from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles. - E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severs Hemorrhage of the Lungs, brought on by a distressing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used vari-ous cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend ad-

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine enced my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life. - Mrs. E. Cobain, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass. I have used Aver's Cherry Pectoral for ever a veer, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a daugerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy. — D. A. McMullen, adsor, Province of Ontario, -A London cable says: It has transpir ed that Mr. Gladstone, in his speech at the dinner given by labor members of parliement last Wednesday night, declared his entire disbelief in the accusacions made against the Irish leaders. Mr. Gladstone said that in May, 1882, immediately after the assassination of Lord Frederick Caven-dish and Mr. Burke in Phoenix park Mr. Parnell wrote him a letter with reference to that crime. The contents of that letter, to that crime. The contents of that letter, which had obviously been written under great mental distress, threw considerable light upon the topic of the present hour, and was strong evidence in favor of the contention given by the landlady of the house where some of the students board.

Emperor William has sent a beautiful diamond bracelet as a wedding present to a Jewish maiden whom he used to see at a girdow contention that the public mind he would be associated with the crime, offered to place himself without reserve in Mr. Giadeone's hands. The report of Mr. Gladstone's at the private dinner of the labor members is accurate, though exaggerated in form. What Mr. Gladstone really said was that after the Phenix park murders Mr. Pavaell expressed to him his willingness to retire from public life if he (Mr. Gladstone) thought it would be for the best intereste of Ireland that he should do so. . . The popular view of Mr. Paruell's recent visit to Ireland regards him as delving smong boxes full of his old letters, unsurfaing documents with the dust of years upon them, and weighed down himself with the indignation and passionate desire to be avenged on his malignant adversaries. Nothing could be further from the truth. He has simply been fabring. A seperter was sent to him from the Freeman's Journal in hot haste to consult him on an important matter. He was not at home and nobody knew where he was. At last the reporter got a clue and discovered him seturning from his placid pastime, last the reporter got a clue and discovered him returning from his placid pastime, with a rod over his shoulder and a well filled creel on his back, utterly heedless of the fact that England was ringing with cries and counter cries in his name.
