A "PITCH-IN" TO A PALACE CAR.—Friday a pitch-in occurred which resulted in the damage of a good deal of property, but happily no lives were lost, though a number of passengers were placed in great danger. The accident occurred about 5.30 in the morning. The express which left Montreal Thursday night at eight o'clock was just drawing out of the depot here when an incoming freight from the west came rushing in on a siding which was switched into the main track about fifty yards west of the station. The express had cleared the switch with the exception of the freight train was unable to stop his training nine passengers; but the engineer of the freight train was unable to stop his train before his engine draw into the main track and came in contact with the hind car of the express. The result was a general smash, the Pullman suffering great damage. The engine was also disabled and the track torn up for some distance. Both trains were brought to a standatill by the pitch-in, but the "Sicily" was so badly damaged that it became necessary to transfer her passengers to the fore part of the train, which then proceeded on its western journey, sfter only a few moments' delay.
