PORT HOPE. SUCCESSEUL CANADIANS .- Mr. Clarence

W. Ashford, the attorney-general of the new Hawaiian government, is the youngest son of Mr. James Ashford, formerly of the township of Hope. Mr. Ashford was for several years a correspondent of the fuide at Honoiulu, and his letters were read with great interest. He has for several years past been one of the leading law-fers of Honoiulu, and was the real leader of the movement that led to the overthrow of King Kalakaua's corrupt ministry. His brother, Volney V. Ashford, has been appointed commander-in-chief of the forces by the new government.—[Guide.

PORT PERRY. A DISTINGUISHED HONOR.-Mr. A. M. McV chen, B.A., of Toronto university, 1881, was awarded a fellowship in German at the late commencement in Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. A fellowship entitles to 8500 per annum for two years and exemption from college fees.

BURGLARY. - About half-past eleven on Monday night last Mr. John Doubt's shee shop was entered through the back window by a couple of burgiars, who helped them-selves to four whole pieces of leather, three calf and one kip. On making their exit Mr. Taylor overheard the noise from his bakeshop, and in calling out to learn what was the matter he frightened the two gents so that they dropped the leather and skipped. Mr. Doubt says he has a pretty good idea who they are and intends to lay for them. It is to be hoped they may be cantured.

BASE BALL UNDER DIFFICULTIES. few days ago bills were distributed proclaiming a base bail match between Janetville and Port Perry on July 13th at Cartwright. In compliance with this the Port Perry team went, and after waiting ustil three o'clock found only two Janetville players on the ground. The Port Perry boys were then asked to play a made up team, and upon their consenting to do so immediately a team stranged on the ground. feam. and upon their consenting to do so immediately a teamstepped on the grounds composed of two from Lanetville, two from Yelverton, four from Eaniskillen and one from Bowmanville, being the selected players from each of these clubs. The match resulted in a score of selected team 10, Port Perry 9. The umpire, Mr. Nelson, acted fairly, and the Port Perry boys were treated handsomely by host Swain, who did everything for their comfort; but to have a team come from a distance, stay till a team come from a distance, stay till three o'clock, then to be euchred out of team and prize money the boys think is a huge farce.—[Standard.

[Correspondence of The Post.] CANOE PARADE .-- On Friday night last the canoe club held a moonlight parade. The procession started from the boat house shout 8.30 p.m. and went down to Pigeon lake, where they manceuvred about for a while and then returned. The cances were illuminated with chinese lanterns and the aight of the long procession was beautiful. There were twenty-six cances in it. The brass bind were out and helped to enliven the examing.

Oponiferous.—One of our butchers has a slaughter house down the river and it has a very strong smell. A little attention on the part of the board of health would greatly improve things.

Church Notes.—On Sunday Ray. Mr. Craigle gave an address to the O. Y. B.'s in Knox church....The Bishop of Peterboro was here Saturday and Sunday. After mass Sunday he went up to Cooke's grave yard and consecrated it. A large number yard and consecrated it. A large number of his flock excerted him. He then went

ORANGE SERVICE.—The members of L. O.L. 1,061, Minden, attended St. Paul's church for divine service on Sunday, 10th inst., on which occasion the Rev. J. G. Dean, a member of the lodge, preached a very eloquent and appropriate sermon. The church, was crowded so that a large number had to go away being unable to find seste. The Orangemen almost filled one side of the church. The services were most heartly rendered and the choir was strongly supported by the congregation. The national authem was sung at the commencement of the service and it seems as though every one present joined in its hearty rendition. The lodge turned out in full regalis and carried their magnificent new flag with them, which hung unfurled in the church during the service. The lessons were read by Mr. J. H. Delamere, the county master, who is also chapisin of the lodge.

Hymeneal.—On Tuesday, July 5th, Miss Emms 1., Sailes, daughter of Mr. John Sailes of this place, and Rev. Mr. McMullen were duly united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony took place in the Methodist church, and was performed by the Rev. Mr. Pearson of Lindsay, assisted by Rev. Mr. Carpenter. After the nuptial knot was securely fastened a large number of invited guests repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where ample justice was done to the good things provided. Mrs. McMullen was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents. The happy couple took the evening train for Toronto, intending to visit Niagara and other places before returning. All heartly join in wishing them a long and joyous life.

FESTIVAL. — A respherry festival was given in aid of the Christian church of this place in Mr. Whiteside's grove, on Monday afternoon, and a lecture was given in the evening by Elder Garbet. A large number satisfied the wants of the inner man with raspberries and cream, after which they repaired to the church where the elder gave them an excellent lecture, his subject being "Faces."

PETERBURO.

RILLED ON THE TRACK.—Last Wednesday morning when the express on the Grand Trunk was a short distance east of Frezerville a fatal accident occurred. A deaf and dumb man named McCavrol was waiking along the track on the other side of a sharp curve. As soon as the driver caught sight of him he made every endeavor to stop the train, but it was too late. The man was hit and soon afterward expired. He was taken to Frezerville, where his people reside.

The man was hit and soon afterward expired. He was taken to Frazerville, where his people reside.

