Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them n my practice."

-A St. Petersburg despatch says: It is semi-officially sunounced that Russia keyaformed the powers that the mov

Russian diplomate seriously expect some action on the part of Germany, Austria and Raly to induce Prince Ferdinand to withdraw from Bulgaris. Military circles in Berlin are anxioustalearn whether the long furioughe ordinarily granted by Russia on January 13th to her army officers who are longest in the service will be given next month. Letters from Moscow state that a number of officers have already been warned not to arrange for leave of absence. The Berlin Post, discussing the military preparations, says that no onlocker can deny that Russia's preparaderance in cavalry strength on the Galician frontier would enable to delician most effectively, and derange the Austrian mobilization, infileting incalculable moral material damage. The measure which Austrian about have taken Austrian mobilization, inflicting incalculable moral material damage. The measures which Austria should have taken long ago would to day be insufficient, and would only increase the existing tension without restoring the equilibrium. The demand for timber is increasing in both Germany and Austria, and prices are rapidly rising. In the recent military councils at Vienna, Herr Von Tiem, the Hungarian premier, urged that the financial resources of the monarchy be husbanded as far as possible, and that expenditures be made only in cases of absolute necessity.

-The well-informed Loudon corresp ent of the New York Times cables Saturday night: - Even if there were not this person al reason for solemnity (the crown prince's over their Christmas cakes. The feeling is very general in all circles that the catastrophe of a war is near at hand. I say the feeling, rather than the conviction, for it is easy enough to convince the mind that there is no genuine danger, but the merves there is no genuine danger, but the nerves remain in a state of savieur tensions all the same. It may not have reached you that last Monday night, when the Red Hussers of the Guard had a Christmas tree in the siding school at Berlin, Prince William made a speech which is full of foreboding for the near fully save A private letter falls. for the near future. A private letter telle me that even more significant were the responses of the bussers, who openly interpreted his words as meaning that they would soon be called on to fight for the fatherland, and wildly cheered every allu-sion of the sort. In Vienna there appears to reign a complete state of funk. The correspondents agree that even the holiday business is paralyzed. Nobody is talking of anything but the war preparations and the rumours from the Russian frontier. The tenor of to-day's news is of distinctly evil import. All the commanders of the evil import. All the commanders of the military districts along the entire western frontier of Russia have been summoned to Gatechina to hold a council with the czar. All the officers and men of the various Prussian corps stretched slong the German border have had their Christmas furloughe cut short. Members of the Austrian reserve who are in other countries have orders to hold themseives ready to return and join their colors by Jan. 1. Here in London the German minister, Hatzfeldt, had a long conference at the foreign office with Lord Salisbury yesterday, after which he left for Germany. Three days ago he expected to spend Christmas in London and had accepted an invitation. All these are straws showing the evident direction of the wind, but it does not necessarily follow that it will blow up a storm. For the past ten years it has been a truism that Russis's internal condition was more likely to dictate a line of foreign policy to the crawthan any external complication. It is this fact which lends deep interest to the stories of a student revolt in St. Petersburg. The a student revolt in St. Petersburg. The reports are vague and extremely c stradictory, but there is no doubt about the recter of the university having been struck or of the calling out of the Cossacks and other troops and the subsequent long procession of sleds through the streets bearing scores of prisoners to jail. Russian papers have been forbidden to say a word about the been forbidden to say a word about the thing, and it will be some time before the truth filters out. In the meantime a trial with closed doors is proceeding at St. Peteraburg of eight nihilists, five men and three women, charged with an attempt on the czar's life during his recent journey to the Don Cossack country with the czare-vich. The leader is a Jew named Boris Orshis, but the chief interest attaches to the young Vitali Tchernoff, who is as officer in the Cossacks and a son of one of the great Cossack nobles. Boxes of dynamits were found concealed in hay on his father's estate. He was arrested, and in a panic he gave evidence implicating three of his cousins and hading to the elecovery of a nibilist printing office, where three young women were working. Vitall bit-teriy repented his treachery after it was too late, and he now takes his place with the others. It is expected that all the men-will be hanged. Vitali's cousins were all in government employ or in the army, and there are reports that their trial will lead to extraordinary developments of a con-miracy in both branches of the service. This may account for a good deal of the

Sam Small, Erangelist!" The prevential philosophy of "Old Si," is reservable phartation during, who gave the world through the medium of Small's pen maxims of worldly wisdom, clothed in a verbiage of irresistible humor · s found a permanent place in humos Great surprise was shown when it was suced that he, having been converted or the minutrations of "Sam Jones,

At first thought, a humorist in the palpit seems incongruous. Is it really so? No doubt the mere buffoon attempt to turn men's hearts to selemn truths vould meet with only contempt. But truth is not hidden in gloom. Genuine mor frequently illustrates and fasten in the mind bits of wisdom that would otherwise pass unheeded.

In his eulony of Henry Werd Beecher, Rev. Dr. Parker says: "Whenever he came among men he brought June sunshine and music, and made even desponding and surly men feel that a fuller and warmer eummer, the Kingdom of Heavex, itself was 'at hand." That is genial christianity.

Mr. Small belongs to a witty family. He has a brother connected with Armog Knox's and "Fat Contributor's" Texas Siftings, a paper which has had phonom-enal success in the field of humorous liter-sture. Mr. Frank A. Small is the present representative of that popular paper England, and, like his distinguished brot er, he takes a deep interest in the welfa of other people.

Under date of 48 Porten Road, Kensington W. London, England. Sept. 27th, 1867, he writes: "While at Yalding in Kent, yesterday, I met Prof. S. Williams, Head Master of the Cleaves E. dawed School. In

New York Dress, and a very popular woman in the fashionable world, says in her own magazine for October: "Warne safe cure is the only medicine I ever ta new energy and vitality to all my powers."
This distinguished woman also says that for ladies this great remedy is "peculiarly or recommend. In every instance it gives effective."

Sam Small is likely to succeed as a moral teacher. When we remember how near together in human nature lie the fountains of laughter and of tears, the deep effect his discourses must have on the masses can easily be imagined.

"Why did God make so much outdoors?" exclaimed a little girl. We know not. He has made it and we should grow in it, broad, charitable and genial, judging everything by merit, not by prejudice.
