Master D. Soully, second son of Mr. Dennis Scully of Downeyville, left last week to attend (such agricultural college. The excellent training received there, together with the fact that Master D. is a clever boy, is sufficient to warrant his success.

-Mrs. M. A. Hurd of Rochester, N Y., is now paying a brief visit to her many old friends and acquaintances in Toronto, lindsay and Ope, after an absence of twenty-four years. She is receiving a warm welcome from her old associates in the above-named places.

-Mr. C. K. Stewart, the elever young bache-lor editor of the Bobesygeon independent, pass-ed through town Saturday from a holiday visit to Toronto and other cities, where he put in a capital time. The conundrum is: how is it that C. K. remains a bachelor so long when the Bob-caygeon young ladies are so invincible with outsiders?

outsiders:

Mr. F. R. Stewart, who has been relieving editor of the Boboaygeon Independent for the past two of three weeks, during the absence of the publisher on a well-carned holiday, was in town Saturday. F. R. is seriously thinking of hanging out his shingle in Toronto as "relieving editor" for the country papers, as he believes a good business could be worked up in that line. wood business could be worked up in that line.

—Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., of Peterboro was in town yesterday attending the public meeting re the iron mines in the back country. Mr. Stratton is indefatigable in promoting the interests of the back country.... When in town he met with an amusing incident, "How do you do, Mr. Meredith," he remarked, supposing at first he was meeting the leader of the opposition. But it was a rising young Lindsey barrieter.

Mr. J. R. Knowleon, for many years the efficient and popular town cierk and treasurer, has resigned that postion. He has always most atteractorily discharged his official duties and resigns simply because like the rest of us he is getting older, and other matters require his attention... Mr. Fred. Knowleon, for some years acting cierk for his father, has been promoted to the vacant place. That he will make captable official goes without raying. Fred. is one of the youngest cierks in the country and is prohably the handsomest.

Tuesday afternoon last two mes who had unmistakably tapped the flowing bowl once too often engaged in a rough and tumble fight on the street opposite The Poer block, and succeeded in damaging each other's features considerably. A crowd of about one hundred persons witnessed the fight, but made no attempt to separate the combatants and put an end to the disgraceful scene until a well-known rev. gentleman who was passing made request to that effect. The rev. gentleman then followed up the part of the good Samaritan by taking one of the combatants—the one that was least to blame, and who acted mostly on the defenuative—to a place of safety, and did not leave him until he had him washed and brushed and court plaster applied where necessary. The other combatant found his way to an adjacent hotel, where some badly needed repairs were made.

Considerable comment was made upon the absence of the police, but it appears they were engaged elsewhere.

-Last Tuesday evening the Young Men's Christian Association held their monthly business meeting. The meeting was the best held for some time, over sixty young men being present. The invitation committee reported doing good work and the entertainment committee have a good program for our young men for the fall and winter. The association have lately issued a prospectus and the program may there be seen. The following is a brief extract from the secretary's report: During the month of September five young men's meetings were held on Sundays, with a total attendance of 162; average, 32. Total number of visits to the rooms for the month, not including Sundays and Fridays, 538; average, 25... Several letters of introduction were given to young men leaving town and going to other places. After the business of the evening a program was rendered and fruit served, and the yourg men spent a pleasant evening. Christian Association held their monthly busi-
