WRAT MEDICINES ARE MOST CALLED FOR !"

Asked the reporter of an old druggist.

"Dr. Pierce's preparations," he replied. They are sold under a positive gave antifice that they will, in every case, give satisfaction, or the money is promptly refunded. His 'Exvorite Prescription,' for all those chronic weaknesses, nervous and other decapements peculiar to women, is used with unfailing success. It cures weak back, bearing-down sensitions, irregularities and weaknesses common to the sex, and being the most perfect of tonic medicines builds up and strengthens the unite system. The demand for it is constant, and I am conversant with scores of cases cared by it."

Heturning after a few moments' absence, the venerable wielder of the pestle remarked, 'the number of sursuparillas and other, so-called, 'blood reddicines' is legion; but Dr. Pioree's wielden Medical Discovery outselfs them all and it is the only blood-purifier out of the many which I am obliged to keep upon my shelves, that is guarenteed to benefit or cure in all cases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it is refunded.'

"In the line of Pills," remarked the old gentleman, "the little Sugar coated 'Pellets' put up by Dr. Pierce lead all others, both in amount of sales and the general satisfaction they give my customers." reporter of an old druggist.

from Alderson & Sons, civil and mining seers, Stewart buildings, New York, is which they speak of the strange disappeerance of two young Englishmen who were induced by advertisements in the London papers to come out to this country to try farming. The first case was that of to try farming. The first case was that of Augustus Hawlings, who disappeared near Niggers Falls. The second case is thus described: "The second case was that of Frank Regbie, the son of a decessed British officer, who died in India and left him a small fortune, which he invested in an Outerio farm, first being educated for the army and plucked in his mathematical examination. He was attracted by the advertisement already referred to; paid his fee; arrived in Toronto, consigned to who sold him an interset in a farm for £300, estuated on the margin of a lake in a lonely place north of Lindsay. He was swindled out of his money, and with the balance he went into another place, which he described as unastlefactory, and stated that he distructed his associates and begged of me to restore him to civilization. I replied, and urged him to come to my privata quarters, where he could flud a home until we got him something to do. But my letter was returned marked "some mystery, Woodsmick, March 25th. - Detective Murray, who is sugaged on the Burchell case, arrived in town this morning. He has some evidence of importance bearing on the case, gathered at Buffalo. One point he has established which must be regarded as of great importance, and that is that the telegram received by Burchell, and purporting to have come from Benwell, asking that his (B-nwell's) luggage be forwarded to New York, was written by Barchell himself. Mr. Murray, says that at least two two young Englishmen, who came to this country in response to an advertisement off-ring them privileges of leavning Canadian farming, are today missing, and were heard from last in the neighborhood of Nis-ara Falls. He is working on these cases, and expects, when working on these cases, and expects, when the proper time comes, to have some starting revelations to make. He seems to be interested in the Pickthail case, but does not say much about it. No new developments have transpired to clear up the
