-A peculiar skin disease prevails in Quebec at the present time among a great number of people. It appears to have started about two years since in the Lake S'. John district. Last year the near by parishes had their share of it, and at the present time medical experts say that one-third of the population of Quebec are afficted with it.

-A Greek who has just arrived at Suakim from Kaartoum, whence he started two months ago, coming by way of Kassais, says that nothing had been heard at Khartcum of the fall of the government of the equatorial provinces or of the capture of Emin Bey. On the contrary, he says the forces of the madhi had been twice de-ated in the Babriel-Ghazel.

The Marquis of Salisbury, the British tory leader, has contrived to make himself very unpopular with the Wesleyan Methodists. Some time ago he very persistently refused a site at Hatfield for a Wesleyan chapel. It is now stated that he has taken steps to rid the place of a Wesleyan meeting house, which has existed in the village for the last fifty years. Por leyan meeting house, which has existed in the village for the last fifty years. Rev. Arthur E. Gregory, who is superintendent of the St. Aiban's circuit and son of Dr. Gregory, the Wesleyan connexional editor, has received a final notice to quit the premises. -A despatch from Suskim says: One of a Digna's itentenants has described a safer and has arrived here. He reports that the rabels are enrayed with Os-man Diana for seizing their effects and their wives, he giving as his reason for such a course that the reliefs chewed to-bacco, which is contrary to the precepts laid down by the madhi. He also reports that two thousand dervishes at Handoup are squabbling with O-man Digna con-cerning the evacuation of the place, a ma-jority of the dervishes being desirous of re-tising from the town. The deserter de-clares that Emin Bey has been captured and is a prisener at Khartoum, where he is well treated by his captors. is well treated by his captors.

-The Montreal Witness says: "A farmer in Mississiquoi writes a brief but forcible letter concerning the depression in agricul ture in 'at county. His story is that of farmers of many counties in Eastern Canada, one of reduced net income from his farm and of a reduction in the value of it. The increased cost of living during the last ten years is the cause of the trouble, and as that period corresponded with the time during which heavy protective duties have been laid upon all that the farmer consumes there can be little doubt as to the cause. Farmers are taxed 35 per cent consumes there can be little doubt as to the cause. Farmers are taxed 35 per cent. on agricultural machinery, but the government cannot by protective taxes increase the prices of his products, which correspond with those paid in Great Britain, to which the surplus goes. The increased cost of labor is the natural and inevitable result of the increased cost of living. If averything a laborer, his wife ahd children, eats, wears or works with, is taxed to the hilt he has to be paid high wages in order that he may be able to pay the high prices caused by high taxation. Farmers have the remedy in their own hands." They have; but a good many farmers will vote the tory straight ticket regardlesse of high taxes.

-Fred Geary, aged thirteen years, was drowned in hioira lake Saturday afternoon, while skating with a number of boys. Charite Riebards went through the ice with Geary, but was rescued by one of his companions, who caught him by the hair and held him up.

-Princees Lieven while sleigh-riding at Charkoff attempted to crees the railway track. A train that was residly apprecabing struck the sleigh and killed the coachman. The government authorities at Brussels assert that the reported revolution in Uganda, resulting in the deposition of King Mwanga by one of his brothers, both explains and confirms a telegram recently received from East Africa, the correct interpretation of which was in doubt. This telegram stated that Emin had escaped to the shores of the Victoria Nyanza, where he awaited the arrival of Stanley, and it is now confidently believed that the news conveyed by the messenger was entirely correct.

A tremendous big thing in the way of a monster gun is being made. It is to be a 200-tonner, and is being made at the Woolwich arsenal. The special machinery required to lift it upon its carriage will cost quite $110,000. Its projectile is to weigh two tons, and when it is meunted on some point of the English coast it is avected to drop into the sea 4000 pounds. on some point of the English coast it is expected to drop into the sea 4,000 pounds of shrapnel every five minutes to a distance of fifteen miles. This will make an invasion more than ever a thing of the future, when the English channel can be swept from the shores nearly all the way to France.

-At a recent meeting of the British medical association one doctor said that he knew cases where sensitive children had been punished for seeming stubbornness been punished for seeming stubbornness which had been mere nervousness, and that extremely nervous persons had ultimately been found in asylums owing to their having been misunderstood and punished by teachers. The same speaker said that there are a great many children that would be none the worse if they never learned to read and write. He thought if 80 or 90 per cent. of the children were taught these elementary acquirements it would be enough for all practical purposes.

The young Emperor of Germany has caused a renewal of the worst criticisms eurrent three months ago by his action in giving the order of the Black Eagle to Herr von Puttkamer, formerly minister of the interior. Practically the only important act of the late Emperor Frederick's brief and tragic reign was the dismissal from his position this official, who is recognized all over Germany as the type of everything hateful and oppressive in the everything hateful and oppressive in the "junker" bureaucracy. His disgrace was halled by liberals throughout Europe as a triumph of politics, and his being singled out now for the highest honor conferred on new year's day to any German creates a painful sensation.

