people formerly had, trying to swallow the eld-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bittergess; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear be-ing that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He 8ays: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with shem. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

Mr. Gilhooly, M.P., who was released last Thursday, his terms under the crimes act having expired, referring to the pope's rescript, said he did not believe the bishops and priests would ever deprive the tenants of the benefits of the plan of teamsign.

The protest against the tory policy of governing Ireland, which has been signed by 274 Protestant ministers of religion in West Yorkshire, has been published in the leading British papers. It includes the names of representative ministers in the Church of England, Methodists, Baptists, Free Church, Independents, Catholics, New Connection, Reformed Church of England, Society of Friends, Swedenborgian and Unitarian descriptions.

- A Berlin correspondent who witnessed the arrival there of Queen Victoria, writes: An American girl who stood in the throng An American girl who stood in the throng looked at the royal visitors a moment with an amazed expression and then said to her companione: "Well, dear me, is that the queen? What a frumplah little old person she is, to be sure." Her majesty was not a particularly impressive personage, to tell the truth. She looked wonderfully small, fat and commonplace. Lines have furrowed their way into her once placid face. Her cheeks are heavy and big. Fleshy rings hang under her eyes. She was dressed in black and did not look unlike any lady of 70 years who had been travelling all night. Her daughter, the Empress Victoria, esughbup with the cities queen, who was todding rapidly off, and the two eminent English persons walked on side by side. The spectacle of two emigresses together was so much for the populace to resist; and they broke into cheers. The recombiance between mother and daughter was remarkable.

—A Berlin cable of Wednesday says: It is doubtful whether the empress will be able to go to the Elbe provinces. The emperor's relapse has shattered the hopes that were entertained of a permanent improvement, but there is no cause for immediate unesalices.... This morning's bulletin eays the emperor passed a good night and that he feels better. His fever is alight.... The emperor was feveriah this evening. He walked in his study for some hours to-day. His appetite has again revived, and it is possible that he will be able to drive in the park soon.... During the last twenty-four hours several portions of tissue have come away from the emperor's throat. The fever was due to inflammation in the immediate vicinity of the wound through which the canula passes. The doctors are hopeful that the threatening symptoms have again passed off. They have ordered that a tent be erected in the park for the emperor's use in fine weather.

—A London cable says: The situation in east growe more ominous every day. Though the peace is not officially broken between Russia and Austria many agencies are at work which seems to be preparations for a coming estastrophe. Everywhere systematic, albeit as yet apparently desultory, attempts are going on to create disturbance in all the Balkan countries, as well in Roumania. There is a strangs activity of Russian agents among leading men of the Servian Skuptachina. The endeavour is to ply the latter in favor of a secret convention, which would settle things to the advantage of Russia if hostilities should break out. For this purpose the army is being worked upon. The situation is aptly compared to the Gordian knot. One end of which is in London and the other in St. Petersburg. The battle between civilization and barbariam must eventually be fought out, and the only question now at all difficult of solution is the precise limits of the battle-ground..... The Russian military chiefs who recently assembled in St. Petersburg, declared that Russia would not be in a position for a long time to strack a European power. Even her defensive forces, they said, were too weak, owing to lack of railways. It was decided to construct three lines toward the Austria frontier at a cost of 13,000,000 roubles.

The counterfeit $5 notes on the bank of British North America, for passing which, in Kingston last week, Vance of Owen Sound and a young man hailing from Hamilton, were arrested in Toronto, prove to be a coarse imitation of the genuine. Apart from the scratchy and coarse engraving of the human figures, points of difference easily found out are: the date of the bogus notes is 5th July, 1887, while the true ones are dated July 1st and July 3rd. Again, the left hand lower of Britannia's shield is white in the counterfeit and shaded in the genuine. The signature of the accountant on the genuine notes is written and in the imitation it is engraved. There is a marked difference, too, in the paper, that of the bogus notes being very coarse. Nearly, it not all these counterfeits have been recovered, we are told, half in Kingston and half in Toronto, say $500 in all. -The counterfeit $5 notes on the bank of OBITUARY.—Death has removed from our to get a decent home for the poor and do away with these shantles of corruptition and fifthy varmin.—[Markham Eddomist. Obituary.—Death has removed from our midst another of the pioneers of this county, in the person of Mr. Thomas J. Eck, an old and highly. esteemed resident of Oshawa, who died at the residence of his son-in-law, Dr. Lundy, Preston, on Tuesday last, in his 84th. The decased originally came from the State of Pennsylanis, and in his younger days followed the milling business. About the time of the rebellion, in 1837, he moved to the township of Mariposs, near Little Britain, where he purchased and worked a farm. About the year 1850 he purchased fifty acres of land on Simcoe-st. north just outside the corporation of Oshawa, where he lived a short time, and then moved to Oshawa, where he resided until about a year ago; when he went to live with Dr. Lundy. He always took a deep interest in municipal affairs, and in 1862 and 1863 was elected councillor, while in 1865 he was deputy-reeve. During his connection with the Oshawa council he took an active part in improving the streets, and together with the late D. F. Burke, who was reeve in 1869, planted a large number of trees, which are decorating the town to-day. Mr. Eck was a consistent member of the Methodist church, a liberal in politics, a kind neighbor, and a good citizen.—[Oshawa Reformer.

An old settler says if farmers had planted one tree during the past thirty years where they cut down a dozen fall wheat would be growing to day where there has been none for many years. No doubt the early settlers made a mistake in that direction—but they did not consider the value of fered for sale one of its laudable decriptions was that so many acres of it were cleared; while now the very reverse would be the case in its praise, at least along the front.—[Oshawa Reformer.

SCOTT ACT CASES AT BROOKLIN.—The following Scott act convictions were accurated by Inspector Ferguson before Magistrate Horne at Brooklin last Thursday; R. Stewart, Pickerins; James Gordon's bartender, $50; W. H. Park, Prince Albert, $50; Christopher Hodgson, Ragian, who claimed to have rented the bar from his brother, $50.

WAY THE SCOTT ACT WAS REPRALED.—The hundreds of newspapers in Canada are trying their hands at guessing what caused the defeat of the Scott act. So far no paper has given the correct answer but the Chronicle. The act was repealed because the electors wanted whiskey. It was a mighty long time between drinks with some of the voters, and added to this the quality was fearfully bad in Scott act counties. It will take some time to get the standard raised again.—[Whitby Chronicle.
