Wedding Bells.—We are happy to record an event which took place here on Wednesday, 6th inst. Miss Rhoda E Swift, youngest daughter of Mr. T. Swift, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. H. Tamlin of Mariposa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. McAmmond of Fenelon Falls at the residence of the brine's father. The contracting parties were assisted by Mr. Jno. Cunday and Miss E. J. Swift. The bride looked the very picture of health and beauty. After the customary congratulations were over the happy couple, escorted by a few of the young folks, went for a drive to Fenelon Falls and returned in the evening, when tea was waiting for them. After the inner man was satisfied the company spent a very enjoyable evening and the happy couple left on the morning train for their wedding trip. The presents were costly and numerous as well as useful.

WARNEL'S SAFE CURE removes defective vision or sight. Why? Because it gets rid of the poisonous kidney acid circulation in the blood. Impaired vision is caused the prince of the vision for light's disease, another name for Bright's disease, which "has no symptom for its own." Warner, Safe Cure removed the cause, when mormal vision returns.

SCOTT ACT CONVENTION.—A convention of the supporters of the Scott act was held here on the 26th of Feb. to take into consideration the best means for the continuance of the Act in the county. Rev. Mr. Bell of Bethany was elected president and Rev. W. D. P. Wilson sec. The merits and demerits of the act were discussed and though all acknowledge that in some cases it was a failure, yet it did good also. All that were there pledged themselves to support it to the utmost of their power.

LECTURE.—In the evening there was a temperance lecture delivered by Rev. Mr. Williams of Ballyduff which told with telling effect upon a large audience who listened to it with marked attention. At the close of the lecture a vote was taken and almost all in the house signified their intention to give the act their support by standing on their feet.

ONTARIO COUNTY. SOME PERTINENT CONUNDRUMS.-Of course we always go in for enforcing such laws as are in force, but we could never see why a boy may not drink and play billiards if it is right and proper for a man to do so. Men make a big how! about taking away their personal rights if they are forbidden to play pool or to drink beer, but the same men set their feet right down both at once and say boys and girls shall both at once and say boys and girls shall not have their personal rights. At the town council on Monday night men waxed town council on Monday night men waxed indignant and swore by all that was law that boys must be fired out of billiard rooms, while some of the very same men have been seen to violate law in the barroom. Has not a boy as good a right to violate law as a man Has not a boy as good a right to gamble away fifty cents or a dollar as a man? Or have we reached a stage of existence where no person has rights but men? And these men, it seems, may go and violate law and make beasts. may go and violate law and make beasts may go and violate law and make beasts of themselves, while a boy cannot have a game of billiards. This being the fact, is it any wonder boys slip into billiard parlors and seek a little sport. There is a glaring inconsistency in almost all law which arrogates to men almost every privilege, and none to women or children without disgrace or punishment.—[Whitby Chronicle.

Wedding Bells.—On Wednesday last a very pleasing and important event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. Swift of Fenelon township, in the marriage of their youngest daughter, Rhoda E. to Mr. Wm. H. Tamlin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. McAmmond. A large number of friends and acquaintances were present. Miss Eliza J. Swift acted as bride's maid, while Mr. John Cundy ably supported the groom. The bride was beautifully attired and looked charming. The bride received about 30 presents which were very handsome. The happy couple drove to the Falls, accompanied by many friends, and left the next morning on an extended wedding tour. We wish the young couple much happiness.

Two Pets.—Mr. John A. Ellis has two pets.—a black squirrel which he caught in his barn a few days ago, and a large horned owl that could take the aquirrel like a pill if he got the chance. Mr. Ellis says the bird is the kind commonly called a "cat owl," and he is prepared to bet that the one he has will take all the nine lives of the flercest tom-cats as soon as he (the owl) gets hungry.

HIS TRUE INWARDNESS.—Since Bro. Sam Hughes (in an evil hour for the peace and quietness of Lindsay) obtained possession of the Lindsay Warder, that delectable sheet has caused many an unpleasant sensation; but it never contained anything that made so profound a stir in religious circles as the following brief "confession of faith," which appeared in last week's issue: "As a matter of fact, "if the aim of religion be simply to reach "Heaven, then any of the old heathen forms, or Mahometanism, Buddhism, etc., "will land the sin-struck soul in the happy hunting grounds just as satisfactorily as will any form of Christianity or the modern paganism — Romanism. The "only practical value belonging to either Christianity, or Romanism, or Mahometism, or Buddhism, is the benefit confered on mankind in this world of aim and misery. One is as good as the other in the next for the pious believer." "If Sam had been a Museulman," (as the song asys) or anything but what he is or professes to be, he would not have surprised his Christian readers by promulgating the above doctrine; but to think that, while pretending to be not only a Protestant, which is the most advanced kind of Christian, but an Orangeman, which is a sublimated Protestant, he held the views he has at length expressed, is a staggerer indeed. For years he has been howing away at Romanism in a fashion worthy of the direct descendant of the Protestant who wrote on the wall or gate of an Irish city: "Turk, Jew or Atheist may enter here, but not a Papist;" and now he expresses the conviction that Romanism as a religion is of e

