The iron case of Hertram v. Massey was brought up last Thursday before Chief Justice Cameron by way of motion for judgment. The action was brought by Hertram & Co., hardware merchants, against the Massey Manfa. Co. to recover the price of large quantities of iron-which the company refused to pay for on the ground that it was of interior quality. At the trial, which occupied dearly two wester the jury, in answer to questions by the judge, made octian findings, and on these the plaintiffs now move for judgment in their favor. The Massey company also move for judgment, contending that the findings are submentially for them. Judgment was reserved.—1 Mail.
