"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse ; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and bleed-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's garsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston. writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until year ago when she began to complain of latigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Aver's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to

-Not a little sensation was caused in St.
Ninian's Free church, Leith, on the 7th of October by a m'ddle-ged man, just as the minister had uttered the words, "Let us pray," suddenly rising in his seat and exclaiming aloud, "Prince Albert Victor is my lord, God and king. Amen."

-Mr. Star hope, minister of war, in a reeent speech in London, said that the new rifle decided upon for the British army was believed to be superior to any him used abroad. He hoped the government would be able to supply the army with the new weapon before long. He also saw the way to the early introduction of a new system of explosives for big guns.

The Dake of Norfolk appears to have become a green grocer, for he is not above selling his fruits, vegetables and flowers at current market rates, either wholesale of retail. The visitors to the Arunde castle gardens may purchase anything they fancy, and large hampers of produce and huge backets of cut flowers are despatched several times a week to Brighton and Portsmouth.

-In the course of an address to a meet ing at Darkeith Lord Roseberry read a letter from Mr. Gladstone, in which the latter said: "I conceive that the country has indicated a very general desire to retain the Irish members at Westminster. We recognize that desire and we are prepared to give it effect. I hope this is clear, although I suspect some dissidents will now begin to find the retention of the Irish members highly mischievous."

Isturns out that the "Americana" who are the boon companions of the King of Wurtemburg, whose crasy doings have recently scandalized royal circles in Europe, are in reality Canadians. One of them, by name Woodcock, was formerly a John. He is now known as "Baron Savage," the king's chamberlain, and he is virtually ruler over the thingdom, to the intense disgust of the natives. His companion is Dr. Hendry, at one time a bookseller's assistant and subsequently a doctor. The two are now famous, and their overwhelming influence in regal circles threatens to cause a rebellion in the duchy. They have been called "Americana" hecause every person who lives in North America, outside the Mexican republic, is —A curious case has just been decided upon appeal in a Scottish court. A young woman brought an action of breach of promise against a young man who admitted having been engaged to her. His defence was that she objected to his smoking and finally said: "Choose between your cigar and me." He made the choice promptly in favor of the weed, and when she sued him the judge held that by offering the alternative she was responsible for the swain's desertion, and the superior court sustained the decision.

—A most heavirending drowning accidents.

-A most heartrending drowning accident occurred at Galt last Saturday between twelve and one o'clock. Three children of Dr. S. W. B. Ricid, dentist, two girls and a boy, aged eleven, eight and five years, were amusing themselves on the bank of the Grand river, and it is supposed from youthful indiscretion went too near the edge. One of them fell into the river, which at that particular place is deep, and the others in trying to make a rescue also get into the water. Some children on the upposite bank noticed the little boy, the youngest of the children, clinging to the rocks calling for help. The alarm was given and willing rescuers soon arrived. The boy was saved but the two girls were drowned.

The czar has been tra-Russia was made. The czar has been travelling in a constant atmosphere of conspiracy and the police have been fully aware of it. For this reason the correspondents of the Times and Telegraph were arrested and detained at Batoum. The Official Messenger states that the czar's foot and the czarina's hand were injured in the accident to the imperial train on Monday last. Despite their injuries the czar and czarina devoted themselves to attending to the others who were more seriously injured. Most every member of the imperial suite received contusions. About twenty-one attendants were killed and thirty-seven seriously injured. The czar after the accident picked up a portion of a rotten sleeper and handed it to a gendarme with orders to preserve it for production at the official inquiry.

—The Hamilton Times says: A remarkable wager is about to be decided by a jury—that is, if the wagerer comes to the scratch. Mr. J. Brown of St. Catharines, has offered to pay Rev. John Mordy, president of the law and order league, Niagara Falls, $500 to assist in the work of putting down Sabbath desecration on this condition: that he will produce a scripture text "from the beginning of Genesis to the end of Revelation that teaches us that God requires us to keep Sunday as Sabbath, or as anything else than an ordinary working day, or one text in the whole bible that teaches that God, Christ or the Holy Spirit ever blessed, sanctified or in any way set apart any other day to be recognized as the Sabbath save that which He blessed and sanctified in Eden, namely, the seventh day of the week commonly called Saturday." The clerical gentleman has accepted the challenge, and says he will leave it to a jury chosen from the leazned professions in St. Catharines, or he will come to Hamilton, or any other municipality in Canada, and submit it to any twelve persons, male or female, chosen by lot. But first of all he wants to see the money deposited. Mr. Brown is yet to be heard from.

