The mystery in which the disappearance of young Hamer, the McGill medical student, has been enshrouded is cleared away. His body was found Sunday afternose in the snow in the maple grove about a mile from the hotel where he was last soon. There is no doubt he was frozen to to death, as there are no marks of violence on the body and all the money in his possession, $91.60, was found on him. He was discovered by a small searching party imbedded in the snow and was still frozen. His face was natural and his hands were folded over his breast. He had evidently jost his way in the blinding storm and lain down on the drift to wait for daylight, dropped asleep and never awoke.

The Herald suggests that this reserve be selected along the Red Deer river, beginning about twenty-five miles below the present crossing, extending down the river ninety miles, and taking in twenty-five miles on each side, so including Buffalo Lake, the Hand Hills and many other lakes and hills which were favorite hunting grounds of the Indians in the olden time. The question is would the Indians be willing to give up their present reserves, be willing to give up their present reserves, and, if so, could peace be preserved among so many different bands and nations, some of which, e.g., the Biackfeet and Cross are -A well-known Canadian artist now New York says that while travelling in British Columbia a few months ago he was shown a gigantic sturgeon which was declared by the people to have lived in the waters of the Fracer river, to their certain knowledge, time out of mind, and which since its capture, more than a year ago, had furnished food for for several families. The day was ried with atout ropes to a tree on fight was tied with stout ropes to a tree on the bank of the river, and whenever a resident wanted some fish he simply went to the river, pulled in the captive, cut a steak of the size needed, and allowed the great fish to float back into the stream. The turgeon was still alive when the artist left, and was estimated to have enough meat on its bones to supply the village for several nonths to come.

-A despatch from Vienna to the London Chronicle says: "Whilst the czar was walk-ing on the terrace overlooking the lawn at ing on the terrace overlooking the lawn at Gatachina palace last week a shot was fired from behind a bush and a bullet whistled close to the czar's ear. A second shot was fired from behind another bush, but without effect. A sentinel, who was near, immediately fired upon the first assassin and, it is reported, killed him on the spot. The second assassin tried to escape, but was arrested. He proved to be an officer of the army." The czarina has been suffering from serious depression ever since the attempt upon the life of the czar, and her health is seriously affected. Many of the persons arrested between March 13 and March 24, in connection with the piot to March 24, in connection with the plot to take the czar's life have been liberated, but their arrest has been the ruin of their famiies in many instances.

MIDLAND DISTRICT NOTES.

-The council of Bowmanville decided on Monday night to erect fourteen electric lights in Bowmanville at a cost to the town of $850 per year.

-Mr. Henry Heidmann of Sparrew lake comes to the fore this season with aineteen lambs from nine ewes. Eighteen of the ambs are now living.

-It is estimated that it will take about $35,000 to finish work under contract for the improvement of the harbor and wharves at Midland. -A petition is in circulation at Port Hope asking the town council to memorialize the Dominion government to repeal the Canada temperance act. -Arrangements have been made to form a company to put down a test well for salt at Midland $1,400 of the $2,000 necessary for the test has been subscribed.

—A sad accident occurred near Tyrone recently by which a young man named Maroney was instantly killed by a mass of frozen earth falling on him. His body was -A fish hatchery is to be established somewhere on the Georgian bay, and the Collingwood Enterprise declares it is time time for the local press to wade right in fer their location in that town.

-Peterboro is having another Scott act spaam. There was a peculiar calmness in Scott act circles during the elections. Perhaps everyone was too busy to take much stock in morality, just then.

-The World says that last Friday Mr. A B. Appleby of Cobourg purchased 6,500 sheepskins in Belleville. This is the biggest deal ever made in Canada by any one man in any town at a single purchase.

—A fifteen-year old daughter of Mr.
Lacey of Midland fell down stairs about a week ago and a scissors which she had in her hand entered her body. Medical aid was called in, but on Tuesday last she succumbed to the effects of the wound.

—A serious accident happened to Mr. S. English of North Orillia. While helping J. D. Creen with a load of logs the sleigh came in contract with a tree. Mr. English took the canthook and was easing the load off, when the horses started, jamming his hand between the canthook stock and the tree. The hand was badly cruehed and his thumb and second finger broken.

Thumb and second anger broken.

—Yeomans' drug store on Front-st.,
Belleville, was completely gutted by fire which broke out about 6.30 Friday morning. Part of the stock was saved. Mr. Yeomans estimates loss on stock at $18,000 and on building at about $3,000. His loss on stock will be about $5,000 above the insurance; the building is fully insured. The fire is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

—A very unusual and happy co-incident occurred in Mono township recently. The wives of Robert G. South and Robert A. Marshall presented their husbands with a sen and daughter respectively. The singular part of the story is that the two couples were married (together) on the same day (14th April, 1866) by the same clergyman, Rev. W. A. Huntes. They are neighborn, living near Camilla. All will admit that a double wedding and a double birth are extremely rare.
