day afternoon last St. Paul's church was illed to the doors with the elite of the town, Bebeaygeon, and Miss Meta A. Bridge daughter of the late Dr. Bridgman of Toro daughter of the late Dr. Bridgman of Toronto, and neice of our fellow citizen, Dr. Degrassi. The day was a beautiful ene—clear, crisp and pleasantly warm—and the rays of Old Sol stole is through the handsome stained glass windows in a mellow flood as if to symbolize the future life of the happy couple to be united. At three eclock the bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of Dr. Degrassi, elegantly attired in a dress of cream satin, with veil, and a beautiful wreath of orange blossoms, bearing in her hand a superb bouquet of white flowers, and a marmur of admiration ran through the large throng as she passed up the centre asis to the altar, where she was met by the happy bridegroom. The bridegroom, and the Misses Flora and Stella Hamilton of Toronto. Miss Boyd was attired in cream crape Duchene, pearl trimmings; Miss Hamilton in pink nun's veiling, and each looked charming. Mr. H. Hamilton and Mr. W. H. Dunsford of Toronto supported the groom in the presumably trying experience. Rev. C. H. Marsh, incumbent of St. Paul's, perfermed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Rural Dean Allen of Millbrook. Among the relatives and guests present were Mr. J. Macdonald of Albany, N.Y., member of the firm of M. M. Boyd & Co.; Dr. Bonnell and wife. Bobcaygeon; Rev. H. Simons, Professor Trinity college, and wife, Toronto; Mr. J. Belcher and wife, Peterboro; Miss Gallon, Mr. J. G. Edwards and others. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party drove to the residence of Dr. DeGrassi, Cambridge-st., where an elegant luncheon had been prepared. The happy couple left on the evening train on their honeymoon trip to British Columbia and California, bearing with them unlimited good wishes and congratulations from a large circle of friends.....The presents were beautiful and costly, prominent among them being a magnificent Italian marble clock from the many employees of the firm of M. M. Boyd & Co... Our sincers congratulations are added to the many for the future happiness of the newly married couple.

—We have received a copy of the Carnival Number of the Montreal Star. It is a superb number, a grand souvenir to send to distant friends and well worth preserving in private libraries as a memento of the most extraordinary winter in the history of Canada. We cannot describe the number as it is so elaborate. An order has been booked from London, Eng., for five thousand copies, while in Toronto and New York it has created a tremendous furore. The last edition is now being run off. The publishers send it to any address on receipt of the small sum of 35c.

—Tuesday at neon Georgina, the little 7-year old daughter of Mr. James Connolly, had a very narrow escape from serious injury. As she was passing over the crossing leading into the Daly house yard onher way to fulfil an errand a team turned in at a rapi: pace, knocking the child down under the horse's feet, from which position she was spee: ily extricated by passers-by and conveyed into Highsbotham's drug store, where it was discovered that she had escaped with a cut on the for head and several painful bruises. When taken home she said to her mother, who was naturally somewhat alaxmed when she saw there had been an accident, "Don't be afraid, mamma. I'm sot hurt; and I've got the money—I held it is my hand all the time." And so she had.

-Rev. Dr. Muir preached in St. Andrew's church last Sunday. He gave two very able and profound discourses. Twenty years ago Dr. Muir was pastor of the Old Kirk in Lindsay; and the older members of the congregation gave him a hearty welcome..... Dr. Muir is a genial man as well as a minister of great earnestess and fine theological attainments. He spent a day or two in Lindsay calling on old friends and new ones. We had the pleasure of an hour's visit of much interest. Dr. Muir's personal influence and popularity must be very great in the fortunate community in which he resides. Dr. Muir noticed and praised the remarkable growth of Lindsay and said he would hardly recognize the town Low. He was especially pleased at the flut church the Presbyterian congregation have erected.

-The annual congregational meeting of the Methodist church (Cambridge st.) was held on Monday evening and was very largely attended. Rev. Dr. Williams presided Rev. Mr. Greener presented the financial statements, which shewed a clear surplus for the year of $300, which was applied to the reduction of the debt. The total contributions for the year amount to about $4,500. Addresses were made by Messrs. Judge Dean, J. D. Flavelle, F. C. Taylor, J. L. Winter, John Clarke, E. Gregory, L. Maguire and others expressing gratification at the satisfactory results, and at the evidences of spiritual progress and material prosperity under Rev. Dr. Williams's pastorate. Applications were made for several contributions for the present year, which resulted in an increase of $150 from those present. The missionary contributions taken last Sunday were much in advance of former years.

The Snake-in-the-Grass Expose

It is not surprising that the Warder should try to attract attention from an exposure of Sam Hughes's snake-in-the-grass tactics by a column and a half of coarse personal abuse. A mean and malicious falsehood concerning the editor of THE POST was circulated in many quarters. Similar underhand tactics were resorted to by the same adventurer in the West Durham school inspector canvass, and resulted in his humiliating defeat, whereas if he had remained away he would have been chosen by a good majority. Similar tactics have been employed against others in tow; and there are few if any who knew the individual who will publicly state over his own signature that "Sam Hughes always strikes above the belt." Instead of that he often tries to knife in the dark and under the fifth rib..... We have never had occasion to discuss business matters in these columns nor shall we do so now. A malicious lie has been stamped out. The Warder's statement regarding The Post, it plant, and the extent of its business, have no foundation in point of fact whatever. Nor't there any truth in the statement the Cahalilos or a company was to take THE Post, or that people were asked to take a cole. Nothing of the kind was attempted in any shape or form. If it had been it would be none of the Warder's business. If a contemplated change is made or is not made it is no one's business. It is not a matter for discussion in a newspaput. To make it a subject of detraction is scandalous; but the editor of the Warder has long ago demonstrated that he has no sense of decency or propriety. Any one who crosses his path or opposes or thwarts any fancy or pet scheme of his comes in for foul abuse. It may be any of our learning local reform politicians; it may be a popular Methodist minister, who was repeatedly called a liar; it may be a half-dozen Protestant merchantsof kindasy who did not buy tickets for the Uniniquy lecture, and who have been told by Sam Hughes that thy a re" marked men;" it may be a worthy and espected old life hodiet former of Opp. who remonstrated with and condemned the Warder's slapederous attacks, and who got half a column of abuse; it will be the soft-her.
