Next Season's Building Operations. Judging from preparations already made there is good reason for expecting that the amount of money invested in private building and improvements during the coming spring and summer will almost equal that of last season. It is a fact that desirable houses for rental are still scarce and some unfinished residences have been spoken for six months in advance of completion.

—Mr. S. Fox. proprietor of the brick yard south of the town, intends putting up another dwelling on Fair avenue, north ward. The one built by him last summer was disposed of at a good figure shortly afterwards. Mr. R. Smyth, dry goods merchant, will erect a fine brick business block on the site of the market hotel, south side of Kent and Cambridge streets, and the stone is now on the ground. The present building will be moved back and remodelled so as to make a couple of comfortable dwellings. The new block will effect a most desirable improvement in the appearance of that portion of Kent-st.

—Very little predisposition towards investors

-Very little predisposition towards imposing a "high license" upon Lindasy hotelkeepers in view of the repeal of the Scott act was manifested at the council meeting Monday evening, although it was looked for in some quarters. The figure for tavern and shop licensee was fixed at $200 each exclusive of the $70 imposed by the provincial authorities. This is the highest sum possible without a vote of the people being taken. This was held to be sufficient for the present year, as in case the people desired it a vote could be taken at the next municipal elections without extra expense. tions without extra expense.

first, we mean regarding the free trip, not, of course, concerning which is your best girl.

The attendance at the lock rink Tuesday evening despite the cold weather prevailing, was very large, the Citizens' band and mile championship race being the drawing features. Considerable interest was manifested in the race owing to the large number of entries, there being three representatives from each ward, owing to which circumstance the race had to be decided by heats of three entries each. Dr. Hood and Mr. E. W. Johnston looked after details, and finally announced Mr. H. Cullen to be the winner of the prize-a handsome gold scarf pin in the form of a skate..... Saturday night the Citizens' band will be again present, and to prevent jealousy a ladies' mile race will be contested for a suitable trophy.

A look at J. Riggs's advertisement will reveal a valuable secret to housekeepers and others. Mr. Riggs has secured the county right for Howard's compound scap for samily use New scaps are being continually introduced to the trade by manufacturers, but the inventors of this compound pursue a different course, selling but to one accredited agent in each town, who in turn may dispose of family rights to make, and the scap does away with all tiresome scrubbing and allows a large wash to be don- in half the usual time with a very small quantity of water. It also removes all kinds of stains, cleans soiled coat collars in a few applications, and is, besides, an excellent tollet scap. Housekeepers can not afford to be without Howard's compound scap. —Wednesday evening last the first snow-shoe trair p of the members of the Lindsay snowshoe club took place to Hutton's grove "across country," and proved a most enjoyable outing. About thirty ladies and gentlemen, the majori y in correct tramping costume, assembled at the Bank of Montreal at 7 30, and a good start was made at 8 00, the grove being reached without any very serious mishap as heur later. A stove and other ctaveniences had been surreptitiously introduced into one of the booths on the grounds during the day, and shertly after their arrival refresh ments in the form of hotvery hot—soup fragrant coffee and delicious sandwiches were served round and heartily appreciated. Mean while some of the gentlemen had not been idle, and p seently a huge benfire was illumining the sombre recesses of the wood, bringing out into strong relief the skeleton-like trees that were toosing to and fre sighing in mournful cadence with the fresh night breezs. The situation was faccinating and movel; indeed one of the party found it particular; by so when he was seeined by a dozen lusty arms as he was gasing dreamily into the embers and gives his baptian is royal style by being toased aleft ustil no strength remained to his tormeatons, when he was deciated to be over. This coup de mair was hearspected, and was the signal for much Hill-arity. A start was then made for town, which was reached about 10 33, everyone being delighted with the evening's —Yesterday (Thursday) two Peterboro rinks were expected by the 9 a.m. train, animated by a strong desire to efface the memory of the defeat suffered by them at the hands of the Liudsay men last week. Two matches were arranged for—one in the morning, and another during the afternoon. But the "cold snap" was not to the liking of the Peterboroites, hence their failure to live up to the articles of agreement.

—The following contests for the rink medals have been decided during the week, and it will be noticed with deep regret that President Jas. Keith has had to "knock under;" but the circumstraces of the case demand a most searching investigation ir order that an interested public may be assured that the "wool" was not pulled over his eyes in some way. Mr. Woodsworth gave a half-hour address full of facts regarding mission work; and Rev. Mr. Parker save a thrilling cocuum of his experience among the Indians during the rebelilon and at other times.
