gentleman who has lived in the northern country for the past sixteen years says that a better winter for the lumbermen and woodsmen generally he has never seen, There was just about the right quantity of snow to make roads good; ice was up to the average and no time has been lost by long thaws. The timber has been got out of the bush in marvellously quick time. There is a great deal more significance in these facts than most people have any idea. [Correspondence of The Post.] SPRING AT LAST.-We are having just splendid weather at present. Graham was chosen chairman for the evening. He was at once called to the platform, where he gave a short and pleasing address expressing the pleasure he felt in meeting so many of his acquaintances, and hoped that all would enjoy themselves throughout the evening. The program prepared for the occasion was select and well rendered. The boys and girls performed their duties admirably and gave marked signs of ability and talent. Several dialogues were rendered which caused much laughter. The recitations by Musees Kearns, Holmes, Greaves and Pollock were given in a charming manner and were appreciated highly. Mr. J. B. Powles gave a recitation entitled "The Irish Philosopher." It was very interesting, as friend Powles acted the Irishman to perfection. Mr. A. Stone gave one of his comic songs in his usual happy style. The dialogue entitled "The scene in a railway station" brought forth peals of laughter. The dialogue entitled "The Bobtown scheol" is worthy of mention. The instrumentals by Mesers. Rickaby and Stone of Glenarm require no comment. Their reputation in this line has leng been established. The choir, assisted by Master Will Rickaby as organist, rendered several excellent please during the evening, concluding with a most appropriate selection, entitled "God be with you till we meet again." The gathering broke up about twelve c'clock. We understand that the handsome sum of $27 was realized from the entertainment. AN ARSCONDING DEBTOR.—William McCutcheon, a farmer near Cannington, decided to move. He borrowed money, got into debt, collected money, and boarded the train last Thursday, accompanied by his family, for Toronto, his furniture, it is said, having been sent over to be shipped from Manilla. A number of Cannington gentlemen who felt interested in Mr. McC, to the extent of different sums also got on the train with the constable, and hoped to atop the flying bird; but he was the wrong kind of a bird to be easily stopped. They had wired to Magistrate Card, who met them at Uxbridge station. He advised them to come up town and make out a proper information, in the meantime sending the constable on the train with instructions to keep out of McC's sight. Up town they went, the document was made out, the telegraph line called into operation, a message forwarded to the Toronto police, and the gentleman who had decided a few days previous to move was arrested before he reached the city and arrived in Uxbridge next day, where arrangements were all ready for trying the case. But a free man feels better than one in the clutches of the ONTARIO COUNTY. THE SPRING ASSIZES.—The spring assizes opened at Whithy on Monday, Mr. Justice Armour presiding. The grand jury were in session all day hearing the evidence against both the quartette from Port Perry and the two detectives, adjourning at six without having concluded the ing at six without having concluded the examination of witnesses. The grand jury will resume their session at ten Wednesday morning. In court Tuesday the Pherrill case was settled by the parties to the suit coming to an agreement, allowing the will and deeds to stand, the two defendants giving mortgages as follows: — Elizabeth Tabor, $5,000; Sarah Ann Pherrill, $9,000; making $14,000. The proceeds will be divided as follows: —$4 000 to Mrs. Henderson; $4,000 to the plaintiff; $4,000 to the widow, Mrs. William Pherril; $2,000 to the widow, Mrs. William Pherril; $2,000 to Edward; $1,000 to William or Theophilus Pherrill. FIZZLED OUT.—In the assize court on Wednesday all the Myrtle shooting cases fizzled out. It appears from talk around the court and other places that those who favored the Scott act took ground against those opposed to it in all the cases, and that there was not the least hope of agreeing upon any kind of a bill, until it was suggested to compromise matters by throwing it all out, which was done. The court looked somewhat surprised at the

Some Screws Loose Somewhere.—The fact that the grand jury let everybody off in the Myrtle shooting scrape shows that with jurors prejudice is stronger than evidence, and affords another strong argument to show that grand juries are of no further service in our system of administering criminal law. Nor can much be said in defence of a system which enables a petit jury to bring a man guilty of common assault who comes within an inch or two of shooting a man's brains out at midnight. From its working a stranger to the intentions of our trial by jury system might suppose it was an organized plan for letting men off who have committed crimes. In passing these remarks about juries we would not have people think we are in favor of sending every man down who is charged with a selection.