Mangled Beyond Recognition.—On the night of the 12th July, a man named John Quincey, a laborer of Belleville, was beheaded on the railway track on the Grand Junction railway while returning home from Peterboro. He got off the train at Hayden's Corners to call on a relative named James Beckett, who lives near that place. Mrs. Beckett saw a man enter the gate and call "Jim" several times, but Mr. Beckett was not at home and his wife did not recognize the voice. The man then went down to the track, and the second excurajon train passing a few minutes afterwards must have run over him. In the grass and sand about the cattle guard were the prints of a man's feet. The marks indicated that he had been standing on the one spot. At the east end the first blood marks were found on the outside of the morth rail. A crimeou trail marked the ground along the track for about 30 feet. At the end of the trail was the man's head, clean cut from the bedy. Evidently the pilot wheel had struck the man at the back of the head and out away part of the lower jaw. It had rolled along the track until its momentum was spent, mutilated beyond recognition. The body, as etsted, was between the railways, a mangled mase of flesh and bones. The legs were broken near the sucles, the fact hanging by the sizews. The arms were cut at the wrist-is the same masser. The body was 40 feet down the track-from where the first blood marks were found.

so it is straight for the false. The shield held in the right hand is clearly defined all second its channiference in the senuine; in the counterfeit only about one third of the dreumfegues is visible, and this is marked by a white line. This white line and the fastenings of the sandal, which in the false bille are quite dark, though invisible on the germine, constitute, with the absence of the date, the most marked differences. The plate is marked with the letter D.—{Examiner.

COBOURG.

DROWNED NEAR PORTLAND.—Subjoined see particulars of the distressing drowning of Mr. Wm. Hargraft and his daughter, Miss Maggie, at Scarboro Beach, near Portland: On Friday, July 8th, about half-past ten o'clock in the morning, Mr. Wm. Hargraft, his daughter, Miss Maggie Hargraft, and Miss Benson, (neice of Judge Benson and daughter of a former customs house officerat Cobourg, left the Kirkwood house at Scarboro Beach, Me., where they were staying, and went down to the seashore to indulge in surf-bathing. After going into the water, Mr. Hargraft, who was a good swimmer, separated from the young ladies and swam some distance out from the shore. Presently Miss Benson decided that she would go ashore. She did so and was accompanied part of the way by Miss Hargraft, who said she would not go in just then, preferring to wait for her father. A few minutes after Miss Benson had reached terra firma, she was startled to see Miss Hargraft floating helpless on her back in the water near where she had just left her. Recognizing that her friend was in dire distress she shouted to Mr. Hargraft, but roar of the surf drowned her voice, and he did not hear her—and could could not see her, because his back was turned towards her. Then she ran to the hotel for assistance, which was quickly at hand, but, sad to relate, when the shore was again reached, Mr. and Miss Hargraft had both disappeared. How they had perished in a few minutes it is impossible to conjecture. About an hour afterwards Miss Maggie's lifeless body was washed up on the beach; but although a vigorons search was made for Mr. Hargraft, it was DROWNED NEAR PORTLAND. - Subjoined PERSONALS.—Elder Proceer, formerly of this place, has been a guest of Elder Pilkey for the past few days. ... Mr. W. T. Yeo and Miss Lydia Broad, teachers, are home spending their holidays. ... Mrs. J. Allin of Bowmanville is spending a few days with friends sud relatives here ... Mr. S. Metherell has been very ill for the past two weeks and, we are sorry to say, is still confined to his room. We hope to see Mr. Metherell able to attend to his business in a few days. his corpse was found two miles from the place where he was last seen in this life. The bodies were immediately embalmed and placed in cloth-covered caskets. They were brought to Cobourg for interment. The funeral was a very large one.....Mr. Hargraft was a native of Tipperary, Ireland, where he was born in 1820. His family emigrated to this country in 1833 and settled in Cobourg, where the deceased was educated. After leaving school he went into the grain and commission business. For fourteen years he was a member of the town council and was afterwards elected mayor. In 1875 he was elected to represent West Northumberland in the local legislature, defeating Captain (Hifford (conservative) by a majority of 123. At the At the end of his parliamentary term in 1879, he retired from political life that he might give more attention to his business. He leaves a widow and five sons and two daughters. Miss Maggie Hargraft, who died with her father, was his youngest daughter, aged 19. Mr. Hargraft was an exceedingly popular and highly respected gentleman.

A VILLAIN FOILED.—While two young girls, aged respectively about 11 and 14 years, were picking berries on the boundary line at the head of Colboruset, rather late last Wednesday evening, a man jumped over the fence and seized the elder of the two by the throat. The other immediately ran towards the village for help, and had not gone far when she met Mr. W. H. Stevenson, who hurried towards the spot, and at sight of him the villain fied. He was seen by several persons, but too far off to be recognized by any who might have known him, and it is much to be repretted that there is no clue to his identity.

The "Coboconk" Burned.—On Tuesday movning of last week a fire broke out, from some unknown cause, is the fore part of the steamer Cebeconk, while she was lying below the Recedale locks; and, as the want of help and appliances render it impossible to save her, she was pushed from the shore so as not to endanger the locks and soon burned to the water's edge. The Cebeconk was built in 1876, and, after changing owners a couple of times, was bought cheep about three years ago by Mr. Joseph McArthur, who had her overlayled and reputed to Gi. 500 in the Commercial Union and Northern companies.
