"HER MISSION"

By MARY BURNARD. Not to millions of the dark-browed nations Beyond the sea, To bring them tidings of the great salvation Her work might be, Though in the deep level of her young devotion, She longed to go And bear the cross beyond the distant ocean.

But Christ said, No. She longed within the rich man's lordly palace To tell the tale; She thought the sweet words of the holy Jesus Would there prevail. She said the cold heart of the child of fashion Will melt and weep When I shall tell him of His sure compassion. His love complete, O might he go to the weary in the palace, In mercy go And offer to their lips love's golden chalice! But Christ said, No. She said, "O! to the wretched and the lowly He sendeth me, To tell them of a purer life and holy My work shall be Down by the side of earth's poor outcast children Will I go now. O grant me, Christ, to bear thy blessed image Upon my brow. O joy to give thee to earth's hungry millions Of want and woe, O joy to tell them of a Father's mercy!" But Christ said, No.

In all the lands! Must stand ever in thy busy vineyard With folded hands! He pointed to her little ones around her—"Feed them my lambs!" And little flapping lips that called her mother, She taught to pray, And little glancing feet she followed daily, Lest they should stray, And little busy hands her own hands guided In doing good. Christ said, "She hath, the patient, careful mother, Done what she could."

A week ago last Friday he drove with his wife to Aurora and was returning to Mount Albert in the evening when on the road between Vivian and Five Orchards she was overtaken by a man from the roadside, pulled her out of the rig, hit on the head with a club, knocked him senseless and then robbed him of $45.

DEATH AMONG THE HORSES FROM IMPURE WATER.—"Fever!" Mr. Hugh Greig's draught stallion, died of inflammation on Friday morning last. The animal was valued at $2,000. Another Reach man, Mr. J. Allan, has lost three horses lately, the last having died on Saturday. The disease, which they succumbed to is epizootic fever, and was caused by impure water. The well from which the water was taken is in the centre of the barnyard; one could hardly expect it to be safe from impurities in such a place. A fourth horse owned by Children Cry for

Mr. Allan took sick while in town a few days ago, and is now under the care of a V. S. here. Farmers should be as careful of the wells from which their animals drink as of those used for household purposes.—Journal.

CAPAN. An important event, which was looked to with pleasure by the young folks of Capan, took place on the 7th inst. This was the marriage of Miss Hannah Fee of Capan to Mr. James J. Battilly of Toronto, formerly of E. Fort. The Rev. Mr. McCollough of Cookstown, Ont., performed the ceremony in the presence of many friends and guests. Miss Elliott of Peterboro acted as bridesmaid, the groom being supported by Mr. A. Knox of Toronto. The bride, beautifully attired in terracotta satin with natural flowers, was given away by her father, Henry Fee. The bridesmaids wore aytie green satin with flowers. They were both handsome, possessing much beauty. The bride is a most exemplary young lady and highly esteemed in the community. After partaking of a wedding breakfast the happy young couple hastened to take the train for their future home in Toronto. The Millbrook band kindly serenaded the party previous to their departure. The wedding party, composed of over eighty guests, spent an enjoyable evening until the small hours. The presents were very numerous and of a handsome character, but the list is too long for publication.—[Cor. Port Hope Times.

SANDRINGHAM. [Correspondence of The Post.] INCREASE.—We understand the population of our section is steadily increasing.

NEW COMER.—We heartily welcome to our neighborhood Mr. Adam E. Staback, who moved here recently. Mr. E. Staback may long enjoy the pleasure of his new home.

PERSONAL.—Mr. James Evers of this locality paid a brief visit to the old homestead at Manchester, Ontario county,...

CONGRATULATIONS.—We congratulate our young men, Messrs. Peter Morrison and Neil McDonald of this place, upon securing first prizes in their respective classes at the recent county examination.

ARM BROKEN.—On Saturday last Mrs. Gorrill of Taunton had the misfortune to break one of her arms. She was marketing in Oshawa and when entering of a house in the north-east wall stepped on a slanting plank and fell, with the above result.

SAD AFFLICTION.—A most distressing affliction has visited the family of Mr. A. Morrison of this place. On Friday, about four weeks ago a son, 17 years of age, died from an attack of typhoid fever, and on Sunday last another member of the family, a bright boy of seven years old, died from the same dread disease.

BIG YIELD OF POTATOES.—Joe, Smith, proprietor of the Laidlaw house, Cannington, tried his hand at raising potatoes this year and he succeeded admirably.

