LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1887. THE QUEENS JUBILEE.

Next Tuesday, the 21st, will be a public holiday, but there will be no grand celebration in Lindsay of the jubilee. One event of the kind is enough for one year and all our local energy, loralty and enthusiann is to be kept in reserve for Domin-... On Tuenday morning at elast o'clock, however, the joy-bells will be russ for fifteen minutes. The belle on all the churches will be used. This will not be an slarm of fire, but only an outburst of enthusisatic loyalty. Mayor Walters's idea is

THE SCOTT ACT IN THE BOUSE OF COMMONS.

A vote was taken in the commons Tuesday night on Mr. Jamieson's prohibition resolution and the amendments to the Scott set: and developed a much stronger tempersince sentiment than was expected. A ance fervor of Hon. Mr. Foster may now be looked for. The first vote was on Mr. Car. gill's amendment to repeal the Scott set, which was lost, Year, 37; asys, 145, Mr. Gironard's light wine and beer amendment wan out and lost. Year, 18; days, 138, Adsmendment was then offered by Mr. Spronle declaring that when it is found expedent to prehilit the manufacture, imporretion and sale of intoxicating liquors, it should be accompanied by a reasonable measure of compensation to those who have invested their money in the trade under sanction of the law. This was met by en amendment from Mr. Pisher to the effact that the question of compensation, being a detail of prohibition, the right time to discuss it is when the details of a prohibitory measure are before the house. Mr. Fisher's smendment was carried. Yese, 11: neye, 38, Mr. Jamieson's prohibition resolution, as amended by Mr. Fisher's amendment postponing consideration of the question of compensation, was then put and was last by a vote of 70 year to 112 says. Mr. Barron made a rattling speech in the house the other day on the item of $90,000—which is simply in effeet a revote of an unexpended appropria-tion,—and exposed the shilly-shallying of the government with a scheme they and their leading followers have declared to be of the utmost importance. EDITORIAL NOTES.

A protest has been entered against the election of Mr. Hudspeth for South Victor is on grounds of bribery sud corruption, the result of "Boodler" McIntoen's visita. The petitioner is Mr. J. Birmingham of Lindsay. We understand the seat is claim. ed for Mr. Needler.

Prospective candidates may find in this paragraph a useful hint: "Senator Kenna of West Virginis carries a riolin and camera with him when he goes electioneering, and has photographed and fiddled to at least two thirds of his constituents during the past few years,"

The "Independent" tory Toronto Telegram calls upon the Dominion government to dissilow the bill passed by the Quebec legislature incorporating the Jesuit soclety. It says there is more reason for exexcleing the veto power in this case than in the case of Manitoba railway charters. What does Sir John Macdonald propose to poor farmers are hit every time. One year the cotton lorde get a lift, then sugar refineries receive a valuable impulse, and next a great industry, that of iron, is to be forced into existence; but there is no relief my where for the hard worked farmers. They are taxed that other industries may live and prosper. It makes no difference that tillers of the soil are now suffering and are likely to suffer further from low prices. Sir Charles Tupper has considered it all and they must submit. In 1878, 'his solution' was that the national policy would bring about reciprocity in two years. That Where is its fulfillment? No where." The farmers are to blame if they bear meekly all these burdens and do not take the proper constitutional steps the occasion.

In taking this "editorial note" from the Springfield Republican we cannot avoid expressing surprise that in as old a state as Mannachusetts the "weekly payment" plan ie spoken of as a new thing. The advantage of cash as against credit are again clearly stated: "The movement toward weekly paymente in this state has accompliened its purpose in greatly reducing petty credit. The wormingmen as a rule petty credit. The workingman as a rule now paye se he goes, and if our mercantile community were consulted, they would tentify to the great saving in bad debte which results. A leading market man says that during and after the war the amount lost by bills which had run some mouths was enormous. Now nearly everybody paye cash or settles within the mouth. The working class is certainly much better off, as a man free from debt is in a more independent position and knows what he can save and put at interest in the savings bank or invest in a home. It is very notice able that real cetate coming within the workingman's means in of very rundy sate."

Why Clothing? Because if you have not yet secured your summer suit you need to now. If you are inclined to procrastinate the summer heat may compel you to. The hot, hot sun is our ally in pushing trade.

We are not strangers to the clothing buyers and clothing wearers of Victoria and Lindsay by any means. We have lived right here among you for the last Twenty-five years, and during that time we have enjoyed uninterupted success as manufactures of clothing.

As to the quality of our garments, we exercise the same careful supervision over the construction of our low-price clothing as we do to the finest. Of course the difference in cost is made by the finer quality of the fabric and trimmings and the elaborate workmanship the higher grades require, but you will find the lowest-price garment of ours an honest garment that bears our stamp of approval and guarantee, and no house can say more.

If we are to interest you in this department at all this season, we must do it now. But how? If perfect work; a superb stock of piece-goods, and the very lowest cash prices won't command your attention, what will? Surely nothing that we can say. Therefore we'll let our work, our assortment and our prices do the talking; we only ask that you come within hearing distance. Comparison will show that in style, fit and finish the garments turned out of our Custom Department are far above the average of those offered elsewhere. It will also show that no larger, better or more complete stock of piece goods is to be found

As to prices, we must make a profit to keep store and live, but you will find our prices based on the smallest margin of profit to ourselves, and our maxim is, to first obtain your patronage, and then by fair dealing to justify you in the continuance of your confidence. Try us and you will remain our friends.

Why shouldn't this be your best place to buy? We get the things in such lots price. No dealer anywhere can get the stuff on better terms than we-few on so Exactly five months since our new firm got under way, and we report having done a trade far exceeding in extent our best expectations. In our DRESS GOODS and PRINT department our sales have been simply enormous and the TAILORING has been a steady boom from the word "go." For this success we thank the public, but at the same time we flatter ourselves that if we had not furnished our patrons with the correct goods at right prices the result would have been different. There remains now a few weeks of what sught to be lively times, and during this interval we will direct our energies to putting the "Cap Stone" on the Spring and Summer Trade. We have still a very complete assortment of all the lines, and some specialties we will be glad to clear out very low. Although quite an advance has taken place in COTTONS we still offer all our White and Grey Cottons, Check Ginghams, &c., &c., as low as ever.