—A London cable to the Empire sage: Some degree of alarm is being excited in military circles at the marked deficiency of horses for the British cavairy. The Times to-day comments on the war office statis-tics, showing that one-third of the cavairy materially weakened by the fact. It refers to Canada among other countries as offer-ing almost unimited facilities under the British flag for meeting the army's needs, and advises the government to take prompt steps to augment the horse supply. Agri-cultural papers urge the government to in-crease the price, and so encourage home breeding. It is generally admitted that the existing war office methods have failed and some better system is imperative.

—A London cable says: Ever since the wrecking of the czar's train at Borki the czarina has suffered from mental depression which has increased to a point causing the utmost anxiety for her health. Her symptoms closely resemble the malady with which her sister, the Duchess of Cumberland, was afflicted some time ago, and Pref. -A London cable says: The severity with which the crimes act is again being administered is attributed, in some quarters, to the recent government successes at Stockton. The indignation at the sentences of Mr. Harrington and Mr. Finucane, particularly the former, is very great. It is alleged that the magistrate, Mr. Roche, acted under direct instructions from Dub-lin Castle in sentencing Mr. Harrington to the fullest possible term and refusing to state the case for the superior court, as he waited upon him on new year's day took a very hopeful view of the prospects of peace for the coming year. A Vienna or London correspondent says this hopeful one agrees with the opinion of leading diplomate and military men that peace will continue for a year. This belief is based chiefly upon the renewal of armaments, the adoption of new repeating rifles, new explosives, etc., conjoined with attending military drill and tactics. These changes are considered sufficient to prevent any power from taking the field perfectly equipped for a number of months. Austrian and German watchers of Russian preparations concur in declaring that Russia, in spite of her recent efforts, continues in a state of military disorganization and that her cavalry and artilery would be unable to face Austrian forces alone if war were declared in the spring. German experts consider that the fortresses in Russian Poland would be certain to be carried without a siege, whereas the Austrian fortifications at Gracow and Pramysi are among the strongest in Europe. The car is conscious of his weakness and is not likely to provoke a war. Nevertheless Russia is preparing to meet the contingency of any immediate conflict. Although the frontier provinces from Bessarable northward are already swarming peace for the coming year. A Vienna or —A London cable says: The reform of the queen's household will abolish the ten pages of the great chamber, with £50 a year and no duties; three of the four lords in waiting; and the eight women of the bedchamber, who had £300 a year. A point will be made, though, as to the queen's right to take £12,000 a year appropriated for the ouck hounds, which she has abolished. The buckhounds were on the civil list.

—Some time ago the Cologue Gazette published the statement that Sir Robert Morier, while ambassador to Berlin, furnished information to Marshal Bazaine regarding the movement of Prussian troops during the war of 1870. Sir Robert denied this, and, submitting a strong refutation of the atory, asked Count Herbert Bismarck to take action in the matter. Count Herbert Bismarck refused in a letter which degrades diplomacy and brings disgrace upon the name he bears.

On new year's day an excursion steamer carried a party of pleasure-seekers among the Thousand islands. There have been extraordinary winters, but the present beats the record Everybody says, however, we shall pay up for the mild spell, and what everybody says seems to be true, for the indications of a coming change are very marked.—[Toronto Mail. -On Christmas day maple sugar was -The marriage of the Hon. Edw. Stanley, The marriage of the Hon. Edw. Stanley, son of the governor general of Canada, to Lady Alice Montague, daughter of the Duke of Manchester, occurred in the Guards' chapel last Saturday. The Prince of Wales and family, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Teck and an aristocratic company were present. The rector of Hatfield, who is a son of the Marquis of Salisbury, officiated. Beautiful presents were received from Queen Victoria, Empress Frederick of Germany and other royal personages.

—A Suakim despatch of January 7 says:
A party of Soudanese who had been sent out to clear the bush had a akirmish with the rebels. While the men were at work about sixty rebel horsemen and a few camelmen and footmen approached within 400 yards and opened fire. Captain Kelly, commanding the guard, ordered his men to fire. This they did and then fell back, allowing the Soudanese to gre. After a short engagement the enemy retired with four wounded. During the fight the Shata fired three shots, the Handoub fort six and the Ricer one shot....The Welsh troops who have been doing duty at Suakim were withdrawn to day.

-An interesting case in connection with —An interesting case in connection with the question of free choice of religion has occurred in Montreal. A young girl named Alexandrine Morrisset, of Catholic parentage, now residing at the Grande Legue mission, managed by Rev. Godfroy Masse, is the principal party in the case. The girl is nineteen years of age, professes the Protestant religion and expresses her determination to adhere to that faith and to remain at the mission. Her father, who is a Catholic, a few days since, after using every argument to induce her to return to her home, attempted to take her away forcibly. He was prevented from so doing, and has now taken out a writ of habeas corpus to compel the mission to restore his corpus to compel the mission to restore his daughter to his care.

in odd places is developing to such an ex-tent that one may expect to see the fair ones with watches on the toes of their shoes or on the backs of their gloves or wherever they can easily see the time-pieces at a glance. In a Broadway, New Tork, car the other day three ladies met and took seats beside one another. One had a watch in the handle of her umbrella, one had a watch in the catch or clasp of her pocketbook, and the third carried a tiny watch in a bracelet on her left arm. The last example of the craze, that of the bracelet, is a Viennese idea just imported.
The bracelet was of leather, and was unquestionably the ugliest ornament any lady wore on Broadway that day.

