WEST VICTORIA.

A Close Contest.—Mr. Cruess Elected by 6.

Good sleighing and not too cold weather rendered voting on Tuesday not an unpleasant duty. Voting went on quietly during the day. In the evening crowds repaired to the telegraph office and as that place was too small the reformers proceeded to the town hall and the conservatives to the council chamber. The latter had a joyful gathering over the victory in West Victoria, dampened however by the ministerial success elsewhere. The reformers in the hall remained till nearly midnight receiving the news of victory after victory, but the West Victoria defeat was a considerable of a drawback. Below is the state of the poll:—

Alleged Bribery Arrested at Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, Dec. 23.—Theodore McGillivary, brother of the conservative candidate for the riding of North Ontario, and Wm. Sharpe, son of the late hotel-keeper of this place, were arrested this morning on a charge of bribery. The charge was laid on information before Mayor Bascombe by Chas. Stewart, blacksmith, two brothers named York, and a man named Sullivan. Stewart stated that McGillivary paid him money at two o'clock this morning at his own house. The case will probably be heard by the mayor to-morrow, the parties having been bailed out to-day.

A Vigorous Letter on a Still Interesting Topic.

The Rev. E. J. Hunter, the well-known Methodist minister, Hamilton, writes as follows to the Times:—Sir,—The Mail of to-day classes me along with certain other ministers as favourable to the use of the whole bible in the schools instead of a mutilation of the scriptures. Well, now, I suppose no Protestant clergyman would object to having the bible in the entirety in the schools. On the other hand, I cannot understand how any Protestant can object to the "selections." They are not "mutilations" of scripture. By the most approved-of modern Canadian school books, I do not want to single out those who, through my ignorance and political partizanship, have refused certain more favored ones other matter. The Mail itself, no doubt in the days of its youthful vigor, if any it ever had, would have objected to the use of any books in the schools but those which were published in Toronto. And that the Mail, which is distinctively and first and last, a party paper, should now object to the use of books because they are published in Toronto, is plainly ignorant of the truth.

Mr. Hunter, though conscientiously opposed to separate schools, is a supporter of the principle of Protestantism in the public schools, and was naturally surprised by being presented with a beautiful album and some other fancy articles on the eve of her departure to a neighboring section. The presentation was made on behalf of the school by the two little girls, Ethel Walters and Lizzie Sheridan.

SOCIAL.—On Tuesday evening last a social was held in the Methodist church here, at which a pleasant time was spent. Chief Ke-che-che-mon, of Georgina Island, was called to the chair, and in a few well chosen words opened the proceedings of the evening, which consisted of music from the Indian choir of Georgina Island and speeches from Rev. Mr. Madden and Mr. Hayes, followed by a lengthy address by Rev. Mr. Bill of Stouffville, entitled, "Gleanings from a trip through England, Ireland and Wales." The address, which lasted two hours, was listened to attentively by the large audience, the church being filled to its utmost capacity.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.—The dwelling house and blacksmith shop of Mr. John Atkinson are now completed. Mr. Atkinson will be moving in a few days.

SCRAPS.—Boy frozen over.....Skating good on the ice.....Changeable weather.....Ontario elections quiet.....Not so with the municipal.....Big fight over the ownership between Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Anderson.

OYSTER SOCIAL.—Mrs. W. B. Fair gave an oyster social last week in aid of the building fund of the Methodist church. After doing justice to the oysters the large assembly were entertained with some readings and choice selections of vocal and instrumental music. The very handsome sum of $28 30 was realized.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENT.—The Cambray Methodist church has been freshly kalsomined and the woodwork treated to a new coat of paint, and presents quite an improved appearance.

POSTPONED.—The Methodist teameeting has been postponed.

FINE STOCK.—Mr. W. H. Thompkins, one of our enterprising farmers, recently purchased from Mr. D. Howkins of Woodville his fine flock of pure-bred Cotswolds, consisting of four fine large ewes. Mr. Howkins has been very successful with this flock during the past season and carried off nearly all the first prizes in that class at the different fairs.....Mr. Thompkins is also devoting his attention to the improvement of his cattle and is now the happy possessor of some fine pedigreed short horns. Such enterprise on the part of Mr. Thompkins is highly commendable.

PORT PERRY.

