USE YOUR CASH TO THE BEST ADVANTAGE.

There's a trick in this with which many are unacquainted, and the secret lies in dealing with cash houses as far as possible. Credit is a deceiver ever, and too often swamps well-laid plans of economy.

Cash Means Discount, as well to the purchasing public as to the purchasing merchant. Looked at in any reasonable light it plainly resolves into a big bulge over a credit system. Cash—why everybody is after it: who will not sacrifice to a considerable extent to get it? We certainly can and will continue to do so in the future.

Visitors to Lindsay during Fair Week are invited to call and get our prices for TEAS, SUGARS and all other Goods usually held by a FAMILY SUPPLY HOUSE. We are confident the values will be pronounced superior to any found elsewhere. A soothing effect is likely to be produced by the knowledge that a barrel of A1 Sugar and a chest of fragrant, delicious Tea, bought for less money than ever before, is stored in your pantry; this may become a fact. We have the goods.

Received this week—One Carload of Teas and Sugars; One Carload of General Groceries. These will be sold low.

WEDDING BELLS.—On the 18th inst. the betrothal ceremony of the nuptials of Mr. J. F. SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.—Our schools have been very small lately as parents seem afraid that their children may take the fever by coming to school, and mingling with others. I think this is a great mistake, and parents should consider the matter carefully, as every week's absence from school is lost never to be retrieved.

EXAMINATION.—The following is the result of a junior third class arithmetic examination held in our school on Friday, 14th inst.: I. Emma Brew, 2 Emma Brew; 3 Eddie Brew, Missie Syer, Lena Paul, Lena Bradburn, all equal; 4 Emma McGee and Albert Marshall, equal.

One of the gentlemen jumped out quickly and held Flood's horse firmly on the bridge. At this time Mr. M. Leonard accompanied by a young lady drove up, and Mr. Leonard at once stepped out to help the two out of the water, when the young lady cried "pull Mr. Collins out first."