—The Sheffield Independent says the English salt trust is very far advanced with its scheme to obtain control of all the large salt works in the world. It states that the agent of the syndicate who recently visited the United States and Canada to sound the manufacturers has reada to sound the manufacturers has returned, and the report of the result of his mission was so satisfactory that he has set out with definite proposals. The English syndicate offers to buy the whole of the salt works on the American continent. The direction is to be consolidated and offices established at New York. One haif of the capital is to be held in England and the rest in the United States and Cansda. It is atipulated that the manufacturers who sell out to the syndicate are not to engage in any manufacture of their own account for a period of ten years. They are, count for a period of ten years. They are, however, privileged to invest one-third of the proceeds of their plant in the stock of the trust, which, it is boldly stated, will return a dividend at the rate of 25 per cent each year.

acted under direct instructions from Dublin Castle in sentencing Mr. Harrington to the fullest possible term and refusing to state the case for the superior court, as he was bound to do, unless the application was merely frivolous. What gives special importance to Mr. Harrington's case is the fact that the Parnellites will be deprived of his assistance during the remainder of the commission sittings. No man knows more of the secret history of the Ireland of to-day than he. From the information which he has supplied Sir Charles Russell has obtained many of the startling disclosures about the personal character and antecedents of the Times' witnesses, Mr. Harrington is a tall, burly, good-humored man, personally popular. He has already been imprisoned altogether about eighteen monthe. He treats the matter lightly, and often refers to the subject in jocular terms. His wife is also an Irish enthusiast. Last year the news agent at Tralee was imprisoned for selling United Ireland. Mrs. Harrington conducted the business out of charity to the man's wife and children during the month he was in prisod.

neither could he prove them. They were only mere accusations to answer his own purpose. He charged me with being "an agent." What on earth has being an agent to do with collecting taxes? He also charged me with being "an agitator." Now, gentlemen, I believe I have a right to express my views and opinions independent of Mr. Adams or any other person. Mr. Adams should be the last man to speak of any person being an agitator, for a more agitating or aggravating man I never met to do business with at the council room. agitating or aggravating man I never met to do business with at the council room. Mr. Scully at the same meeting of council made the following statements:—That there never was a collector in the township in his time that returned as good a roll and gave as good satisfaction, with as small abatements as Mr. Thornton with the exception of Mr. Costello, and he collected on time. That recommend is a credit to any collector, for Mr. Scully is a gentleman that has got both principle and honor, and stands very high in the estimation of the ratepayers, and he looks after their business carefully and well. Later on Mr. Adams had the cheek to tall Mr. O'Neill that I deposited the township money in the bank and collected interest on the same. Mr. O'Neill says he can bring two other witnesses to prove that Mr. Adams did make the above statements to him. When I asked Mr. Adams on the day of nominaseked Mr. Adams on the day of nomina-I seked Mr. Adams on the day of nomination if he told any of the ratepayers that I deposited the township money in the bank he denied it. Mr. O'Neil then came forward and proved that Mr. Adams did make the above statement to him. Now, gentlemen, I am surprised at Mr. Adams making a statement one day and deaying it the next. It shows clearly how reckless he is about the trutk. When Mr. Adams was brought face to face with the man he told this to, he saw clearly the only way he brought face to face with the man he told this to, he saw clearly the only way he could get out of it was to deny his own statements. If he had been the man to ewn up to the truth and say that I did deposit the money in the bank, I would have asked him to name the bank, I would then have telegraphed to the bank and proved his statements false in afteen minutes. Gentlemen, I have never made any profit out of the township money for my own business, and I nover deposited any of the township money in my own business, or deposited it in any bank, I will pledge my honer that if any man can prove that I used the township money in my own business, or deposited it in any bank, I will give him $100. Mr. Adams also stated that there was 960 some odd dollars paid to the treasurer on one bank at the same time. I denied the charge, and then I asktime. I denied the charge, and then I asked Mr. Adams how he same to know that I paid $960 and some odd dellars to the bank at one time, and I answered it myself by stating that he got it from treasur-er. Mr. Curry told me he thought Mr. Adams was watching me. Mr. Curry always pretended to be a friend of mine, at the same time he was posting Mr. Adams. I consider those two men very small and mean to try to injure any man's character. They can prove nothing against me at all, all is mere supposition. It is an old adage and I believe a true one that "these who are dubious are not to be trusted themselves." ISAIAH THORNTON. Omemee, Jan. 4tb, 1889.
