The ball to be held on Dec. 20th under the auspices of Midland lodge No. 308, Brotherhood of Brakesmen, promises to be a very successful gathering judging by the number who have already signified their intention of being present.

—We direct attention to the advt. of the executors' sale of a part of the estate of the late G. Laidlaw at The Fort on Tuesday, Dec. 3rd. The opportunity will be an excellent one for intending purchasers. Household furniture, farm implements, stock, etc., will be offered for sale. Mr. R. Bowes will wield the hammer.

—The street and bridge committee held a meeting last Friday evening to discuss the Lindsay-st. sewer question with the rateyayers interested for and against. The petition was pronounced to be insufficiently signed by supporters of the drain. The council will probably deal with the matter next Monday evening.

—The adjourned meeting of the waterworks

—The adjourned meeting of the waterworks committee should assemble Monday evening to present additional information and discuss tenders, if any. It so happens that Monday evening is council meeting night as well, and unless the waterworks committee is called together for Saturday evening (which would be inconvenient for business men) a lively time may be looked for.

Reepers should use it.

—Saturday evening last two vehicles proceeding in opposite directions collided on Cambridgest, owing to the intense darkness, and a wheel was jerked off one, while the occupants of the other rig were precipitated into the mud. Additional lights on our leading thoroughfares are badly needed—but drivers and peds should take comfort from the remark of a worthy councillor in session: "Sure the snow will be here soon and then we won't need any extra light."

deservedly so, for he gave the Eingston public a fare treat, and in every way fulfilled the promises of his advertisement. One of the beauties of the show is its infinite variety, so that the testes of all are satisfied. There are singing, dancing, comicalities of all kinds, and many things besides to charm the eye, please the ear and tickle the humer. The marionaties were immense and danced roars of laughter. Johnsie Patten, the clog dancer, is wonderfully simble on his feet and carned great applease. The missred troups is a first-class one, and the conjuring was also of the best; in fact everything was also of the best; in fact everything was also of the prizes, and here, too, Prof. Semon fulfilled all promises, distributing more than a hundred valuable presents. Altoyether the show was a great moreus, and was well worth the catrance money even without the prizes. ... Prof. Semon has many new features this season; the flaces filledone we have seen for some time in the great Demon Cacopy act, in which I rene and Zera figures appare. —Further improvements are in progress in connection with the rooms occupied by the Catholic literary association and the Catholic mutual benevolent association. The stairway is being thoroughly repaired, and though no shorter an ascent may be made in future with a feeling of safety hitherto unknown by those who attend the entertainments held there. Inside, the stage is to be carpeted, suitable seenery painted—and there are vague rumors of a magnificent drop curtain being among the possibilities. Whether or no, the rooms will shortly be as comfortable and well equipped for the purposes intended as any in the town.

—One very undesirable effect of last week's continued downpour was to transform Lindsay's broad thoroughfares into veritable rivers of mud, that seemed to flow towards the crossings—and stop there. The condition of the various makes and styles of footwear to be seen on Kent-st. would send an enterprising boot-black desirous of earning an honest living by tenhours' work into a fit. The only casualty reported up to date occurred on Saturday morning last, when the Simpson house bus was "mired" near the corner of Kent and Cambridge-sts, while returning from the train with a load of passengers, who had to "step down and out."

The pupils and teachers of the collegiate institute are making an effort to furnish the assembly hall with chairs. They propose doing this by giving to the people of Lindgay a highclass concert by the best available talent in Ontario, namely: Miss Nora Clench, the talented young Canadian violiniste, just returned from a brilliant series of triumphs under the best masters in the old world, has won the highest praise from the critics of Toronto and Hamilton;
Mrs. Caldwell, whose name is a household word among the music lovers of Ontario; Miss Calvin, a rising planiste of merit, and Mr. E. W.
Schuch, choirmaster of the Church of the Redeemer and leader of University college glee club, two of Toronto's favorite musical organizations, well known for his stirring patriotic singing, hie voice being an exceptionally fine and powerful baritone. They can give our citizens this opportunity of hearing such music only if a sufficient guarantee list be secured. this by giving to the people of Lindgay a high only if a sufficient guarantee list be secured. Already considerable support has been given, and for the next two days the guarantee list will be at Porter's bookstore for those who may desire to further this project, and those who have not signed are invited to do so at earliest convenience.

