Later on the club is thinking of holding a concert, the proceeds of which will be applied to the purchase of a complete set of quoits so that all willing to engage in the sport may have an opportunity have an opportunity. MANILLA. [Correspondence of The Post.] PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.-On Thursday evening, Oct. 1st, there was given an entertainment by the pupils of the Manilla public school and others to their very highly appreciated teacher, Mr. A. T. DeLury, on the eve of his departure from our midst. For the past six years Mr. DeLury has been fulfilling the duties of head teacher in our public school, and during that time by his unceasing perseverance and never failing interest has gained a permanent po in the esteem of his pupils, as well as advancing their minds to a position of high culture. Although the weather on the above mentioned evening was very disagreeable, yet a very lame and enthusiastic audience assembled at Skinner's hall to show their regard and respect for their departing teacher. The chair was very advantageously filled by the Rev. George Whyte. On the platform were Mr. Leftus Whyte. On the platform were Mr. Loftus, Mr. A. T. DeLury, Rev. A. Martin, Jas. A. Gillogly of The Post, and A. G. Henderson, editor of the Whitby Chronicle. The evening's entertainment was organically by a chorus from the scholars, after which read ings, recitations, solos, addresses and comic songs were rendered in order until intermission. Just before intermission a presentation, consisting of a large and expensive collection of books, in connection with a very suitable address, was respectfully presented to Mr. DeLury, who replied in a very touching strain. The program was again resumed and proceeded with vigor for about an hour. The entertainment was ended by singing the national anthem. The many friends of Mr. DeLury were loud in their wish that he might be successful in the course which he purposes pursuing at the Toronto university. The pursuing at the Toronto university. The following ladies fuillled their part admirably:—Misses H. Coone, S. Carter, M. Ockenden, H. Skinner, E. Coone, S. Skinner and L. Coone. The following gentlemen also assisted:—Messrs. A. G. Henderson, J. A. Gillogly, R. H. Covie, W. Carter, A. Coone, J. McDonald, A. Hooper, T. Madge, and Dr. Gillespie; also Masters J. Carter, D. DeLury and J. Skinner. Mr. Robert H. Coyle and many others deserve much Coyle and many others deserve much praise for the interest they took in the entertainment. Mr. A. T. De Lury:—Dear Teacher and Friend,—We, the pupils of Manilla and members of the community here assembled, desire ere you leave for college to make some acknowledgmet of the unqualified esteem which you have, by your work amongst us, inspired. During the five years, wherein we have had the privilege of retaining your services as senier teacher, the record of the school has been a record of progress and of unusual success, and this pleasing fact has been due to the diligent and unselfish devotedness to duty which you have invariably manifested. You have not been satisfied with merely stuffing the heads of your pupils with facts and rules, you have, by thoughtful questioning, striven to draw out from them themselves the principles which underlie the various forms and manifestations of truth, and by so doing you have led your pupils to think for themselves. You have ever manifested an active interest in the sports of the boys, and in this department you have practically shown that such sports need never be otherwise than conducive to manly purity and physical health. Finally by your unassuming manner and by the freshness and reality of your interest in life you have created and maintained an atmosphere in which alike morbid feelings and unjustifiable ambitions could not live. We are united in our regret at your departure from among us; and we reconcile ourselves only because what brings loss to us will bring manifold gain to you. We desire to retain a place in your memory while you are prosecuting the studies of your university ocurse, and we trust that our remembrance of your teaching and example may incline some of us to follow you in that course, and others to expend a similar amount of energy in the varied and honorable industries of life. Be pleased to accept these sets of favorite authors as a real though small tribute of grateful friendship and respectful regard. Signed on behalf of the pupils, etc.,
