"AGE CANNOT WITHER RES." forngreed an old gentleman, as he gazed upon the somely little woman by his sides "but frankly," he continued, "ste offer time I was afraid cosmeties would. The silly little woman, in order to appear youthful, phistered her face with different varieties of whitewash, yelept below, "creams," lotious," etc." "Yes," interrupted the little woman, "I did, and my skin became like parchineft and so pimply and course." "Well," said the listener, "What do you use now?" "Esp," was the reply, "nothing but common sense and Dr. Per ets todd in Medical Discovery, Common sense told me that if my blood was panye byer active spire its and digestion good, pure byce active appelib and digestion good, that the oneward warran would take on the hum of health. The Discovery did all those things and actually represented me. If you things and actually represented me." INTERRETING TO MEMBERS OF BENEFIT SOCIETIES.—A test case was heard at lest it shridge division court before Judge Dartaell, which is of much interest to members of benefit societies as defining their rights and liabilities. The Provident Matsai institution sued the defundant for the amount of two sessessments due 15th January, 1890, the was in default for the dues and assessments payable on 15th Nov., 1820, and according to the conditions of his certificate the latter thereby became forfatted and vold. On receiving the notice of assessment of 15th Jan. the defaudant remitted the dues of the 15th Nov., and requested a withdrawal and cancellation of his certificate. This the plaintiffe refused to do without payment of the January assessment. If he honor seld that the forfatture clause was fur the protection of the plaintiffe and that they could and did waive the forfatture, and recognize the defendant as a member by calling upon him to pay another assessment, not withstending default of payment of previous dues. He gave judgment active to pay, if the society still lesue assessments against the member who is supposed to be suspended, the buseful ary holds good for the full amount, less the overdue sassammente. On theother hand the judgment makes it clear that a member le habie for all dues to a beneficiary society up to the date when his certificate should have become forfatted by the isastitution's rules of government, but no longur.—

A FATAL ACCIDART.—Asother fatal accidents occurred as the Whithy junction on Tuesday, whereby Albert Mallory, of Conductor White's train, one of the most popular brakemen on the Mildiand division, lost his life. He was in the set of making the coupling between a coach and flat day, the former having the Millier coupling actached white the latter was provided with the eld fashtened link. To make the two couplings catch the links has because he is less. He was his between the latter and its proved a fath arms the latte that no emprise is making an effort. They have purchased a suitable piece of land on which they will forthwith erect a nice building, which is to be available for entertainments and concerts in the summer so well as a capital exating and curitag rink in the winter. There will be suitable retiring and refrachment rooms, over which there is to be a fine band practising hall. This has long been required in our village and there is little doubt of its ultimately being made a paying concern. Church Notes.—St. Matthew's church was beautifully decorated at Easter, the service being attended by a large congregation on Sunday. Last Lord's day the Rev. Mr. Jackson officialed in the absence of the incumbent, Rev. C. H. Shutt, who was away assisting his former college student Rev. E. P. Lowe, at his church at Aspden, Mushoka.

LUMEN CAMPS.—These are all broken up for this season, which after all has been better than what was expected at the commencement. There no doubt has been better than what was expected at the commencement. There no doubt has been better than what was expected at the commencement.
