LONGFELLOWS MAIDEN, who is standing with reluctant feet, where the brook and river meet. Womanhood and childhood meet!

is a type of thousands of young girls who are emerging from the chrysalis stage of their existence, as the chrysalis upon which their nervous, excitable, irritable, stirred by strange, unknown forces within them, each a mystery unto herself, out girls need the tenderest care, the most loving, patient, cross-grained, and the aid of the physician's prescription, to safely carry them through this critical period, during which, in too many lives, alas, and the seeds of disease, the forming forms of disease peculiar to the female sex, as the loom to womanhood will prevent all such diseases, or cure them, if they have already seized a victim. Womanhood is a herculean task, and to her social station, to be well and strong, she then not neglect the sure means of cure. Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization, and perfectly harmless in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. Sold by druggists, $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

HARVEY HANGED AT GUELPH.

A Show-Bonding Judge, The Hangman, and a Spectator—His Escape From the Gallows—The Hangman Dies in the Terrible Struggle—The Death Struggle a Bloody Fight.

William E. Harvey, the Guelph murderer, suffered the extreme penalty of the law at 8:02 o'clock Friday morning. The hangman by mistake placed the noose under the prisoner's chin, and consequently death was not instantaneous. It was ten minutes before the doomed man was dead, and his struggles as he felt himself slowly choked to death were terrible, and his groans could be heard by the mob of crowd congregated outside the prison walls. He met his fate cheerfully and with resignation. With a prayer on his lips the majesty of the law was vindicated and the awful crime committed in a mad moment of pride and passion atoned for.

THE LAST MOMENTS. After the death watch had been relieved Sheriff McKim visited the condemned man, accompanied by the Rev. Archdeacon Dixon. The previous evening Rev. Mr. Cooper of Acton, and Rev. Mr. McKay of Guelph, expressed a desire to offer Harvey spiritual consolation, but he refused to see anyone except the Archdeacon. The vestal churchmen were much interested in Harvey's case, and he had spent the night in the jail so as to be on hand early in the morning. A number of young ladies, a deacon, and a clerk were in the corridor within hearing of the prisoner the previous evening, but Harvey refused to allow it.

W. G. T. U.

The provincial W. G. T. U. held its first convention in the Baptist church, Galt, on October 29th, at 10 o'clock a.m. The president, Mrs. Bethour, of Thorold, presided. The president's address was a most comprehensive and able paper, and went over the whole ground of temperance legislation and temperance work throughout the world. Mrs. Bethour referred to the great spread of intoxicating liquor in Alberta, and coming down to our own country, commented adversely upon the action of the provincial W. G. T. U. in introducing a law licensing the sale of beer in the territories, in spite of the fact that the legislature by vote of 14 to 6, expressed themselves favorable to the prohibitory law which had been in force for fifteen years. She laid her responsibility for this subversion of the will of the people at the door of the Dominion government, whose sanction Mr. Royal had secured for his license law. Notwithstanding the discouragement arising from the repeal of the Scott act throughout the entire province, Mrs. Bethour said that the outlook was hopeful. She hoped that a resolution would be passed endorsing the action of the Dominion W. G. T. U. on the question of license and prohibition, embodied in the following resolutions: (1) That we are unalterably opposed to the liquor traffic and believe it cannot be licensed without sin. (2) We regret the defeat of the Scott act in the territories of this province, but trust that it will result in a more complete demand for a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. (3) That we have no hope of prohibition from any political party which seeks to give our individualistic abolition of the liquor traffic a plank in its platform. (4) That we believe a revenue taken from the liquor traffic has a tendency to blind the eyes of the taxpayers to the real source of the evil, and to the conscience of the public generally. (5) That we believe prohibition should be made an immediate political issue. (6) That we pledge ourselves to give our individual support to the party which will unequivocally put the plank of prohibition in its platform. (7) That we strongly condemn the present political parties for their trucking silence in the campaign documents and public addresses on the question of immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic. (8) That we urge a constant agitation and education of the public mind, and the awakening of the public conscience and sentiment. (9) That we condemn the introduction of license in the North-west territories in opposition to the law and public opinion of Canada.