She gave a graphic description of the habits and customs of the natives. LINDSAY PRESEYTERY.—The Lindsay presbytery met at Sunderland on February 26th. The Rev. L. Perrin, B.A., accepted the cail to Pickering and was translated to the Whitby presbytery. The following resolution was sustained on the removal of the Rev. E. Cockburn, M.A., from Uxbridge to Paris: "Resolved, that in granting the translation of Rev. E. Cockburn, M.A., from his present charge in this presbytery to his new field of labor in the presbytery to his new field of labor in the presbytery to his new field of labor in the presbytery of Paris we as a presbytery place upon record an expression of our deep sense of the lose which we sustain by his removal from our midst. We are deeply sensible of the fact that by his removal this presbytery is deprived of the services of a faithful, wise and successful pastor. As a member of this court he has been most punctual in attending its meetings. He has always assumed cheerfully a large proportion of its business which his executive ability enabled him to discharge to the entire satisfaction of all his brethren. As the presbytery's representative on the home mission committee he has rendered invaluable service to the mission felds within the bounds of the presbytery. He has always brought ripe judgment to bear upon every question that engaged the attention of the presbytery; and while unflinching in his contention for what he conscientiously believed to be right, he was always generous and considerate towards his brethren whose judgment might differ from his own. We deeply regret the removal from us of one whose services we so highly value, whose character we so much admire and whose friendship and brotherly love we all so very much esteem. Our prayers are that the Lord may accompany him to his new field of labor and that he may long be spared to carry out the Master's work, and that by the divine blessing an ever increasing measure of success may attend his labors."... A large a following ministers were appointed com-missioners to meet the general assembly: Mesers. J. R. Scott, J. B. McLaren and John McMillan; and as elders: Mesers. G. F. Bruce, T. H. Glendinning and John Mc-Lennan. The presbytery received a report of the presbyterial foreign mission associa-tion holding their annual meeting, and sent in reply a deputation with the follow-ing resolution to them: "That the presby-tery receive with satisfaction the annual report of the women's foreign mission presbyterial association of Lindsay, express report of the women's foreign mission presbyterial association of Lindsay, express their gratitude to God for the multiplication of auxiliaries within the bounds, for the growing interest and liberality of the members of the society in this important department of the church's work, assure the society of the presbytery's sympathy and co-operation, commend it to the grace of God with the prayer that the Christian women of the presbytery in endeavoring to give the gospel to their sisters in heathen darkness may secure a gracious outpouring of the holy spirit upon themselves and their bounds." After a large amount of routine business the presbytery adjourned with a vote of thanks to the friends of Sunderland for their large-hearted hospitality. The next regular meeting will be held in Lindsay on the last Tuesday of May at 11 a.m.

J. R. Scott, presbytery clerk.

LONGEVITY.

Scientific men see no reason why the span of human life may not be extended to a round hundred years from the present limit of seventy to eighty years.

limit of seventy to eighty years.

From Adam's time to that of Methuselah and Noah, men are recorded as attaining to well night the age of 1,000 years. The Psalmist David, however, says: "The days of our age are threescore years and ten; and though men be so strong that they come to fourscore years, yet is their strength then but labor and sorrow; so soon passeth it away, and we are gone."

This wide margin of longevity, together with proper observance of mental, moral and physical laws, leads investigators to believe it is possible that human life might be made to increase in length of days to a full century, at least.

be made to increase in length of days to a full century, at least.

Moderation and regularity in eating, drinking and alceping are conductve to longevity, and those who observe proper habits and use pure and efficacious remedies when sick, may accomplish immense labor with no apparent injury to themselves and without foreshortening their lives.

selves and without foreshortening their lives.

Hon. H. H. Warner, President of the Rochester, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce, and manufacturer of the celebrated Warner's Safe Cure, has devoted much time and research to this subject of longevity, and has arrived at the satisfactory conclusion that life may be prolonged by rational and natural means. Thousands of persons are living to-day—enjoying the blessing of perfect health and vigor—who will testify to the almost magical efficacy of Warner's Safe Cure in restoring them to physical potency and to the normal type of constitution, after they had almost given up hope of life.

stitution, after they had almost given up hope of life.

After middle age, many begin to lose their wonted vigor of body, and thereupon give way to inertness and useless repining. Yet all such have within reach that which both renews youth and contributes to the prolongation of life. Warner's marvelous Safe Cures are in every drug store, and are now regarded as standardspecifics throughout the civilized world.

The strong desire to attain eld age—meantime retaining the virile powers of body and mind—is necessarily connected with the respect paid to aged persons, for people would scarcely desire to be old, were the aged neglected or regarded with mere sufference.
