GOLDEN FLEECE. SILK DEPARTMENT.

OUT OF SIX, ONLY ONE.

A customer looking for a new dress a few days ago handed us six samples of so-called silk. They all looked well, and any of them would deceive the ordinary buyer. When our chemical test was applied only one out of the six was pure silk. Now, a great many pounds of jute, or cotton, can be bought for the price of one pound of silk. Very cheap silk means cheap material, dear at any price. Our silks have the chemical test applied before we buy them, hence we do, with safety to ourselves and customers, guarantee many, but not all of the silks we sell.

WILL BLOOM IN THE SPRING.

Pretty concepts in feminine headgear that will soon be on exhibition here. Plumes and feathers in abundance. The "Constance" and "Tuxedo" lead the brilliant cavalcade, with the "St. Ledger" well up. Miss Glass is here, after visiting the Emporium of Fashion, and our Millinery Department will bloom early this season.
