The Canadian Post, LINDSAY, FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1887. ECHOES FROM THE CAPITAL.

OPENS OF PARLIAMENT A STRONG... THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY CASE. This case is, by several degrees, the most flagrant and barfaced that has ever taken place in Canada of its particular kind.

A LOOK AT THE HOUSE. The session opened with the anti-qualified, in many quarters, much ridiculed under which the members of the commons, solemnly called upon by the gentleman who of the black rod, attend upon the Deputy Governor in the senate chamber.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND. Mr. J. J. Curran of Montreal, who would like it to be understood that he is the Emmet of Canada, has shown his determination not to be dragged, as he was last year, into voting for a bill on the subject of Irish home rule.

A Good Government for the Queen's Jubilee Celebration. [To the Editor of THE CANADIAN POST.] Sir—In reply to Mayor Waters' request for suggestions as to the celebration of the British anniversary of Queen Victoria's reign, I venture to offer the following plan, which will not only permanently mark the jubilee, but also tend to improve the city.

THE SPEECH OF THE DAY. one of the very best speeches of its kind ever heard in parliament, was made by the Hon. Edward Blake. He first of all cutting remarks to the effect that Sir John Macdonald, when in opposition, had declared that Canada's British president should be followed and the speaker proposed by one who was not a member of the government.

THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE. The speech from the throne was remarkable mainly for what it did not contain. It referred, of course, to the prosperity of the country, the justice of Her Majesty, the Colonial and Indian exhibition, and Fishery extension.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS. BETHANY. [Correspondence of The Post.] DENTON, NORTON.—Mr. W. H. Green, dentist of Lindsay, will be at the Hamilton house, Bethany, on Monday, April 25th, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. VALENTIA. [Correspondence of The Post.] GOOD BULL.—Mr. Wm. Hobbs, on lot 2, corner of the road, has a fine lot of good bull, well-bred, and is keeping the animal for service. Raisers of good cattle will do well to look up this matter, as the bull is a fine specimen with pedigree that cannot be questioned.

COMMERCIAL NEWS. OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN POST, LINDSAY, APRIL 22, 1887. Business and Market News. Spring work and the election seem to have interfered to some extent with the local market, as very little grain or produce was offered during the week. Prices remain unchanged.
