

NOT A DAY PASSES

without repeated expressions of surprise at the extent, variety and beautiful assortment of goods now offered by us.

We are getting in our New Fall Stock. If you have finished buying summer things you will presently be ready to purchase fall and winter goods.

We mean to meet the wants of all classes of people who are disposed to get a decent article, whether at a loss or a moderate price, rather than throw away their money by paying the same, or more—for a poorer thing.

Attractive as our stock has been hitherto at all times, we are prepared for the coming season with a larger and more complete stock than even before to meet the wants of a largely increasing trade.

From the frantic appeals that are sometimes made to the public one might be led to suppose that some stocks were mainly selected at hap-hazard and without any ultimate idea of a probable market at a profit. It can be justly said, we believe that no house in this town of its extent takes in or puts out less undesirable stock than ours. We aim to buy only what will sell and give complete satisfaction. No mere appearance of cheapness without its substance will do for us or our trade. We sell good stuff of every kind, from the lowest to the highest price. Our low priced qualities we know, as a rule are better than are sold elsewhere. Our better and higher cost grades are found, as exceptions, if at all, in other houses, and then usually at higher prices.

THE REALITY EXCEEDS HER IMAGINATION.

"I declare, the realities I witnessed to day, in the low prices of all kinds of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods at the City Store, knocked the bargains I had pictured in my imagination higher than Gilroy's kite. It is truly wonderful. Formerly I could not understand why it was that the Lindsay Dry Goods and Clothing Syndicate created such a furor all through the country, but after this day's experience my understanding is considerably enlarged."

After the remarks of an elderly lady on her arrival home, after having driven over thirty miles to make her semi-annual purchases of Dry Goods and Clothing at the City Store, and a goodly parcel she purchased to. What is more the old lady struck the nail square on the head. Unless she had been a visitor from the spirit world she could not have foreseen the unparagoned bargains awaiting her and all the other customers. With our new stock now nearly complete we are determined, as far as possible, that the reality of our low prices will far exceed your imagination. Act suddenly on the above suggestion and you will reap such a return for your dollars and cents as will cause you to laugh without being tickled.
