LINDSAY, FRIDAY, NOV. 2, 1888, LOWERING LINDSAY DAM.

We print another letter from Mr. Geo. McHugh on this important local question. It seems to us that Mr. McHugh makes out a very strong case. A great many farms in Ops and Mariposa would be greatly benefitted, in addition to the thousands of acres of fine land that would

An old resident suggests that a dam be constructed across the river at the outlet of Lake Scugog. There are two narrow points where a dam could be made; and if built as a causeway it would be a convenience to the people on each side for crossing. This would preserve and materials for malaria there would be he cannot do without it; though Harrithe natural course of a fine, clear stream, son can be elected without the New York and the land in Ops and Mariposa could vote. If the temperance vote is concenbe drained and reclaimed. The subject trated upon Warner Miller, the republiis to be considered in all its bearings, however. If the dam is reduced and the ed, though it is just as likely to be thrown water drawn off in the late fall the frosts will destroy all malarial germs, and there Singularly enough Hill is a total abwill be less danger from that source than from the present condition of things.

tinues dangerously strained. The C.P.R. forces are resisting by every means in pire state. their power the efforts of the Provincial authorities to obtain a crossing. A collision of the excited rival forces may occur any day and blood may be spilt. The state of things is a disgrace to the Dominion government. They could and should have insisted upon the C.P.R. permitting the provincial road to make the desired crossing without in any way prejudicing the legal position of the C. P. R. That the C. P. R. will have to give way there is no doubt; but by the present resistance they gain time and delay the construction of a rival road. A short time ago the C. P. R wanted to cross the Grand Trunk in the eastern part of Toronto in order to reach the esplanade. The fer business in the morning. There is one Grand Trunk opposed the crossing, but town not more than five miles from Hameventually had to allow it. There is no lilton where the young people of both sexes,

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST.

Next Tuesday the people of the United States will elect their president for the ensuing four years. The campaign has been carried on with the greatest possible vigor. Each party is confident of success. A narrow majority decided the success. issue four years ago; and the contest now drawing to a close has elements of uncertainty that puzzle the shrewdest observers. Having won four years ago when in opposition the chances would seem to be decidedly in favor of the democrats scoring another success, as they now have the important advantage of enjoying the possession of office. But Cleveland's bold stand in favor of tariff reform and a reduction of the surplus revenue has introduced a new issue. He may lose heavily; or he may make large gains. The republican protectionists claim that the laboring clasess will rally to their support, and register a popular verdict against "free trade" and the introduction of goods manufactured by the pauper labor of Europe. The working-classes, however, have experienced many of the evils of high protection and monopoly; and the democrats count upon large gains from that vote. The western and north-western farmers are strongly opposed to the high tariff, and as a consequence several states that a few years ago were republican solid are now placed in the "doubtful" class. That the republicans dread a heavy turn-over in the working men and farmer vote is demonstrated by their extraordinary efforts to make capital out of the Sackville incident. This is one of the most singular occurences of an election campaign. Many hold that Blaine was defeated by the unhappy Burchard episode, when the spokesman of a friendly ministerial delegation complimented the candidate by stating that they would always find him

The republicans evidently determined to prepare a Burchard for Cleveland. A canningly devised letter was written by an apparently perplexed British resident California, who wished to vote nuch in it, was the best thing Blaine and the republicans could have desired for basing appeals to anti-English prejudices. They have joyfully seized the opportunity, and are making the most of it on every platform in the union. It is a most discreditable use of a private letter; but it will no doubt tell with thousands of voters, and may cost Cleveland the presidency.

Secretary Bayard has made an elaborate expedient resorted to by the republicans is really a confession of weakness. They have committed an outrage upon the official representative of a friendly power; and have exhibited no scruple in stirring up anti-British sentiment. It is no compliment to the intelligence of the electors to say that their discreditable appeals may influence thousands of votes; but it is reall brown that appeals the sentiment of the sentiment ate expedient resorted to by the repubbut it is well-known that appeals to sent. iment and prejudice have with the multitude more effect than reason and argu-

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An unfounded rumor was started in Toronto that Mr. S. H. Blake was to enter the Ontario ministry as attorney general. Of course there was nothing in it.

Peterboro town debentures, 20 years bearing 4 per cent., $20,000 in amount, have been purchased by the Bank of Commerce at 951. This is an exceedingly good figure for a four per cent. debenture.

The Dundas True Banner says: "A Brant, ford m'nister has from the pulpit asked the ladies of his congregation not to prolong their dancing parties or other social occasions till after midnight, that the young men may not suffer any loss of their energy good common sense reason why the Manitoba road should not be allowed quietly and peacefully to cross the C.P. and their elders also, have contracted a most uncivil habit of not appearing at a host's residence for hours after the time for which they are invited, and once they do appear, have not got common sense enough to leave again much before breakfast time. Perhaps a deliverance from the pulpit might cure this." Matters are not so bad in Lindsay as in Dundas, but an under-standing might be arrived at that social entertainments should close at midnight.

An Ottawa telegram in a tory paper says: Mr. Sol. White has been interviewed with respect to his annexation tenets. He

We are requested by Mr. E. Lytle, of Bexley, president of the North Victoria reform association, to protest against the Warder's insulting reference to him in connection with the presentation of an address to Hon. Mr. Laurier at Cannington. Mr. Lytle was unable, to his great regret, to be present on that occasion, but he fully approved of the address, and re-sents the Warder's dishonest attempt to make him out as dissatisfied.

