the attendance was large, the strawberries and creamand other light refreshments tasted like nectar of the gods dispensed by the deft hands of the fair waiters, and the gravel walks, shady nooks and rustic chairs were all appropriate in their way. Chinese lanterns were hung around in profusion, and the scene was gay and animated. A portion of Prof. Trevor's class was present and kindly concented to coatribute a few choruses, and the folding doors were thrown open and the piano brought into requisition, the class singing in the open air with fine effect. Master Johnny Smith also contributed a couple of soles during the evening in a pleasing manner. At intervals the band played operatic selections and standard airs, and it was approaching eleven o'clock when the strains of the national anthem warned those present that it was time to disperse. The receipts of the evening made a pleasing and timely addition to the band's finances.... A cordial vote of thanks is tendered Mr. Foley by the members of the band for his kindness in placing, his beautiful grounds at their disposal.

—The tenders for the post-office at Lindsay have been opened. The lowest is that of Mr. P. Navin of Windsor for about $16,000, some four thousand lower than the government estimate.

—Mr. John Glaspell and Mr. Warren Hill of Tiny drove dewn to their friends in Fenelon on a short visit. They were in town Tuesday, and report crop prospects very good up in Tiny. There's quite a large Fenelon settlement up in Tlay.

—The critical young bachelor editor of the Whitby Gazette complains that you will hardly see a girl in that town who "walks with distinction and dignity. They turn their toes in or walk with a jerk of the hips, or they set one foot down one way and the other in another." The engine house for the accommodation of the second h. p. Corliss engine recently purchased by Sadler, Dundas & Co. is now completed and the engine placed in position. The huge driving wheel is twelve feet in diameter. The output of the mills will be increased considerably.

-Complaints having been made that the poles of the C. P. R. telegraph line place in position last week were too close to the board walks, orders were given that they be taken up and placed further out, which has been done. Such a base infringement of the town's rights ought to have struck some official before the poles were all placed.

-Mr. E. W. Johnston, proprietor of Congress Hall, with the proper enterprise of a true sporting man, has arranged with the telegraph authorities to receive league baseball scores immediately after the conclusion of each match, which will be displayed upon a large blackthe same for his end of the town.

-Some malicious person in a spirit of wanton mischief has been cutting snips in pieces of dress goods displayed in frent of S. S. Ritchie's store. The cuts have damaged the pieces and will entail a serious loss to Mr. Ritchie. It is very strange that any person should commit such a wanton outrage. Mr. Ritchie purposes offering a reward for the apprehension of the perpetrators.

—A large brick wing is being built to the Rockland house. Bobcaygeon, which will make the hotel one of the largest in the district. The addition is much needed, as last year the number of pleasure-seekers who made this popular hotel their headquarters was far in excess of available accommodation, and bed-rooms had to be engaged and fitted up over stores adjoining. The new wing will remedy all this.

—Bathing during the warm spell has been a favorite pastime, and has been indulged in freely by the youth of the town—large and small. Almost every evening the river banks are dotted with bathers, who, in odd cases, forget to provide themselves with the regulation bathing suit. This is a very indelicate omission, to say the least; and Chief of Police Beil threatens to look the matter up. A word to the wise, etc.

—The Peterboro Review says: "Mr. J. B. McWilliams, crown timber agent, has at his office an excellent specimen of building stone from a lot owned by him in the township of Snowden.
It is crystalized limestone, hard, durable and naturally handsome, and at the same time capable of being given a beautiful finish. The quarry is close to the Irondale and Bancroft railway, so that the shipping facilities are good.
There is an almost inexhaustible supply of the stone."

How the early closing by-law is eccasionally defeated was illustrated pointedly a few evenings ago. The front entrance of a certain grocery was tried by a couple of farmers five minutes after seven o'clock. Locked. The door was shaken and the man within enquired what was wanted. He was told, but declared that it was against the rules to open the front door, with a deal of emphasis. The hint was taken, and ten minutes later the farmers were met on a back streat heavily laden, making a break for home.

The comfort and even luxury of the roofeding rand stand at the agricultural grounds was heartily appreciated by crowds at the Dominion day celebration. A splendid view of all the events was obtained; the spectators were shaded by the roof from the heat of the sun; a fine breeze played upon them, making it delightfully cool and pleasant. The enterprise and public spirit of Mayor Walters and Mr. John Dobson were warmly praised. The fee (ten cents) was a mere bagatelle for the luxury of a cool shady seat. We commend the grand stand to public support as the receipts go to a special fund to pay for the roofing.

—The members of the street and bridge committee have been devoting considerable of their precious time during the last two weeks to testing the merits of a road grading machine manufactured by a Hamilton firm, whose agent has been putting it through its facings. A trial was made last Friday on Melbourne-st, and was witnessed by a goodly crowd of sightseers, who expressed divers opinions as to its merits. The machine has a swinging adjustable steel mould-board and knife, and was drawn by four horses. The earth cut from the sides is shoved into the middle, building up the roadway, but the soil was packed so hard it was difficult to cut deep. The trial pleased some and disappointed others. The committee has not as yet decided to purchase.