GOOD SEASON'S BUSINESS.—Messrs. Curts & Henderson shipped from this place 247,000 dozen eggs to Boston, Montreal and other points, which would fill a train of 18 cars. They paid an average of 13 cents per dozen, or over $32,000, circulated in this section alone for eggs since last March. They also $4,000 for butter, and Mr. Curts expects to double it next year.

PASTURING CATTLE IN HALIBURTON.—We would desire to call the attention of farmers and others interested in stock raising to the desirability of the Haliburton district as a grazing and pasture country during the summer season. Mr. John Adams of this place, one of the most enterprising "Cattle Kings" in the county, and Mr. Irwin of Peterboro, a gentleman largely interested in timber lands about Haliburton strongly endorse the farmers sending their cattle north during the summer, where they will be out of the way, and, at the same time do better than they would at home because they have more freedom and better feed. Twenty-five head of cattle can be put in one car and shipped back at the rate of forty cents per head per the G. T. R. Pasture can be secured at very reasonable rates as so much per head. The land is very well watered, in fact one of the finest summer ranges in existence. All that is necessary for the protection of yourself is to put a brand on the horn or shoulder of the stock and turn them loose. Combine, farmers, and look to your interest by giving your cattle a run on a new range that will improve their health, get them in good shape for the winter and save yourself a whole lot of trouble during the summer. Mr. Adams, who has been looking this thing up, with a view of sending his own stock there next summer, will be pleased to give you any further information.—[Standard.....This plan has been frequently advocated in THE POST of late years, and has also been pressed upon the attention of farmers in letters from Mr. Geo. Laidlaw, who is an authority on the subject. We hope Mr. Adams will succeed in his enterprise.—ED. POST.

OAKWOOD.

MUNICIPAL.—The township nominations have been overshadowed by the provincial contest, but the voting will go on next Monday again. Messrs. T. Broad and W. Eyres are out for the reeveship. Both are good men. Messrs. E. Bowes and W. Lowesbrough were elected deputy-reeves by acclamation. Both are capital representatives. For councillors Messrs. Wallis and W. E. Swain, old councillors, are in the field with our old friend S. Washington, who would make an excellent representative. We are pleased to see Mr. Washington in the field.

BIG BONFIRE.—There was a big bonfire here Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Cruess's election. A large crowd came out from Lindsay with the band, and had a night old time. Speeches were made by Mr. S. Hughes, Mr. A. Hudspeth, Mr. Cruess and others. Mr. Cruess repeated his "independent" declarations, and promises to support Mowat and good government. The bonfire was at the street crossing and was rather a success.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—The senior department of the public school was closed for the year on Monday evening in a very pleasant manner. A few minutes before four o'clock, when preparations for dismissal were being made by both teacher and pupils, a couple of boys went forward, one of whom read the following address, the other presenting the teacher, Mr. G. E. Kennie, with a highly ornamental silver pickle-dish. The following is the address:

To Mr. Kennie.—DEAR TEACHER,—We, your pupils of the Oakwood public school, embrace this opportunity at the close of the present year to thank you for the special interest you have taken in our welfare during the past. Your untiring zeal for our advancement and kindness in hearing us have endeared you to us. We feel sorry that we have given you so much trouble by our careless ways, but we hope you will pardon us for the past, and that you may long live to use it and that you may have the joy of a contented conscience. We wish you a very merry Christmas and a happy new year. Signed on behalf of the pupils,

[illegible]

Mr. Kennie, though considerably taken by surprise, made a suitable reply, expressing his appreciation of the kindness shown him by the pupils. Miss Rose, teacher of the junior department of the public school, was similarly surprised by being presented with a beautiful album and some other fancy articles on the eve of her departure to a neighboring section. The presentation was made on behalf of the school by the two little girls, Ethel Walters and Lizzie Sheridan.

[Correspondence of The Post.]

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—On the occasion of the close of the school year the pupils of s. s. No. 5, Fenelon, presented their teacher, Mr. J. B. Powles, with a beautiful bible and photograph album, together with the following address:

To Mr. John B. Powles.—DEAR TEACHER,—We, the pupils of school section No. 5 having learned of your prospective removal from us avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our very deep regret and sorrow. Our intercourse during the past four years has been—to us at least—most friendly and pleasant. Now that this relation of teacher and pupils is to be broken we desire to express in some way our appreciation of your very valuable services and at the same time assure you of the high esteem in which you are held by the entire school. Your kind and Christian manner in conducting the school has been apparent from the beginning. The interest you have always taken in our intellectual welfare has endeared you to us in such a way that no words of ours could express. We believe you have honestly endeavored to help us in laying the foundation on which we may safely build the superstructure of a virtuous and useful life. You will please accept this bible and photograph album not so much for their intrinsic worth but as an humble token of our sincere regard. We would also pray that similar success may attend your efforts in the future as in the past and by and by when life's work is o'er we wish you an "abundant entrance" into God's kingdom. Everfollowing you with our prayers and good wishes we bid you for the present a most grateful and affectionate farewell.—On behalf of the school.

MIRIAM G. MOYNES.
MAGGIE J. SMITHERIM.

Mr. Powles replied as follows:

DEAR SCHOLARS,—Words of mine cannot adequately express my feelings on the present occasion. In my endeavors during the past four years to instruct you in the common branches I have honestly tried to do my duty towards you. The position of teacher in a school of from forty to seventy pupils has its discouragements, and it also has its encouragements. Nothing could be more gratifying to me in our last meeting together than to hear your expressions of approbation and to find that as year by year sped away the passage of time only served to strengthen the bands of friendship between us. I thank you for the many little acts which from time to time you have performed, making my work lighter and showing me that you believe in the sentiments contained in the following lines:

"Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Make on earth an Eden, like the heaven above."

I thank you for the beautiful presents that you have so kindly presented. I shall prize them not for their money value but as a tribute of the esteem and affection in which I am held by you all. In conclusion I pray that in the future God's best blessing may attend you, that you may all in early life be led in the way which has the promise not only of the life that now is, but that better life which is to come. Wishing you "A merry Christmas and a happy new year" I bid you for the time being farewell.

Mr. Powles, who is a successful and able teacher, goes to Palestine school for 1887.

BRECHIN.

[Correspondence of The Post.]

CONCERT.—One of the most pleasing entertainments we have had the pleasure of attending for some time took place in O'Neil's hall, on Monday evening, the 27th inst. The management of the affair was under the auspices of a number of the members of R.C. church, assisted by their good pastor Father Davis. The duties of the chair were ably filled by our worthy old friend, Mr. Foley, J.P. In a neat little humorous speech Mr. Foley spoke of the high class of entertainments, (musical and literary) usually held in Brechin, and from the array of talent present he would venture to say this would eclipse anything that had taken place in the past, and we believe his hopes were fully realized. The opening piece was a chorus by the Brechin choir with Miss Barker as organist. The parts were well sustained throughout. Next was a violin duett by Gillogly Bros. which was well received, especially by the young people. Mr. Barker then came forward in a deep bass voice sang "It's for Money." Miss McGillivray of Uxbridge then sang in a sweet clear voice "Katie's Letter." She afterwards sang that good old Irish ballad, "Rory O'More," and received round after round of applause. This being this lady's first appearance here she has made a decidly favourable impression. Next in order came a duett, "The Fairy's Boat," by the Misses Gould of Uxbridge. We can give but a very faint idea here of the way in which the piece was executed. Seldom outside the larger cities have we heard voices blend more harmoniously or show such a high degree of culture. They received a perfect ovation. Miss Hall of Brantford presided at the organ. Miss McCardill of Sutton also appeared here for the first time. She sang the "Kerry Dance" and elicited a good hearty applause. She later on in the evening favoured the audience with another solo. Quartett, by Gillogly Bros., Miss J. Doyle and Miss Barker, was given in good style and was enthusiastically received. As it would take too much space to particularize on the merits of each performer, suffice it to say that songs were given Mr. B. J. McDonald, B. Smith, W. Cameron of Grillia. Mr. J. Proctor rendered "White Wings" in a manner that was highly pleasing to all. A duett by Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McMillan was highly appreciated by the audience at present. By special request Miss Gould was again called before the audience and sang in a rich mellow voice "I Love my Love." A chorus by the choir brought the musical part of the entertainment to a close. The gentlemen called on the auditorium for the fond lovers who were present to give several selections, and also on Messrs. Gould and Mahill. Politics were left out of the question. The entertainment was brought to a close by the entire audience singing "God Save the Queen," also three rousing cheers were given for the queen, which knocks Sam. Hughes's theory endways that a loyal feeling does not exist among Catholics.