Referring to the question of labor reform in its relation to the temperance cause, the president said: "It is our duty to recognize the fact that the temperance cause is so frequently manifesting itself in the industrial departments of the world's labor. They certainly point to the need of social and industrial reforms. Labor organizations and leaders are evidently impressed with the greatness of the danger to the best interests of the workingmen of this country from the liquor traffic. Some of the most prominent labor leaders have been seen by some of the wisest and safest leaders of labor reform in favor of advanced temperance legislation." The subject of temperance reform was also touched upon. She was gratified to say that such instruction was now compulsory in all public schools in the province. By a recent order of the department of education the subject of temperance was made an optional subject for Christmas entrance to high schools. "The Hon. Mr. Rose," said the president, "deserves and receives our highest commendation for his requests in this line of progress. These favors from the hon. minister leads us to hope that very soon temperance will be placed on a departmental list with the other subjects for regular examination. There are over four hundred common school teachers in the province of Ontario and over 610,000 children of school age. The number of children receiving instruction in temperance and hygiene was 75,286 in 1887-8. The number of children receiving instruction in temperance and hygiene was 80,100 in 1888-9. It is stated that the temperance people that are neglecting the work of moral suasion and giving their attention too much to political methods. In no sense have the temperance people failed to make the moral suasion idea prominent. Some people limit its extent and apply it only to the drinkers. The W. G. T. U. applies moral suasion to the manufacturer, the importer, the retailer, and the consumer. We teach them that alcohol is not only injurious to the human system, but absolutely harmful. It is stated that 95 per cent of all children taking the temperance pledge remain faithful to their early vows. This being true we have the highest encouragement and our work is of vast importance. The practical suggestions in the president's address were referred to the executive committee.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK. It is stated that the United States is losing the rate from the sale of the quarters of a million dollars annually in the duty on opium smuggled into the States from British Columbia. Prof. Zooker, the leading Russian authority, declares his belief that the influenza epidemic is the forerunner of cholera. Similar signs, he says, preceded the last five cholera epidemics. The Toronto public school board has decided that the portion of the school act providing compulsory education be enforced, and the city clerk will be asked for the necessary list of children within the prescribed limits. Senator Washburn of Minnesota favors tariff revision. He says the duty on many things must be cut down, the surplus must be reduced and subventions given to steamship lines as a means of extending the trade of the United States. A young man named W. J. Wickham went to Bath, Ont., last week and stated that he represented a Toronto syndicate who wished to buy sixty thousand acres of land in the Black Hills. He arranged for the purchase of several fine farms and created quite a sensation in the neighborhood. He then attempted to borrow money, but after securing $50 from a farmer he disappeared. He was a swindler. A London cable says: A protracted meeting of the cabinet was held to-day, at which was considered a proposal for a $10,000,000 loan purchase scheme to apply to the distressed portions of Ireland. It is understood there was not the degree of unanimity with regard to the measure that should be considered of so vital an issue, and it is unlikely that the scheme is lessened upon the sea of legislation it will be open to the same objections to many times that will be raised by the House of Commons and the cabinet; that the Government is again a very considerable part of the people of Ireland are entitled to all the benefits that the measure may bestow. Indeed it is now quite plain that the question of land purchase is not the only one upon which there is diversity of views in the conservative ranks, and the government will have no easy task to clear clear of breakers next session.

The widest circulation has been given to the statement that the Prince of Wales was a sufferer from Bright's disease. Dr. A. J. B. Jenner, bishop cosmopolitan of the Anglican Free Church in Detroit, addressed the prince a letter on Oct. 28th, to tender him the assurance that if his royal highness was really a sufferer from the disease in question he might find comfort from the fact that the disease is not incurable. The bishop said that as he had once before been of service to his highness in a critical time, he was again ready to be commanded. Under date of Nov. 15th the controller of the royal household wrote from Marlborough House to the bishop, thanking him for his letter and saying: "So far from suffering from Bright's disease, his royal highness has never known better health than he is now enjoying."