SOCIAL AND PRESENTATION.—A very pleasant time was spent in the Royal Temperance hall on Friday evening; after the usual business was disposed of the S. C. announced that the ladies of the council had prepared a social on behalf of Miss Sarah Campbell, R. S., who was about to leave us for British Columbia.

TO MISS S. CAMPBELL.—Dear Sister.—The undersigned on behalf of the following gentlemen, No. 3, E. of T. avail themselves of this opportunity to express their high regard and esteem in which you are justly held by the whole membership for your social qualities and 'societal temperance' principles.

RECOMMENDING BUSINESS.—It is understood Mr. Hugh Wilson has about completed arrangements to commence business in his old stand, Sinclair's block.

POPULAR CHOIR.—The famous choir of the Methodist church here visited Wilfrid on Monday evening and filled the musical part of the program in connection with their new church opening festival to the admiration of all.

CAMBURY. [Correspondence of The Post.] BEARLEY'S MILL.—The work of putting in the roller process of making flour in Mr. Bearley's mill was completed last week and the work inspected by the agent of Messrs. W. & J. Greig, the manufacturers at Toronto.

NEW BUILDING.—The brick work of Mr. Jamieson's new building is just about completed and is an ornament to our village. Few thought that Mr. James would erect such a fine building. It is 25x35 feet, with 19 foot walls of brick, finished with white. He has certainly earned out his expressed determination to have the finest building in the place. It is finished throughout in first-class style.

A PAINFUL DISEASE.—We regret to have to say that our old friend Mr. John Sinclair is gradually sinking. He is now confined entirely to his bed, although suffering intensely and nearly constant pain bears it all without murmuring. His disease, cancer of the jaw-bone, is extremely painful, and has so reduced his bodily strength that one can scarcely believe until seeing him for himself.

PITCHER'S CASTORIA. Mr. White has received an increase in salary which speaks louder than words in regard to how he is esteemed by the trustees and people. Miss E. Rowan, who is teaching the junior grade for the current year, is, we understand, going to the high school to prepare for a higher grade of certificate. All join in wishing her every success in her laudable undertaking. Had it not been for this desire she would have been re-engaged.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.—Mr. Neil C. Love, a well-known dentist, died at half-past three o'clock Friday afternoon, after a few hours illness, from apoplexy, at his residence, Gerrard-st. east, surrounded by a large family.

ATTACKED BY A BEAR.—A large black bear which was kept at Parkdale, broke its chain and escaped about 11 o'clock last Sunday night. While roaming the streets it attacked a woman named John Shaw, and before help arrived, almost killed him. It ate a large piece out of his thigh and the calf of his leg and hugged him until he fainted. His body is terribly lacerated. The police arrived and finally killed the bear, and Shaw was sent to the hospital.

BOBOAYGON. COURT.—A court was held on Thursday last by Mr. S. W. Crabtree, J. P., to hear the complaint of Mrs. Daniel Crimmons of Emly, who charged Link Dennis with choking her with a tin canister containing a poisonous substance. Dennis is working with Mr. and Mrs. Meahan of Emly, and the evidence went to show that Mrs. Crimmons had made some remarks about Mrs. Meahan of a somewhat personal character. These remarks Dennis indirectly repeated to Mrs. Meahan, who sent over Mrs. Crimmons, the latter denied the soft implication, and Dennis declared with rather more force than politeness, particularly as he was addressing a lady, that she was a most emphatic story-teller.

WHEELER'S GRIST MILL.—The rolling of the grist mill is now bearing completion, and in the course of a few days will commence work. The contract was taken by Messrs. W. & J. G. Greig of Toronto, and the work will be performed under the superintendence of Mr. Chas. Keown. It is now a full roller mill, having ten sets of rolls on the gradual reduction process, and has a capacity of 75 barrels per day. It would be difficult to place any more machinery in the building than it now contains, being scarcely room for a rat trap, and the work is carried on from floor to floor is surprising. In the basement with the water wheels and driving shafts is the cleaning machinery for all the grain, including the grain before it is sent to the rolls. On the first floor are the five double sets of improved rolls, with the packers and other appliances. The second floor holds two large purifiers for purification of the middlings, and a feeder and a mixer for feeding the products to the different breaks. On the top floor is placed seven flour dressers, five separating rollers, one bran dresser, in the first four rolls the grain is reduced to bran, and in the other six rolls the germ and middlings are still further reduced. The roller process is considered a great improvement on the stones, enabling a larger percentage of flour to be made from the grain, and if necessary a division of the starch and gluten. Many of the farmers of the district have for some time wished to have the roller process, and it is to be hoped Mr. Wheeler will find the business which his expenditure demands.
