EXPENDITURES. retary-treasurer's salary 191 ....... Proposed Six Master Collegiate Institute. RECEIPTS. Government and county grants .....

EXPENDITURES. Teachers' salaries for six teachers.... 8' per cent. interest on 320,000..... 1,600 00

The estimate of Mr. Duffus, architect, showed that about $16,500 would be required for the building, without heating or furnishing. These items would cost about $2,500, including a gymnasium to be creeted. The government and county grants we are likely to obtain for a six-master collegiate institute were such grants as are being obtained by the St. Thomas institute and would be fully equalled by the Lind-co-operation of that body. If advisable a public meeting could be called and the scheme laid before the ratepayers. No doubt a by-law to raise the money would have to be submitted to the ratepayers.

A SCHOOL SANITARY INSPECTOR. Mr. Donson introduced a resolution to the effect that John Moscrove neappointed sanitary inspector for the board to look after premises and see that these are kept in proper order.

Some discussion ensued on the advisability of such an appointment, ending by the resolution being altered to provide the Caretaker Mosgrove should look after such matters until the end of vacation.

CTTLE BUYING.—This point has become noted for the quantity of cattle, sheep and pigs that have been already shipped from here this season. An average of about one carload per week has been done since the 15th May.

WRIGH SCALES.—Several agents have been here looking to the erection of weigh scales. Buyers have informed us that should they be erected this would be the main point on the M. R. R. line in this section for shipping. A success for them is a NEW ROAD.-The contract to open the road direct north from the village to the 4th con. was let last week to a Mr. Jones of Sunderland for $65. This will be a great convenience for the people of Pinedale and that vicinity thus enabling them to save to trains, hauling grain, etc.

THE NEW STORE.—Mr. Shannon informs us that his business is daily increasing and thinks with honest dealing, together with all the market affords for produce, he will be able to work up a splendid business.

There is always to be found a full assortment of goods, just such as the farmer wants. Mr. Shannon shows his enterprise by having a handsome flag and liberty pole erected on his store.

ROAD WORK .- Mr. Ruddy, our popular roadinaster, has done some excellent work this sesson and made some valuable improvements.

PERSONAL.-Mrs. O'Brien of Lindsay is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Hannah....Mr. W. Johnston is on an extended trip to the far west, Chicago and and Duluth being his principal objective points....Miss Richardson of Oshawa is visiting at Mrs. Jas. Ruddy's.

THE JUNCTION.—We are informed on outer good subbotity that should the pro-making quicker time.

GRAIN. - Prospects look forward to good prices this season as some private parties are negotiating for the south grain ware-house. If this proves correct (as we have no doubt of the truthfulness of the report) we will have real opposition and the farmers will then get what their grain is worth.

BLACKSMITHING.—We are surprised that some good blacksmith does not take up his residence here, as dozens of farmers would patronize him and he would have at once

Plews has sold a valuable team of horses, bringing him in the neighborhood of $400. This span was the admiration of the whole place. Mr. D. Davis of Woodville got them.....Mr. Wm. Day has sold his horse and purchased a spanking fine mare. Mr. D. is a progres-

How to Save Work.—This is the aim of all who have brains enough to know how many beans make five. And we hasten to congratulate Mr. Wm. Plews upon the recent purchase of a cord-binder of the Toronto make. It will be well placed upon his excellent farm.

NEW BUILDING.—The material is coming

OUR JUBILEE PICNIC .- The day from early morning was superlatively magnifi-cent. Every breeze that rustled the gor-geous natural dressings of greenest of green trees in our park lent gladness to the smil-ing faces who came from near and far to enjoy themselves with us. Conveyances loaded down with human freight and rich smelling provisions came rolling in from all directions till the park looked like a thoroughfare and smelled like a pantry Dinner being served at the usual hour all partook, and rightly gladly at that. The next thing to music to charm and subdue the wild beast with is a good all-round dinner, and surely upon this occasion the bill was filled to a letter. Then came the addresses. Among those on the platform were the Rev. Mr. Wilson of Woodville, Rev. Mr. Gilchrist of Sebright, Rev. J. W. Saunders of Dalrympie. The last named gentleman took the chair and filled it well and happily. The addresses were eloquent and entertaining, and were interspersed with nusic and singing. All other amusements were up to time. Tea being served at 16 o'clock, farewells were said, and the comforts of good homes loomed up in the distance enchantingly, and the people well satisfied with their day succumbed to Success was ours and happy are we. Alexander Macaulay of Rama was convicted last November, of seeling liquor to Indians, and sent to gaot. He was released on the order of Chief Justice Wilson, who held that the sale had been made by Mrs. Macaulay, her husband could not be imprisoned for the offence, but made an order protecting the convicting agent. The case was carried to the next court, before Mar. was carried to the next court, before Mr. Justice Armour, in the hope of gatting an action against Mr. McPhee, the Indian agent who made the conviction. Justice Armour went further, and protected the constable as well. The next appeal was to the full bench, who sustained both the former degistons, and ordered Macaulay to pag all costs. The effect of this may be to render some people law audations in defying the law forbidding the sale of liquor to Indians.—Oribis Parket.
