A Big Feather in Belleghem's Cap. On Saturday last Mr. D. Belleghem, the wellnown furniture man off eterboro, returned from nto, where he had been engaged in placing ure he supplied for the new and spacince of Rev. Dr. Potts, on Prince ir ave. Mr. Belleghem was recommended Arthur ave. Mr. Belieghem was recommended to be. Potts, who after having visited the leading furniture establishments in Toronto and Ontario, came to Peterboro, and, after examining Belleghem's work, gave an order for the complete furniture of his new home from cellar to garret, and so pleased was he with the furniture supplied that he gave a supplementary order for some special work. It is a great triumphiolisterborough that it contains an establishment like Mr. Belleghem's, which can not only successfully compete with city and corporate establishments, but it is able to outstrip them in suality of work, price and style. The capture of this contract by Belleghem from under the noses of the city furniture dealers is a big feather in his cap.—[Examiner.—46-1.

-THE POST -To the end of the year

-The heat on Sunday was excessive, the hermometer registering 950 in the seade. -A run through the country on Tuesday showed that despite the dry spell of weather

-Available house room is getting more limited. From fair to middling houses are in demand. Bring on your supply. That rents will go higher is possible, but not so high that landlords will be obliged to go around collecting them with ladders. Several terraces of good dwellings recently erected are giving a good return, but more room is needed.

-Many were the congratulations offered—at the station on Tuesday morning—to Mr. H. Debois, who, with Mrs. Debeis, was starting off on a brief wedding trip. Familiarly known as "Hank" the groom is well liked for his great good nature and obliging disposition and handles his department at A. Campbell's to the satisfaction of the public. satisfaction of the public.

The great jubile year celebration to be held at Port Perry on the 21st June will be marked by an immense gathering of agriculturists, who will assemble on the beautiful and commodious grounds of the Ontario Central Agricultural and L. S. association, overlooking Lake Scugog. A prettier and handier spot for a day's amusement it would be hard to find. Numerous attractions—46.1.

by Mr. P. Nicolie, the proprietor.

—A typographical error occurred in our report of the town council meeting given in last week's issue of The Poer. In voting on the resolution asking that the Scott act be repealed the name of Coun. H. Walters was printed as having voted against the resolution, which the large and jovial councilior did not do. It was Coun. Winters who voted that way, and we regret that the error should have unintentionally done either member an injustice. Shake.

—The present season seems to have been fav-either member an injustice. Shake.

—The present season seems to have been favorable to a rapid growth of shade trees and a marked imprevement is noticeable in this respect on our streets. Lines or rows of maples have sprung upalong where a few years ago no shade trees tempered the heat to the pedestrian. The flattest, most uninviting locality can be made beautiful by a liberal growth of trees, and citizens should set to work and plant out hundreds of trees on streets which have not yet been so favored.

-Mr. Adam Doran is now fully embarked in he manufacture of cigare at the shop on William-st. The article made is an excellent sample and is giving good satisfaction among smokers. Only the best and purest leaf is used and the stock is fully equal to the best brought into town. Those who are curious to see the process of manufacture will find Mr. Doras ready to affect the expectantity of seeing the procedure.

—A subject of frequent remark among gardening citizens is that the potato bug is favorably acarce this year. Possibly his—the bug's—usefulness is gone. Probably he has worked the territery over for all it is worth and is desirous of finding pastures—potato pastures—new. We have done our best to make his stay exciting and he has been the recipient of numberless attentions, and he is commended to the public of somewhere else as a brilliant and striped example of what ability and perseverance can accomplish.

—An eviction of tenants on a wholesale scale has been going on for a few days on the lot on Victoria-ave., now being cleared up by Mr.Rich. Sylvester. The tenants of the place have had possession for many long years and though threatened at times have not been removed. Finding that all warnings and expectuations were useless Mr.S. resorted ts force and had torn up by the roots old and venerable as well as young holders of the soil. The stumps will, it is anticipated, make a capital bondre the night of the jubilee celebration.

gorgeous scenery, the original and genuine "Black Crook" will be presented at Bradburn's opera house, one night only, June 7th. This is without doubt the most magnificent combination that ever visited our town. They carry two entire special cars full of scenery and paraphernalia and have an unusually large company in fact several companies under one organization. Watch next week's paper for advertisement and press notices.

