REMINISCENCE OF THE LATE HON. THOS A. H. WHITE .- We were sorry to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of the late Hon. Thomas White, minister of the interior. The fact of his death brought to my remembrance his visit to our village interior. The fact of his death brought to my remembrance his visit to our village about thirty-eight years ago, when he along with some others came from Peterbero here for the purpose of opening a division of the sons of temperance. He was then about twenty years of age and of a boyish apprarance. Previous to the night arranged for the formation of the order notice was given "that a public meeting would be held in the achool house and a lecture delivered explaining the object of the sons of temperance." I was surprised to see the boy Thomes White arise and take the platform and to hear from him one of the best lectures on organization and total abstinance that I ever heard. His appearance then seemed to foretell the future of the boy. In youth he was a diligent student, kind and agreeable and willing to assist those in need of his help. When he became a politician his speeches were full of thought and without those bitter personalities often indulged in by politicians. His sudden death along with others in high paces is a warning not to be over anxious and to avoid night work. It also brings to mit d the words of Jesus, "Be ye as so ready, for in such an hour as ye think at the Son of Man cometh." We sympate. It with one who possessed such good qualities, and tender our sincere sympatics to the bereeved family. Laconics.—Our new M.D., Dr. McKinzon, has got at the down to work and is successful in his practice.... The weather has been very favorable for seeding... Farmers, be sure and call on J. Best at his agricultural and machine shop and get the best of farm implements... The salve! I marmy has taken the town and is "shelling the old forts."

[Correspondence of THE POST.]

JOTTINGS.—The roads are bad..... Spring backward and feed scarce... Mr. J. Mulvibill moved his waggen shop last week over on his farm for a barn..... Mr. Bull has erected a fine residence... Mesers. Powell, McDonald & Co. have their saw-mill running in full blast, and they have turned out a large quantity of lumber this winter. They intend remaining here for two or three years. Bring on your timber..... Rathburn is ready and willing to meet Uptergrove for the oysters. If they compete Uptergrove will be very apt to have to content themselves with the empty cans. We hope to hear from them soon. RATHBUN.

Laconics.—Farmers are very busy seeding.... Our streets presents a nice, clean, tidy appearance.... Our New York gardener, Mr. Johnson, is busy at his hot beds dener, Mr. Johnson, is busy at his hot beds and will supply the people with a large variety of vegetables.

At the close of the service he announced to the congregation that the Rev. Mr. McKinnon, their new pastor, would arrive about Friday, 4th of May, and would preach to them the following Sunday morning at the church at 11 o'clock; and in the afternoon at Gillander's school house at three o'clock. Let us all turn out as though we had life in our bones. Get off off the fences along the concessions, boys, and go to church; then perhaps the girls will cease to stay at home to watch you and go to church, too.

Practically Useful at Once. I obtained a copy of "Our Family Physician" and took it home to look over it. It is an excellent book and I found it practically useful at once. It so happened that one of my children had an attack of croup and we found the book very correct in diagnosing the trouble and also very full in prescribing the best ramedies for that treacherous malady.
