

Campbell's Compound.

NO MORE PILLS!
NURSES LIKE IT!
CHILDREN LIKE IT!
SUITABLE TO INFANTS
72 CURES
LIVER COMPLAINT,
BILIOUS DISORDERS,
AND STOMACH, DIARRHEA,
LOSS OF APPETITE,
SICK HEADACHE,
CONSTITUTION DISEASES,
PRICE, 25c. PER BOTTLE.

A. Higinbotham.*FRENCH*HAIR REMOVER,

For Instantly and Effectively
REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS,
Without Injury to the Skin.

Prepared by the Imperial Medicine Co., Rue
Quatre, Paris, France.

PRICE $1.00

Full Directions in each package. Mailed to any part of the world.

A. HIGINBOTHAM,

Drapier, Agent, Lindsay, Ont.

Lindsay, June 8, 1887.—18.

The Canadian Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCT. 7, 1887.

FALL SHOWS.*NORTH VICTORIA AT VICTORIA ROAD.*A Splendid Exhibition.

Gross Improvement in all classes of Stock.

The North Riding fall show at Victoria Road on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week was a successful and creditable affair, and the farmers are to be congratulated on the steady progress they are yearly making in the march of stock improvement. The exhibition was exceedingly well managed by the energetic president, Mr. Wood, and the obliging secretary, Mr. W. A. Cavans, and the directors took an active interest in helping on the arduous work.

The attendance was to an extent lessened by the numerous bush fires threatening people at home to protect their property; and as an instance we may state that the worthy reeve of Bexley was on hand and giving his valuable assistance while a big fire was raging in one of Mr. Ladlow's fields not far from his home.

The next day their preparations to the fair, and the arrival of the rain has complicated it and others by this time. The smoke invaded everywhere, narrowing the horizon to half an acre. It was impossible to see any distance; and the effects of the heavy atmosphere were decidedly unpleasant.

The inside display, while very good, was held up by the lack of room. The various articles manufactured by the ladies for home decoration and comfort, ranging from tidy to log cabin quilt, were creditable examples of skill and taste, but were not shown in sufficient number. There should be keener competition. Some good crayon drawings by the young people, with some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north riding is famous for good butter.

Mr. Head, wife of the reeve of Bexley, was again the first prize winner. Red tickets were issued by Mr. Head, Mr. W. J. Green, Sheriff, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Jas. McKay. There was a fine display of bread; and a tempting array of preserves, honey and such articles, in grain some fine samples were shown.

The roots this year, owing, of course, to the drought, were not up to the usual north riding mark, which is a high one.

Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay exhibited one of his fine covered platoons, the ease and luxury of which was appreciated by Dr. Wood of Victoria Road, who became the purchaser. Mr. J. W. Poilett of Balselor exhibited a fine covered buggy. There was a good display of implements, mostly from Woodstock, and some fine specimens of penmanship and creditable oil paintings.

The dairy department was, as usual, first-class.

The north