BASKET SOCIAL AND CONCERT.—The social and concert held at the residence of Mr. Wm. Irvine on the 17th inst., in aid of the Methodist minister's salary, proved a grand success, the dialogues being excuted in the most efficient manner possible. An enjoyable time was spent after the sale of the baskets. The proceeds amounted to $21.

RETURNED.—Miss Lilly McIntyre has returned from Burnt river, where she has been visiting for a short time.....Mr. E. Hoovey has also returned from Toronto, where he has been for some time.....Mr. W. WEDDING BELLS.—The matrimonial wave struck this place last week with awful effect. On Monday Mr. Thos. Staback and Miss Maria Dalgliah, second daughter of Mr. R. Dalgliah of this place, were joined together in the bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Dr. Watson of Thorah. The bride was supported on the left by Miss Reynolds of Beaverton, the groom on the right by Mr. F. Staback. The bride looked both charming and handsome. She was dressed in olive colored silk. Many handsome and costly presents were received after the ceremony. All sat down to a sumptuous dinner, after which they drove to Lorneville Junction where they took the train for a tour through "Uncle Sam's" domains followed by the good wishes of their many friends.....On Thursday Mr. F. Cox of Toronto and Miss Flora Mathewson, second daughter of Mr. Duncan Mathewson of Mara, were also made one by the Rev. Mr. Patterson of Beaverton. The bride received some beautiful presents as tokens of the respect in which she is held by her friends. After partaking of a sumptuous dinner the happy couple left for a wedding tour. We heartily join in wishing them all the pleasures of a married life.—[Express.

CHURCH NOTES.—Mr. John McMillan, student of Knox college, Toronto, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here last Sabbath morning and evening, Dec. 19. He delivered an excellent sermon in English in the morning, taking his text from Epistle of John I, i., 10. In the afternoon he preached in the Methodist church, Palestine, an excellent sermon, taking his text from Colossians, iii., and last part of the verse. The words of his text were: "But Christ is all and in all." He also preached a good sermon here in the evening again. There were large congregations here and also in Palestine to hear him. Mr. McMillan has a brilliant career before him in the good work he has chosen for the future.....Rev. Mr. Wilson of Woodville delivered an able discourse to his congregation here on Sunday week. Mr. Wilson is a preacher that his people may well be proud of.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION AND PRESENTATION.—On Friday, 17th inst., the examination of Miss Gilliogly's pupils came off in the above-mentioned school. There was a large number of friends and parents of the children present. A number of dialogues were given by some of the pupils. Miss Gillogly has had charge of the school for the past two years and has endeared herself to both parents and children. She goes to take charge of the Reaboro school for the coming year. At the close of the exercises Mary Kertley, a smart little girl, stepped forward and presented Miss Gillogly with a handsome set of jewelry and the following address:

DEAR TEACHER.—It is with deep feelings of regret at your departure from amongst us, that we assemble here this evening to offer you a small token of our affection and esteem. You have during the past two years given ample proof of your skill and capacity as a teacher. The kindness and forbearance which you have always extended towards us and the untiring zeal which has ever marked your efforts in the advancement of our education have won for you the warmest feelings of regard. We trust you will forgive us the many annoyances which we have caused you by our thoughtlessness and disobedience and hope you will accept this present as a souvenir of your first school.

MARY KERTLEY.
EMMA REEBS,
MARY J. HUTTON,
JANE HAMILTON.

Miss Gillogly was so overcome by the feeling sentiments which the address contained that she was unable to reply in the manner she desired, and Mr. Thos. Hovey stepped forward and thanked the children on behalf of the teacher.

He walked to the shanty, but he died within an hour. His mother resides at Dartmoor, in the county of Victoria, and lost her husband recently, since which her son Thomas has been her chief support. AQUA FONTANA.—At Orillia lately a man pretty well under the influence of liquor went into a drug store and presented an order demanding a quart of whiskey for medicinal purposes, which was supposed to be signed by a medical man. The druggist, seeing the condition his customer was in, and being unable to refuse under the circumstances, directed his sub. to prepare a quart bottle of aqua fontana—spring water—and hand it to the sick man. This was done, no charge being made, and the unsteady victim of misplaced confidence pursued his way rejoicing.
