THE ONTARIO CABINET. The expected reconstruction of the Ontario ministry necessitated by the long continued illness of Hon. Mr. Pardee has at length been effected. Hon. Mr. Hardy takes charge of the crown lands department, and Mr. J. M. Gibson of Hamilton enters the cabinet as provincial secretary. Mr. Hardy is an excellent administrator, and has earned the promotion to a more important department. Mr. Gibson is a representative of ability and experience, and is personally popular and respected. He will add to the strength of an exceptionally strong and able administration. His re election for Hamilton by acclamation is considered a foregone conclu the enforced resignation of Mr. Pardee will be greatly regretted by the country, as well as by the house and his late colleagues. Had illness not terminated his political career he would undoubtedly in due time have risen to higher positions in the confidence and esteem of the people, positions for which he was admirably fitted by temperament, ability and experience.

They contended that it was dis loyal to adopt a policy that will facilitate trade with the United States; and against those who favor such policy they hurled the favorite charge of an "annexationist." But the people of Joliet by a heavy majority pronounced in favor of Reciprocity, and expressed their preference for a policy that will undoubtedly secure for them better and higher prices for the produce and stock they have to sell and give them the benefit of lower prices for what they have to buy. There are, it is true, many farmers so wedded to partyism that they will reject and condemn a policy so manifestly beneficial to themselves because certain tory leaders and organs have condemned it; but there are a good many with sufficient independence to think the matter out for themselves and to vote accordingly.

To the Editor of The Warder.

SIR.-I saw in the columns of your paper an article published on Jan. the 4th concerning the nomination in Ops, at which I had the honor of being nominated for the council of Ops, that Mr. Geo. McHugh esjoled an expression from the esudidates of Ops in favor of lowering the dam. Now, Mr. McHugh never seked me whether I was in favor of lowering the water of Scuwas in favor of lowering the water of Scagog river or not. If you go to our minute book of 1886 you will find a resolution moved by me, seconded by Mr. Rea, to the minister of public works to have the scow
removed from across the river in Lindsay,
as I considered it is an injury to the ratepayers.

JOHNSTON ELLIS.

The Cakwood High School Situation. (To the Editor of THE POST.) SIR, -By statements that have appeared in THE POST of late you seem to think that the verdict of our election was more against the method of cetting the money or the arbitrary course the council took in passing that unjust by-law than against the high school itself. I think that verdict was as much and probably more against the injustice of the township supporting a high school at all at Oakwood. I have always thought that the county council did wrong in roping in the township in the high school district without the knowledge of the people. There was not one in twenty before this discussion came up that knew they were paying one cent to support the high school, but as soon as it was found out that they were paying to support the school there was a just and decided feeling against the school. just and decided feeling against the school. I could give the names of thirty or forty persons who are against the high school, yet they support the man who adopted that strange method of carrying the by-law over the people's heads or in other words, becoming a tool for the people of Oakwood. Now, sir, I am fully satisfied had our election been run purely on the question the people of the question the people of the question the purely on the question the people of the question the purely on the question the people of th our election been run purely on the ques-tion of school or no school then the anti-school men would have had much larger majorities. But that was too honest a course for the school men to take. They went back on their former proceedings and said "now we will elect a council in favor of leaving it to the people," but as they had no regular platform they were all things to all men to get a vote. As all things to all men to get a vote. As people well know attempts were made by would be politicians and wire-pullers to bring our contest into political partyism; but all attempts to make political capital failed, and the result was that the man that was running the show got into a trap and lost both his legs, and by standing astride the fence he has lost the confidence of all honest men. The schoolmen's platform was so broad that the people in general were afraid to trust to their houesty. Now I think after they have used every means possible, no matter how unfair, means possible, no matter how unfair, to carry the by law it would be a piece of injustice to the anti-school men for our council to give them any further con-sideration. What even if the people of Oakwood consider it unfair for the township of Mariposa to be taxed to make their village and farm property in the vicinity more valuable at the expense of lowering the value of property outside the favored few. They must have a strange conception of what fairness means. They might as well, as far as justice goes, ask of the south or north to contribute a certain amount towards running their farms or any other improvements they might see fit to make. The one would be as much use to us as the other. The people of this township do not feel disposed to keep up a high school at Oakwood when there are better schools in our reach, where there are much better advantages in getting an education, and just as cheap. It would be impossible for Oakwood school to compete with Lindsay and Port Perry and other larger places where many of our scholars go any way. Because Oakwood is dead of itself is no reason why it should he supported at the expense of the township. I have always heard that charity begins at home. Oakwood sticks to that to the death. The bible says from him that hath not shall be taken that he hath and given to him that hath; and I think the grants to Uskwood high school should be given to him that hath back home of its own anough to help itself. The Warder's uncalled for attack on Mr. Lownsbrough in connection with the high school question is no more than might be expected from the source from whence it came. It is very easy to see that it makes no difference to Sam how things are running in Mariposa so long as he can make political capital out of it. He did all he could in the columns of the Warder to elect a man in this township that took a course that I trust no other man in the township would be guilty of taking; but in spite of Sam's prodigious efforts the political ou cry was thrown to the moles and the bata, and the people unitedly voted for their own interests, and justice triumphed. I believe the county council should, in justice to the people, do away with the Oakwood high school district at once, and set the people free from any further injustice, trouble of expense.
