DEBATE ON THE JESUIT QUESTION.—Our literary society held their monthly entertainment on Tuesday night. The principal feature was a debate, the subject, "Be it resolved that the thirteen members who favored Col. O'Brien's resolutions were not justified in doing so." The speakers on the affirmative were Geo. McCartney, J. J. Preston, and J. W. Brownlee; on negative, Dr. Brereton, R. Mitchell, and G. A. Twigg. Mr. T. O'Brien acted as chairman and decided in favor of the negative. Miss Sharp and Miss Richardson gave two recitations that were well worthy of note for the able manner in which they were rendered.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The members of the union Sunday school at this place are preparing for their annual strawberry festival v hich they purpose holding on the evening of the 1st July. This is only a young school and being held in the public school building works under many disadvantages not experienced in the regular Sunday school class room, but it is accomplishing a work and making a reputation for itself worth being proud of. A good program is in course of preparation for the evening of this festival. Refreshments of strawberries with all the good cream you want, cakes, lemonade and tes will be served from six to eight o'clock, after which the program will be rendered. The money realized in the evening will be used in adding more volumes to their already fine library.

[Correspondence of The Post.]
R. C. Picnic.—The most enjoyable event of the season came off on Thursday, the of the season came on on Thursday, the 13th inst. For weeks past this has been the theme of conversation, and the best efforts of the managing committee and members of the congregation had been put forth and resulted in making it a grand success. The cash receipts were not quite up to last year, but there was a great deal more fun. The chief attraction was a foot ball match between the married and single men, which took nearly the entire day to ball match between the married and single men, which took nearly the entire day to decide, and we do not think there was one on either side who did not take a tumble. The married men, however, came off victorious. Nearly all the program was gone through and all the prizes smartly contested for. The skift double scull race was exceptionally close and very much enjoyed. The vacht race was also a great attraction. exceptionally close and very much enjoyed. The yacht race was also a great attraction, and together with the steamers from Beaverton and Orillia made Brechin beach appear very gay. The committee wish to specially thank Mr. McRae and friends from Beaverton for lending so much assistance on that occasion. Their little steamer is a perfect sea bird. We congratulate Father McMahon on his success, as he save this about wines out the paraas he says this about wipes out the parochial debt.

NARROW ESCAPE. - Last week while Jno. Stewart was working in a well a large bucket filled with stones was by some mishap allowed to drop on him, breaking his nose and otherwise injuring him. We are glad, however, to see him out sgain. Only his strength and good constitution saved him.

Too Much Rain .- The extended rains have paid havoc with the crops on low lands in this locality, some being completely drowned out.

PORTABLE SAW MILL.—Mr. Alex. Cameron, of Beaverton, has arrived with his portable saw mill for the purpose of sawing the logs gotten out by L. Forrest at Brechin beach. This looks like business, and we hope to see some building done on the beach before long. Mr. Forrest is hard at work clearing up the lake front and making improvements. He says we may expect another excursion about the middle of next month.

Social. - On the evening of the 17th inst about two hundred people gathered at the residence of one of our most respectable farmers to enjoy a large social given as a final meeting with the resident minister. The success of the evening plainly proves that there are other ways than dancing that can furnish material for an evening's enjoyment. All present cannot apparently speak highly enough in its praise. Those arriving early in the evening were interested with music, croquet, etc. Before all had collected two tables abundantly supplied were filled and re-filled. After tea different sources of amusement were reorierent sources of amusement were resorted to until nearly dark, when all that could be were crowded into the house. When standing room was no longer available the remainder crowded as near the doors as possible in order to enjoy an elaborate and well-directed program of glees, solos, recitations and music from various instruments. Then came the climate of borate and well-directed program of glees, solos, recitations and music from various instruments. Then came the climax of the evening's proceedings. The following address was read and presentation made to Mr. Magahay, who had not been made acquainted with the object of the social by any one. Dear Bro. Magahay,—We, a few of your friends in this field of labor, have met to enjoy with you the last evening of your presence. During your short but eventful association with us we have been taught to respect, hower and revere you. From the time you first made an appearance to the present our regard for you has ever increased. We have not failed to see where many times you have practised self-denial that our spiritual condition might be improved. The plain, simple, unassuming way in which you have exemplified the religion of Jesus has decidedly made it appear more real and desirable. Your influence in the temperance cause has been appreciated and has resulted in inestimable good. We trust that wherever you may be in the future you will always prove to be a man of your convictions in connection with this great agitation in which you have already laid the foundation of a life of honor, reputation and fame. In regard to ministerial duties generally your conduct and walk have been quite commendable of your efficiency in the capacity you now labor with zeal and unselfishness. Please accept this purse and album not as an indication of our appreciation of your efforts or our esteem for you, but an act of remembrance and kindness. You may rest assured, dear sir, that wherever in the providence of God you may be placed yeu have our best wishes and earnest prayers for your success in the great work of grace and labor of love.—

