QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT. THE CASE OF MRS. GOWAN LOCK.

As Effective Speech by Mr. Barron, M.P. A Pension Granted. (From Hansard, April 26.)

Mr. Barron—I am exceedingly glad that this matter has been brought before the house by the hon. member for Lincoln, and I sincerely hope that his efforts in the direction of getting justice done to Mrs. Gowanlock will meet with a more favorable result than mine in the past. It will be in the recollection of this house that I brought up the case of Mrs. Gowanlock last session, and also a short time ago this session. I confess I have not been able yet to appreciate what I consider to be the invidious distinction drawn between the case of Mrs. Delaney and that of Mrs. Gowanlock.

Neither I nor my husband understood the Italian language, and so were not addressed by him, but he understood it. When we left Mrs. Delaney's house no one knew what was going to happen, and we were in danger. We all left Mrs. Delaney's house together. My husband and I went to the house of my friend, Mr. Huxley, and he and his wife were there. My husband and I were there for some time, and then we went to the house of my friend, Mr. Huxley, and he and his wife were there.

settlers in that locality; and he also read a letter showing that officers of the department treated Mr. Gowanlock as being at that time in the employ of the government. Therefore I think that not only from the standpoint of justice, but also from the fact, as I maintain, that the husband was in the employ of the government, Mrs. Gowanlock should be treated in the same way as Mrs. Delaney. But I find, on looking into the granting of pensions in the employ of the government, that the children of husbands who have been in the employ of the government, I find that on the 1st of July, 1885, Mrs. Sherwin was granted a pension of £100 on the ground of the literary merits of her sister, the late Mrs. Jameson. I find that Miss Leech was also granted a pension on account of the merits of her brother, the late Mr. John Leech, an artist; and several other sisters of his were also granted pensions on the same ground.

PROTECTION OF RAILWAY EMPLOYEES. The Fatal Frog—Danger of Overhauling.

The Fatal Frog—Danger of Overhauling. Speech of Mr. J. A. Barron, M.P. In the house of commons on the 12th ult.—Mr. Barron said—I have listened carefully to the remarks of the hon. member of South Norfolk (Mr. Tisdale) and I was a little disappointed to find that he made no reference to the fact of the Dominion of Canada conferring the railroads of Ontario. I think, sir, as the representative of an Ontario constituency he should have dwelt somewhat on that fact.

Mr. Tisdale—I would ask the hon. gentleman if he thinks that that is part of the discussion. If he does I can say a good deal about it, because I think the hon. gentleman fairly put the hon. member who preceded me. I said I proposed to discuss the matter in question without bringing anything into it which was not pertinent to the question before us. Mr. Barron—I will agree with my hon. friend, who also in his speech said that it is a pity the Dominion of Canada confers the railroads on the province of Ontario. Mr. Barron—I am coming to the question. Because by the way, it is not the case that the hon. member of the railways of Ontario of a law which gave them certain more protection than they have under any Dominion act. As far as my hon. friend's right says they have no protection at all under any Dominion act. I agree with my friend to my rights that it is a pity that the hon. gentleman who introduced this bill is not in the house to-night to promote it. I recollect last session a similar bill was introduced by the hon. gentleman who is now in the house. Why it was not introduced till late in the session cannot be understood, except for the fact that it was not introduced till late in the session. It does appear to me that by referring the bill now to a committee, such as is proposed, that the intention is to draw attention to the fact that the hon. gentleman who introduced this bill is not in the house to-night to promote it.

Witty Scintillations.

Mr. Barron—I am not speaking of cases; I am speaking of the law. The hon. gentleman has inquired the house to believe that we have no law to regulate the height of overhead bridges; and he is finding fault with this bill because he is finding fault with the bill. The general railway act provides that bridges must be so built as to be free from danger. Mr. Barron—I quite agree with the hon. gentleman that the general railway act does regulate overhead bridges, but unfortunately that act has been held not to apply to the Grand Trunk company as lessee of the Midland, for the reasons I have stated. This was a case where the Grand Trunk company was morally responsible for the loss of a man's life, it seemed that liability by reason of our legislation not being sufficient to meet the case.

ONTARIO TO THE FRONT. A Matter of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, whom you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been afflicted but are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength.

W. H. HALL, MANAGER.

St. CATERINES, Ont., Jan. 25th, 1887.—About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk across the street, and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even by using the best of the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and made of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles I was completely cured.

John Jones

GALT, Ont., Jan. 27, 1887.—For about five years prior to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver troubles, finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most excruciating pain, and for two weeks I did not get out of bed. My kidneys were very swollen, and I was unable to get up. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver. Hearing of the "Warner's Safe Cure," I began its use, and after taking two bottles I was cured. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely cured. My kidneys were normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

THE CITY CARRIAGE WORKS Still Keeps to the Front.

R. KYLIE, PROPRIETOR.

Let Me Go! This Horse was made by KYLIE.

The success that has attended our efforts since commencing business in Lindsay is evidently causing some of our friends in the business a little uneasiness. They feel jealous to think that we are leaving them away behind in the race, and they wonder to themselves how it is that, although three times as long in the business, they don't seem to get along—they have come to a standstill. But they take courage and advertise and ask the public to come back and deal with them and not be deceived by others. The shoe is pinching them and they commence to creak. But the people won't be deceived. Facts are stubborn things, and the fact that my business is increasing rapidly every year proves conclusively that my work takes the lead. The proprietors of Livery Stables should be, and are, first-class judges of Vehicles of every description, and I claim that I supply them with more work in one year than the croaker does in five, and that in our own town; and this one fact alone speaks volumes for my Establishment. Those men pay for their experience, and they know where they get the best value for their money.

The croaker tells us that they don't make any changes, nor don't intend to—they are running along in the old ruts and we will leave them there. I am constantly making changes—keeping ahead of the times—always having the very latest improvements and newest ideas, and will continue to make changes and improvements, and will keep none but the best mechanics come in here; and I will back up my painters, wood-workers and carriage-makers against anything the croaker can turn out of his establishment. However, it is not our wish in advertising or in our business dealing to interfere in any way with our neighbor in the trade, but if they insist upon meddling with our affairs we are prepared to meet them any way they want to.

My aim is to build up a reputation second to none in Canada, and I am happy to say that so far I have succeeded beyond my expectations. I have now in course of construction Vehicles of every description that cannot be excelled by any nor equalled by few in this part of Ontario; and I most respectfully invite intending purchasers to give me a call and satisfy themselves before purchasing.

I am also Agent for the celebrated O.B. & S. ROAD AND BREAKING CART—the best of its kind made.
