The Curlers Banquet,

Thursday evening last, as announced, the members of the Lindsay curling club gave a banquet at the Simpson house in honor of the rink that so nobly upheld the honor of the the fact that the worthy host estimated at its $6.50()() Farm in the Township of Mariposa, pear Oakwood, Choice farm with word frame bease, good burns an all necessary outbuildings. $2,500 down, balance of the club, presided at the head, with the of the club, presided at the head, with the guests of the evening on his right and left; Mr Jas Keith, one of the oldest members of the club, occupying the vice-chair. After sufficient of the tempting viands had been disposed of to satisfy the appetites of all the chairman called on the company to prepare for the usual toasts, after which letters and telegrams from Mosss. TE Bradburn, JC Harstone and others, regretting inability to attend were read by the secretary. The first toast, "The Queen," was received with all due honors, and the national anthem followed. The next was "The Governor-General and Parliament," with which was coupled the name of Mr J. R. Dundas, who replied in a short but happy speech, creating considerable amisement by stating that it appeared as if S. otchmen were being beaten at their own national sport, as a majority of the Lindsay rink who had so well upheld the club's prestige in Winnipeg were of Irish descent. The next toast on the list was "The Army Navy and Volunteers," in replying to which Col. Deacon waxed both eloquent and witty, and was loudly applauded upon resuming his seat. The toast of the evening "Our Guesta," was then announced by the charman and was hailed with long continuous manifestations of pleasure, the secretry, Mr J M. McLennan, then read the following address:—

To J D. R avelle, Esq., and the members of his rink at the Winniper beserved.

To J D F avelle, Esq, and the members of his rink at the Winnipey bonspiel. his rink at the Winnipeg bonspiel.

Gentlemen.—We the memb is of the Lindsay Curing Cheb coul' not allow the record of your gallant struggle in Winnipeg to go without some recognition. Of all the ventures we have had afield during the last two season, none has caused such excitement at home as this. The "Grippe," the "Eastern Question," the "McCarthy Bill" were all for otten by the anxious crowd awasting the daily news from Winnipeg. It was truly a reminder when every town had it "boys at the front,"

That you failed to reach a first place in the bonspiel we regret, more fir your sake than our own, and we reflect that it is no inglorious achievement for the Lindsay curiers to have taken after all, the first stand, when the whole record of the competing clubs is taken into account. A record of thirteen victories and but two defeats, against some of the stringest rinks probably in the world is something of which we are justly proud.

we are justly proud.

While we do not enjoy, with our brethren of the North-west the opportunity of summer curling, yet we fitter ourselves that our curlers have given them an exhibition of pluck and skill sufficient to convince us that it is only a matter of time when the Grand Challen e Cup and International Trophy shall fall to the Linusay brooms.

on the Linesay brooms.

We trust that the evening which we spend tegether may show we value you for your elves and are proud of you, and that it may add frosh impetus among us to this noble game, the greatest charm perhaps of which is the good fe lowship that it promotes.

Signed in behalf of the club.

J. W. WALLACE, pres, JAS. KEITH

When the reading of the address was concluded Mr. J. D. Flavolle rose to reply, and received an ovation, the cheering la ting for several minutes. Both he and his rink were surprised at the reception that had been accorded them by the club and citizens generally. Dispute it ow they might, they came home defeated citizens and the wele me was one it for victors. He then went on to give ome particulars of the bonspiel "The success achieved was due to the fact that his men were united and obedient to their skip. The other members of the rink responded briefly in urn, and the usual list of toasts was then proceeded with. Our Mercantile, Financial and Manufacturing in creats" was responded to by Me srs. A Macdonell, I. Hay, W. Flavelle, and G. Henderson; the latter wentleman sang. The Old Black Watch in telling st. le, and responded with a comic song to vigorous receils. A volunteer toast, "The C.P. Realway and Toast spin Co." coupled with the name Mr. Theo. O. Maichett, the company's popular and effects in their hendeliness of the Winnipeg rink had expressed repeatedly since their resturn their approach to the comforts enjoyed by them doring the trip and of vr. matchett's efforts in their hendelines result of which was the free use of the elegraph line of ring their absence.

Mr. attent responded in a next speech. Several other toasts followed, that of "Our Hoost and Hoot-us," heim not fergetten.

The Benson House Hockey Club have much pleasure in accepting the challenge of Captain Petty of the Waverleys, which appeared in the columns of The Post, to decide the recent con-test. CAPT. J. M. CARTER. Lindsay, March 5th, 1870.

A Handsome Gift. Mr. W. A. Fried recently presented the Y. M. C. A. with a stereoscope and one dozen views illustrating Bunyan's celebrated book, "Pilgrim's Progress." Mr. E. A. Hardy has also kindly presented the association with a dozen views, mostly magnificent sceneries. These two gifts are certainly valuable advitions to the parlors and are much appreciated by the young men. Other friends may contribute from time to time similar views, which will help to make the rooms all the more home-like.
