And the Prices Always Right.

To all intending purchasers of Dry Goods visiting Lindsay we would respectfully offer the advice given by Horace Greely to the youing man: "Come west, come west, to the sign of the Golden Lamb, north side of Kent-st., and please step in, inspect our goods and do not be afraid to handle them; find the price, but all was a supportant to be the constitution of the price; but always remember to let the style, quality and texture have their due weight in your mind. These tairly and equarely considered, we are sure our prices will compare favorably with any

A Word about ORDERED CLOTHING.

All reasonable men, and the ladies also, admit that it always pays best to purchase good reliable goods at a fair price. Will you now try and make every dollar count. We confess to be very salifsh and have a double interest in selling you the test and most reliable goods at the least and most reasonable prices; this we do to gain your patronage. That once attained, if honest, honorable and straightforward dealing is worth anything we are confident of holding your trade. You have the dealers in ready mades and us to choose between. There's a difference between our Clothing and theirs, also in our ideas in selling and theirs. They buy; we make. They have to get their money out of it; we our reputation as well. They are easeful shout the looks of the outside; we look after the inside also. They about how they will sell; we about how they will wear. They buy from the maker; we make for the buyer. They buy goods with the most money in them; we those which give good satisfaction in wear and surest to keep your custom and confidence. in wear and surest to keep your custom and confidence. Our door is always open to the public and our patrons will find that dealing with us is like compound interest in your pocket on the money spent; or getting a discount on your bread bill.

is an action by the plaintiff- a farmer at the Cross Creeks to compel the defendants, who are the proprietors of the Lindsay flouring mills, to remove the bracket boards from the dam on the River Sougog at Lindsay. The trial at Lindsay occupied three days last November and was not finished. It was resumed here on Friday. Sth April, before Hon. Mr Justice Proudfoot, when the evidence was concluded, having occupied the whole day, and the case was enlarged for argument at Osgoode hall. Torento, on Friday and Saturday and judgment was reserved. Mesers. James Macleman, Q.C., Charles Moce, Q.C., and Hugh O'Leary acted for the plaintiffs, and Mesers. S. H. Blake, Q.C., Dalton MoCarthy, Q.C., and Thomas Stewart acted for the defendants. This is along standing dispute and the is the first action brought to settle it, and it will be of interest to the public to know that the costs are estimated at $5,000. The evidence went back to the building of Purdy's first dam on the Sougog and its subsequent removal and building of the present dam in Ints and recalling also the past history of navigation on these waters and the carty settlement of Lindsay and Ope. The witnesses were gathered from all parts of the county, one coming from all parts of the county, one coming from the past history. The result of the trial will be awaited with much interest. to remove the bracket boards from the dam on