upon the emperor's life. -A Zanzibar despatch of November 2nd says: Couriers from Tabola bring direct news from the Stanley expedition, a portion of which was met at the end of November, 1887, by Arabs trading between Lakes Victoria Nyanza and Nzige and Tabora. These Arabs met Stanley's rear guard at a point west of Albert Nyanza, south-east of Sanga, just as the expedition was preparing to cross the swamps caused by the radiation of the streams that abound in that country. The Arabs did not see Stanley. The detachment seen consisted of thirty men. They stated that Stanley was two days ahead. The expedition had suffered greatly on the march through a thick forest, where it was impossible to advance more than a mile and a quarter daily. They had also suffered in the marshes, where many had disappeared or died. Forty were drowned in crossing a great river flowing from east to west. One white man had died. Stanley was obliged to fight some tribes that refused to supply him with provisions. The expedition had often halted in the expectation of receiving reinforcements from the Congo. The rear guard at the time met had only been on the march five days, after a halt of three weeks, due to the illness of Stanley and a greater part of the escort, who had been attacked with fever. The Arabs estimate the total strength of the expedition, after all losses, at 250 men. The health of Stanley was then good. The rear guard, which consisted of natives of Zanzibar, stated that Stanley had decided that he would no longer advance in a north-easterly direction, but would strike teward the north, hoping to avoid the swamps. After getting a certain distance north he intended to take an oblique line to the eastward and go straight to Wadelai, where it was thought he would arrive fifty days later, about the middle of January, 1886. The Arabs were of the opinion that the expedition was still strong enough to reach wadelai. It will be remembered that on August 1st information was received from Zanzibar that two messengers had arrived there, who had left the interior about the sount of her more week to the effect 'beat he exploser, which news from the Stanley expedition, a portion of which was met at the end of Nov-—A sad case of double death is reported from Tyendinaga. About a year ago Mr. Michael Hooley married a handsome girl of his neighborhood, but the honeymoon was hardly ended before it became apparent that the groom was marked as a victim for consumption. He went to Southern California, leaving his young wife behind, and was so far restored that he started for home last week. His wife was anxiously awaiting his arrival when she was stricken by apoplexy and died. The husband arrived the day after her burial, but the shock of his great grief prostrated him, and he died the day after his arrival.

—Frank Day, a young Canadian, was stabbed and killed at the corner of Clark and Jackson-sts., Chicago, Sunday, at midnight, by an unknown man. Day with two friends was on his way to the Polk-st. depot. Just before they reached Jackson-st. they were met by another party of three, more or less intoxicated. As they passed the strangers Day shouted back, "What's the matter with Harrison." The strangers immediately assaulted him and several blows were struck. A moment latter one of the strangers plunged a dirk-knife into Day's breast and the latter sunk to the pavement with a groan. The assassin and one of his companions started off on a run, but the other remained standing on the spot overcome by the horror of the act. Day's friends seized and held him until an officer came. He proved to be William H. Warder, an engineer in the government buildings. Deceased was 28 years old, unmarried, and had been only six months in the states. His relatives live at Toronto.

—A London cable to a New York paper

-A London cable to a New York paper says: The evidence intended to crush Parnell and his friends was in their favor so palpably that the tories are already asking if there is to be an early collapse in the Times' case. Sir Charles Russell scored a brilliant success by extracting from the police reporter Irwin a series of admissions clearly indicating that the Irish magis-trates and other government officials have been actively engaged in getting up the case for the Times. It was elicited that most of the league meetings were held in districts where existings had occurred case for the Times. It was elicited that most of the league meetings were held in districts where evictions had occurred, and that at nearly all of them the people were exhorted to be patient and abstain from crime, that outrages were most frequent in the districts where league was weakest and secret societies had the strongest hold, and that policemen were nearly always well treated at public meetings, even to the degree of taking a friendly glass with the speakers. One of the points made by Sir Charles Russell was that Scrabnally, whose blood-curdiing denunciation of landlords gave quite a sanguinary tinge to the attorney-general's brief, was and is regarded by the police and people in Ireland as a harmless drunken crank. He is rarely allowed on the platforms and usually pours forth his eloquence before the regular speakers arrive or after their departure. It is stated that Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Vernon Harcourt will be examined before the Parnell commission in regard to statements in Capt. O'Shea's testimony relative to the Kilmainham treaty. Capt. O'Shea was at one time one of the smartest looking men in the house of commons, and was credited with a good deal of talent but little capacity for work, being rather a man of pleasure than a politician. He is connected with several wealthy families, and married one of three beautiful sisters. The other two were married, one to Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood and the other to General Steel O'Shea.