Mr. Justice Patterson has been appointed to the vacancy in the supreme court; and Mr. James Maclennan, Q. C., has been appointed a judge of the court of appeal, to fill the fill the place thus made vacant. These are excellent and creditable appointments. Mr. Maclennan's many friends in this county will join us in congratulating him on his deserved elevation to the bench, which, from his learning and long experience, he is well qualified to adorn.

Winnipeg Free Press :- While some may be disposed to pooh-pooh annexation talk of any and every kind, we do not believe that it should be lightly regarded. There can be no doubt that the restrictionist policy now being pursued in Canada. and the repeated onslaughts from Ottawa upon provincial rights, continue to create widespread discontent and threaten to destroy every man's allegiance to the scheme of confederation. The longer tory misrule continues the greater will grow the debt and the exodus, and under such circumstances the annexation bait held up will surely increase in attractiveness. There is not a man in Canada to-day who desires annexation for any other reason except that it would bring continental free trade with it. If that can be obtained without annexation the only charm which without annexation the only charm which the latter ever presented is gone for ever. It would therefore seem to be the duty of every Canadian who is opposed to annex-ation in any shape or form to throw his whole energy into an effort to secure unre-stricted reciprocity with the United States.

That many workingmen in the United States are having their eyes opened to the hollowness of the professions and premises of the protectionists is indicated by the subjoined extract from a letter in the New York Herald by a workingman, commenting on Mr. Depew's statement that Harrison's election would ensure good wages for the working man as it would the democratic ticket, asking the British minister, Lord Sackville, (formerly Sir Sackville West) if Cleveland really was hostile to England or if he was friendly to English interests. Lord Sackville promptly fell into the trap, and wrote a letter which, while there was not very much in it, was the best thing Blaine at the same time he is smuggling over hundreds of Italians to work for 90 cents per day and take the place of the American laborer, who cannot afford to work and starve on this amount." many similar cases can be brought to mind, particularly that of Carnegie, the millionaire friend of Blaine.

The Hamilton Times says: "The latest alk about iron smelting in Ontario come from Deseronto and Kingston. At Deseronto considerable quantities of charcoal are produced from the waste products of the Rathburn saw-mills, and as there ate and formal statement of the case to is communication by rail with the back President Cleveland and Lord Sackville country where iron abounds, and by wathas received his passports. The desper- er with the consuming markets, it is believed that the manufacture of high grade in iron mines adjacent to the Kingston & Pembroke railway, and he is said to have contributed $100,000 toward the a hope that democratic success may causs the removal of the United States duty on iron ore. Now that so many railways have been run into the back townships of Ontario, it cannot be long before the mining of iron becomes one of the most important industries in the country. The hindrances to its development are artificial and can be removed."

BERLIN, Oct. 29.-Hannah Boyd, confined here on suspicion of being implicated in the Galt poisoning case, was released today, there being nothing warrantable in retaining her. The general impression prevails that she was thus imprisoned and detained in order that something startling might be confessed by her, thereafter making a solution of the case easy. She is now in the charge of her friends and left for home in Hamilton.

-We have received from the office of the Foronto Weekly News a very fine etching of Munkacsy's famous painting, "Christ Before Pilate." 28in. x2lin., which the News is presenting to its subscribers. It is a faithful copy of the great work of the Hungarian artist of which so many have heard, but which so few in Canada have seen; and, aside from its merit as a work of art, should be valued for the majesty of theme which it treats.

-The London Advertiser celebrates the 25th anniversary of its publication by sending out a mammoth "Quarter of a Century" edition of forty-eight pages and by donning a stylish new dress from Miller & Richards, Toronto. The special edition shows the remarkable progress that has been made during the period stated in London and in newspaper publishing. In 1863 a Northrop press, printing 500 an hour, ran off a small daily not much larger than a page of The Post; now a fast Bullock web press, running 20,000 an hour, is required. The edition contains a large number of portraits of members of the staff and of old and prominent citizens, such as Bishop Cronyn, Ray. J.Allister Murray, John and William Cameron and others. There are also views of old and new buildings, historic landmarks and leading establishments. The interviews with and reminiscences of oid citizens form chapters of much local interest. A generous advertising display furnishes abundant evidence of warm appreciation of the value of the paper as an advertising medium. The Advertiser's progress in the past has been extremely creditable; and it evidently purposes going on in the future to accomplish still more. nammoth "Quarter of a Century" edition of

GLOVES.

GLOVES: ORIGIN OF PIN MONE -Gloves were very common as New Year's gifts. For many hundreds of years after their introduction into England in the 10th century they were worn only by the most opulent classes of society, and hence consti tuted a valuable present. They are often named in old records. Exchange of gloves was at one period a mode of investure into possession of property, as among the ancient Jews was that of a shoe or sandal, and "glove money" is to this day presented by High Sheriffs to the officers of their courts, upon occasion of a maiden assize, or one in which no case is tried. Pins became a present—similar consequence—and at teeir first introduction were considered of so much importance in female dress that pin money grew into the denomination of a dower, which, by the caution of parents or justice of a consort, was settled upon a lady at her marriage.