-Mr. A. Campbell reports large sales of the celebrated "Sunlight Soap," imported from England, and advertised so attractively in The Post. The pure ingredients of which it is compounded forbid it being classed as a "oheap" soap, but its cleansing and lasting qualities are double those of any other—in fact its an uncommonly good article, and all house-keepers should use it. Last Tuesday morning preliminary proceed ings in the action of Macmurchy against Hughes for criminal libel in publishing a letter of "Swipes," were opened at the polioe court before Mr. A. O'Leary, P. M. The information was sworn to on the 19th inst. by Mr. Macmurchy, and the grounds of the complaint were based on the publication of the letter of "Swipes" in the Victoria Warder of November 8th, and the editorial written by Mr. Hughes calling the attention of the public to "read it." Mr. McSweyn appeared for Mr. Macmurchy, the proceedurer, and Mr. Hudspen for Sam. Hughes, the defendant. Mr. Hughes tes dered an apology, which was not accepted, and after some delay a conference between counsel took place and Mr. Hughes was advised that he should make whatever apology might be satisfactory to the plaintiffs. A form of apology was accordingly prepared by Mr. McSweyn and will no doubt be published in the Warder this week. The proceedings were adjourned until 10 a. m. to-day.

Mr. Macmurchy's action for damages against "Swipes" will not be stopped by the apology, but will go on. The action of Mr. Cooper against "Swipes" and the publisher of the Warder will also be pressed. ngs in the action of Macmurchy against Hughes

—A well-known livery man from a town not more than three-quarters of an hours' ride from Lindsay by rail—to mention names would be invidious—who spent a few days in Lindsay a few weeks ago, ventured the statement that his Lindsay brethren were very careless with regard to the condition of their vehicles and harness, and apparently never cleaned either on the score that they would only get dirty again. "Where he came from," he added, "such livery barns would be boycotted and would have to close up." Our livery men will know whether there is anything in this "to point a moral and adorn a tale." held on Tuesday night, was without doubt the event of the season. Public expectation had been thoroughly aroused by the promise of a program of rare excellence, and the unanimous opinion of those present was that the warmest enticipations were abundantly realized. Everything was favorable. The evening was fine, the stage was beautifully fitted up in the style of a drawing room; the list of artists was one of uncommon merit; and the hall was packed to the doors with an audience the most select and intelligent that Lindsay could furnish. The program was opened with the duett, "I feel thy ngel spirit," by Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. Thos. Junn of Peterboro, who also contributed a simple an umber at the close of evening. Mrs. McIntyre has not sung frequently before a Lindsay audience, but the grace and ease of her manner and the flexibility, compass and sweetness of her well-twined voice place her high among our popular favorites. Those who have heard Mr. Dunn sing in other places are always warm in their praise of his magnificent voice. He was equally fortunate in the impression he created Tuesday evening, and his well-chosen and well-rendered selections were one of the most placeing features of the program. Mrs. Church in her violin solos showed herself to be a mistress of that delightful instrument. "The Legende," by Weniawashi, and "Sounds from Home," by Gun'l, were received with warm and unanimous applause. Lindsay is to be congratulated on possessing an artist of Mrs. Church's rare ability. Mr. Church has established hindself as a favorite on the few occasions on which he has appeared in public. The pathos of his charming number "Kathaleen Mavourneen" and the pleasing off hand case of "The Little Fisher Maiden" made his powerful and well-controlled bartone one of the welcome attractions. The accompaniments, always an important item in a concert, were played with marked excellence by Miss Keepsen of lindsay and Mrs.