Signed,

A RIBERAL OFFER.—Mr. L. Forrest offers as an experiment any quantity of the Brechin Mineral Water free of charge sufficient to gure a case of Bright's disease of the kidneys. The patient to furnish certificates from two preminent physicians verifying the existence of such disease, also a certificate of a cure, if one be made, from the same physicians. Also will refund the money to any party having a case of diabetes the water will not cure, if taken in time, doctor's certificates to be furnished as above. For the sake of suffering humanity we publish the testimony of one of the prominent men in this part of the country, Nelson Heastip, esq., reeve of Bexley and twice warden of Victoria county. He says: "I feel it my duty after a two months' use of the Brechin Mineral Water to state that I am now enjoying health and strength sufficient to resume my ordinary farm labors after suffering two years with a serious kidney disease (diabetes.) During my illness I drank many different mineral waters with varying results till I tried the Brechin water, which I pronounce the best of all, and to its beneficial effects I attribute my recovery."

SURPRISE AND PRESENTATION.—About one hundred of the friends and neighbors of Mr. A. Carmichael invaded his home on Friday evening, 21st inst., and as soon as the visitors had taken full possession Mr. Carmichael was presented with a purse of money and Mrs. Carmichael with a fur coat. The following address was read:—

To Alex. Carmichael, esq.—Dear Str.—We, your neighbors assembled here this evening, learn with the deepest feelings of regret that you are about to depart from our midst to find a home in a newer province, and we embrace this opportunity to tender you our best regards and wish you a sincere farewell. On this the eve of your departure we look back with tender feelings on our past lives, some of us to the time when your father braved the hardships of a pioneer life in Fenelon, others of us have been your associates thus far through life, and it pains us that these tender associations are to be severed. As a neighbor we have always found in you the manly and open-hearted qualities of a Christian. We shall miss you in the Sunday school and in the church. We are prompted this evening to say the sad and tender word good-bye; but we are confident and hope that your departure is to you a step ferward in prosperity. Although you leave us we shall still cherish the memory of past associations, and you go accompanied with our best wishes. As a token of esteem we present you with this fur coat, and our prayer is that the Master whom you serve will abundantly bless you and your amiable wife with many happy any prosperous years and a glorious future.—Signed on behalf of your neighbors.

EVANGELISTIC.—The Rev. D. O. Crossley EVANGELISTIC.—The Rev. D. O. Crossley, the Bay Quinte conference evangelist, commenced special services last Sabbath in the new Methodist church in this village. He was greeted by a large congregation, one of the largest which has assembled in the church since the opening services last winter. The meetings are continued nightly with services in the afternoon of Tuesdays and Thursdays. The song services on the evenings of these days are special features of the meeting. Mr. Crossley seems eminently adapted to this department of Christian work.

Time to Repent.—The slanderer who is controlling the Warder columns to attack and abuse our respected reeve should attend the Crossley revival services. He has almost one foot in the grave, and instead of slandering his former neighbors he should be trying to save himself from future torments. He doesn't believe in anything of the kind, of course, but there is hope even for him, as the old hymn, with a slight change, says:—

BETHEL SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

—It is a matter for pleasant reflection to know that on the side lines and concession lines of this township there are Christian workers engaged in promoting the interests of our common Christianity. Bethel Sunday school had their anniversary on Tuesday, 25th inst., and it was one of the best arranged and carried out it has been our privilege to attend for some time. The entertainment and program (except the tes) was held in a grove near the church in a delightful spot on the farm of Mrs. John Brown and occupied by Mr. Rich. The committee spared no pains in fixing up the spot for the platform, and a nice musical and literary program was well given. Everybody was "at home" under the chairmanship of Uncle Jesse Weldon. Recitations by the scholars, addresses by Revs. Messrs. Curts and Briden and Mr. B. Hancock, were well given. The tea was unsurpassed with pleasant lads and charming girls to wait on you. Miss Lee presided at the organ, and Mr. W. R. Cunnings and a number of other good singers made up a choice lot for choir and choruses.