Nothing has been said in the papers heret ouching the celebration of Dominion day at Lindsay. Perhaps it was just as well to be off with the old love-May 24th-before taking on with the old love—May 24th—before taking on with the new—July 1st. The time has arrived for the civic committee to get together and plan out a grand, brilliant and deliberately overwhelming celebration, making—if so desired—the 1st of July to cover the occasion of the queen's jubilee. Who will take the initiative? Let us have a good, hearty, Canadian occasion, full of fun, enjoyment and good humor. Perhaps Mayor Walters would move—in his civic capacity—and set the wheels rolling. The fund left over from former celebrations will form the nucleus of a fund for this purpose.

-The building for the button factory—as addition to Wallace's woollen mill—is about completed, and this week the machinery for manufacturing will be set up. About $3.000 worth of machines are now at the station aboard cars ready to be transferred to the factory. Mr. Morton of Benton will have charge of the factory and of manufacture, having been engaged by Mr. P. Nicolle, the proprietor.

-Mr. Robert Erawford (the Laird o' that ilk) well-known in Lindsay, where he resided many years ago, in a letter from Indian Head, N.W.T., where he is new living, to a friend in Brockville, drops into curling dialect in expressing the hope that he may yet get back to "Horningtoft" at Brockville, "and if my old ioints will allow of it, yet tae ha'e a guid play at Baith Tam and Rab ought tae hide their heeds in a parritch poultice," The laird's letter is printed in a Brockville paper, from which we make the foregoing extract.

-The ruri-decanal meeting was held yesterday in St. Paul's, and was well attended. -Rev. W. G. Mills, Queen's college, is in town

The meetings in the Baptist church are still distinguished by deep interest. The people of God are being quickened, and sinners are coming to the Saviour.....Next Sabbath morning the sermon will be en "The power of Divine grace," and on "The condition of the lost" in the evening.

The garden party at Mr. D.J. McIntyre's, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., was a signal success. Everyene was delighted. The band played as if competing for a prize, the illuminations were enchanting, the singing excellent, the rerefreshments delicious, and the receipts far beyond the expectations of all. The association more fully realizes that it has a host of friends, and wieh to convey their thanks to the ladies for their generous support and invaluable assistance.

—Some improvements and repairs are needed about the wharf and landing at the Point, and in the interests of the public should—and no doubt will—be made. -Mr. W. Flavelle is arranging to have built at the Point a neat frame cottage for a summer habitation. Other Lindsay people have bought lots of ground and are threatening to build at the Point during the summer.

-Members of the cance club propose to form a syndicate and put up at the Point a boat house where cances, etc., can be kept at times over night. It is proposed to arrange a few busks so that the benighted cancelst could remove his blankets and stretch himself under shelter without having to erect first his tent.

without having to erect first his tent.

—Mr. W. Simpson went down to the Point last week to officially superintend preparations for opening the hotel for the summer. While guests arriving can find accommodation the hotel proper will not, it is expected, be ready for convenience of people from a distance until about June first. Under the management of Mr. Simpson the hotel was very popular last season, and with improvements and conveniences being added just now will draw a large patronage.

bent on enjoyment. The weather was bent on being wet. The weather being above and having the upper hand—as it were—succeeded, and a welcome, though for a time to picnickers uncomfortable, rain revived and moistened the land. With this exception the day passed off pleasantly. The canoe cinb and band excursion to Sturgeon Point drew a large crowd and the barge Paloma, towed by the venerable steamer Beaubocage, was filled full of living freight. The passage to the Point was made quickly and the forenoon was pleasantly spent in boating on the lake and at noon partaking of dinner. The steamer Escurion brought up from Bobcagean members of the canne club of that village and friends, who helped to swell the crowd on shere. The steamer Eva brought from Lindaay and various peints. A program of aquatic events had been arranged and fairly entered on when rain began to fall. Shertly afterwards a heavy storm swept ever the lake and excursionists were alad to take refuge about the hotel and on the boats. It continued to rain more or less during the afternoon and effectually put a damper on the sports. An attempt was made to carry out the program and the skiff sairing and cance sailing races were sailed. Many whe proposed testing the qualities of their crafts ent on enjoyment.