The scene at Sturgeon Point wharf upon the arrival of the steamer Saturday evenings from Lindsay is a busy and enlivening one. All the residents of the hotel and lodges flock down carrying lanterns, some to greet friends arriving to remain over Sunday, some to receive huge hampers of provisions, one becomes the recipient of a band-box suspected to contain "just a duck of a bonnet;" another a smoked ham of formidable dimensions; a silk-lined-wicker-baby-carriage will be tenderly deposited upon the platform and instantly wheeled out of harm's way by the delighted owner; while at intervals is heard the sharp but not unpleasing sound made by two pairs of lips parting company as friend greets friend. And so it goes. The jaunty and diversified knock-about costumes, full of bright colors, add not a little to the charm of the scene. Presently "Let go the stern line!" is heard, the crowd wave a vigorous goed-bye with their lanterns, and the steamer is away upon the last ten miles' run.

A Chapter of Accidents,

walking along Cambridge-st. was knocked down at Wellington st. crossing by a passing team and stunned. He was carried into Dr. Degrassi's office and restoratives applied, when it was found no injuries had been sustained beyond a few alight bruises.

—An aged lady named Lee, wife of Mr. Geo. Lee, who resides on St. Patrick-st., east ward, met with a painful accident Tuesday afternoon. As she was proceeding homewards a pedestrian just in froat stepped off one end of a loose board in the walk just as she was about to step upon it, the consequence of which was that she was tripped and fell face downwards, sustaining some severe bruises and spraining her arm.... A few nails, half a dozen planks and a man's labor for a day would make many of our back street side walks much safer to walk upon.

—A serious accident occurred Wednesday

The 7-year old son of Mr. Godfrey Lacon be of Bobcaygeon, who is a son-in-law of Mr. P. Forbert of this town, met his death by drowning Wednesday forenoon. It appears that the little fellow, in company with a number of children of about his own age, was playing about the bank of the river below the griet mill, and after a while ventured upon a broad boom skirting the shore, from which he fell into the water. His little playmates had not the sense to raise an outery at once, but some minutes after told a young man about the little fellow jumping in, and they wondered why he didn't come up. Being pointed out the spot he dived down and brought up the body, which had only been in the water about five minutes. Every effort was made to restore life, but without avail. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents. -The 7-year old son of Mr. Godfrey Lacon be

-On Friday last an excursion party from Linden Valley, under the auspices of the Society of Friends, embarked on the Esturion and enjoyed the delightful sail from Lindsay to Bob-caygeon to the fullest extent—so much so that another was suggested and arranged for on the home trip, to take place after harvest--A pleasant party of about forty ladies and gentlemen left Bobcaygeon Monday morning for a cruise over the Buckhorn and Burleigh route per steamer Beaubocage of the T. V. N. Co. line. The trip was much enjoyed, the ever-varying butaiways beautiful scenery being praised in rapturous terms. A return was made about 7 p.m.

—An excursion from Goodwood to Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon, announced for Thursday last, did not "materialize" owing to unfavorable weather. However, two precocious youngsters from that vicinity, provided with the proper tickets, claimed the privileges of the day—and got them. Friend Diament dubbed them a host in themselves, and felt grateful that the easy traffic allowed him to enlist the services of the crew in the herculean task of watching the mischievous juveniles.

—"What's the matter with the light house?" was a question asked repeatedly Saturday night as the Esturion was being piloted out of the intricate Scugog into the lake. "Nothing's the matter with the light house," was the reply; "but something's very much the matter with the government, or the superintendent, as no provision has been made for lighting the lantern surmounting the structure." It is to be hoped that this will be speedly remedied, as the light proved a great convenience—indeed, a necessity—last season. Let the night be dark as Erebus the passage down the river can be made safely; but the stretch in the vicinity of the light house is bad water, and if there is a swell running it is impossible to detect the stumps, which are many. Let there be light.

-Rev. Dr. Williams, the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived in town this week and was tendered a reception at the garden party at Mr. Silas Bigelow's last night. -Services have been conducted each evening in the gospel tent, Kent-st. west, by Messrs.

McClure and Douglass. Services will be continued each evening at 8, and Sunday afternoons at 4. All are invited. Rev. P. H. Allin, a Little Britain boy and latterly a law-student in Lindsay, preached in the Methodist church in this town last Sunday. Mr. Allin is an earnest and eloquent preacher, and promises to take a high position in the church.

MAMMOTH COST SALE

For the Month of July and no monkeying about it.

We intend taking stock (D. V.) the last day of July, and in order to reduce it to the lowest ebb possible we will sell all Spring and Summer Goods at exactly cost price. We are aware that you are somewhat skeptical as to the genuineness and reality of cost sale,—this one, however, is a genuine reality, and as a guarantee that we mean business we hereby offer a reward of a $20.00 silk dress to the first lady or a $20.00 suit of clothes to the first man who detects us in refusing to carry out the terms of our advertisements. In the face of this guarantee we now advertise to sell you for cash all or any part or any part of our present Spring or Summer stock at exactly cost price, without the slightest deviation for any consideration whatever. This proclamation shall remain unaltered for the balance of July. This announcement with such an expensive penalty attached should convince you that we mean to do exactly as we advertise; then if we have relieved your fertile brain of its skeptical ideas concerning cost sales, we would also like to relieve you of some of your spare cash in exchange for our dry goods and clothing. What say you? Will you give us a trial? We need the money, you need the goods, and a better opportunity to get them you need never expect. Our departments are:
