THE 17TE.—The anniversary of St. Patrick was celebrated in true Irish style in our little village. A very large aumber of persons displaying shamrocks and wearing pieces of green ribbon came to hear the very eloquent lecture delivered at the 10.30 mass by our worthy and gifted pastor, Rev. P. McMahon. The subject, "Ireland," was handled in an able manner by the lecturer, who spoke for over an hour and held spellbound a very appreciative audience. Born, reared and educated in Ireland, the rev. gentleman gave from his own experience striking illustrations of the condition of the Irish poor and the cruei treatment of their oppressors. Everyone was unanimous in pronouncing it one of the speaker's best efforts, which is saying a good deal. A silver collection taken amounted to the handsome sum of $50.

INCENDIARISM. — Wednesday morning, 20th inst., the old blacksmith shop owned by Mr. A. B. McLean and occupied by Mr. George Urquhart was burned. On 24th February an attempt was made to burn the same shop, but was discovered in time to stop what might have been a very serious confiagration, and as it seemed by bottles that were found and the strong smell of coal oil that it was the work of an incendiary Coroner Beall of Lindsay was sent for and held an inquest. He gave the decision that it was set on fire by some unknown person. Now that it is burned no doubt the insurance companies will look after the matter.

[To the Editor of THE POST.]
AN EXPLANATION WANTED.—Your Elm-field correspondent has honored me so far as to mention my name twice in connection with a debating society which his inauguration has created at that place. As I regarded the first of these items as a harm-garded the first of these items as a harmless publication I did not notice it, besides most of my neighbors suspecting who the author was, said either he or his items were unworthy of any sensible or truthtelling person's notice. But as this sneak in the bush thought fit to write the account of a second debate which never took place unless in his own fertile imagination, it appears to me about time to call his attention to the eighth commandment, knowing as well as many others who understand, the true meaning of this second and apparently innocent place of lying in his second communication in which he tries to cast a slur on my name. Knowing that he has neither manliness or courage enough to come out like a man and say over his own name what he is saying in a most underhand manner, in charity to him I wish to iet him know that if he will sneak about in his own favorite style that I will treat him free gratis to an application of sand paper. It might brighten his ideas, I believe it is highly beneficial to those whose heads become too large for their hats. He may call any day between now and the first of April—the last preferred, that being all fool's day. I may be somewhat busy but I will accommodate him. fars will be admitted also. Now, Mr. Editer, as this last item has a meaning that I am sure you do not understand or you would never have published it in your valuable paper, I would like to have you publish the author's name as both the items were false from beginning to end. There were no such debates at all and I feel sure if you knew the full meaning of the second firm that you would in justice to me publish his name for I do not think that you would wish to have any one as a correspondent to your paper who has such a total disregard for the truth.

LECTURES,—The lecture "Why lieft the Church of Rome," given by Rev. Father Chiniquy, the converted Roman Catholic priest, in Pontypool Methodist church, on Thursday evening, March 31st, was well attended and proved very interesting...... Rev. Dr. White, the great temperance orator, delivered one of the most interesting, instructive and scientific discourses on temperance in the Methodist church that we have ever had the pleasure of listening to. We cannot see how any intelligent man could cast his influence on the side of wrong by voting for the repeal of an act which has for its object good, although that good was not as great as anticipated, after listening to Dr. White.

CHANGES.—Dr. Phillips has changed his office and residence to John-st., opposite Scott's store...... Rev. Mr. Wendell has moved into Dr. Phillips' late residence.

SONYA.

READING CIRCLE.—Will you kin ly explain to your readers the management of the reading circle mentioned in The Post last week. Some years ago I tried to introduce something of the kind in connection with our Sunday school here.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The Sonya literary club gave their promised entertainment on the 22nd inst., and were largely patronized. An overflowing audience listened for four hours with unflagging interest to the performance of the long and varied program. To attempt to describe in detail the execution of nearly forty songs, dialogues, etc., would be unwise, and to mention some where all did well would be invidious; yet I think it permissable to notice the strangers who kindly came from a distance to aid us, leaving our home amateurs to the pleasurable reflections derived from a clear consciousness of having done their work faithfully and well. Mr. J. Burns of Whitby appeared on the stage four times, and his rendering of Scotch songs delighted the audience. Mr. Kerr of Ashburn gave three songs and was also warmly adplauded; and Miss Maggie Beccroft fully sustained her reputation as a vocalist of the first order. Our literary club have had practical proof that it is an ill wind that blows no good, for that which we feared would ruin our entertainment—the continuous warm weather, failure of sleighing, and bad state of the roads,—proved a mercy, for it kept many away whom we could not possibly have accommodated. The financial result was very satisfactory, the receipts amounting to $30.60.

ICOTRESPONDENCE OF The Post.]

NEW STOCK. - Mr. S. Champion, our enterprising tailor, after getting comfortably situated in his new shop on Mill-st. west, has been to the city where he purchased and will open out in a few days a fine new stock of the latest styles and designs of worsteds, Scotch and Canadian tweeds, pantings, etc. In his present quarters Mr. Champion thinks he will be able to successfully compete with the spring trade, and will no doubt be pleased to again see all his customers of last year and as many new ones as can make it convenient to call on him.

NEW MACHINE.—Mr. Joseph Maunder has placed in his sash and door factory a fine new three sided moulder, manufactured by the well known firm of Cant Bros. & Co. of Galt, Ont. With his present facilities Mr. Maunder is now in a position to turn out first-class work in all house furnishings and as cheap as equally good work is sold elsewhere.

SCOTT ACT —April 4th is the day for voting on the Scott act, and as it is only a few days before that time we would like to see all that have any interest in the wellfare of their fellow creatures and their country at heart come out on that day and roll up a good big majority for the act. We think the act is growing in popularity every day and if it is only given half a chance will prove a grand success.

CORRECTION.—A slight error occurs in the announcement of the subject for debate next Monday evening by the literary society, printed on our inside page. It should read thus: "Resolved, that the study of history should be given greater prominence in our schools than the study of mathematics."—[ED. Post. LITTLE BRITAIN.
