Cittle, Kylis objected atomy to the proposed affect; the council had no right to give every $100 of the proposed to every $100 of the proposed to be remitted the sum of trut proposed to be remitted the sum would be about $150.... With regard to the William-et, drain, a letter had been received from Dr. DeGracet's solicitor claiming compansation for demages reculting from the flooding of his cellar by back water from the drain; the town solicitor adviced that the claim should be contracted if entered in court.—The repair was adopted.

BOOMING THE MARKET.

Coun, KTLIE moved, seconded by Coun.
Chandrell, that the sum of $150 be set acide for silvertising purposes in counction with the market.....Coun. Brown thought it would be foolish to expend so much......Dap, reeve Lennon believed that $25 or $30 would be enough for the purpose....Coun. Kylie said that if the market was ever to amount to anything it would require fully the amount named to let the people know that an honeat effort was being made to improve it. The Peterboro people never lost an opportunity to boom their market, and the consequence is that that town had to-day one of the best markets in Canada. He had noticed on several occasions over twenty teams from the vicinity of Linday in Peterboro on a market day....Mr. Bowman instanced the town of B film, where he said some years ago an effort had been put forth to improve the market, and the fact had been announced broadcast; to-day the market was a fine one.....Dep.-reeve Lennon moved, seconded by Coup. Parsons, that $15 be granted the market committee for advertising.—Carried.

THE MARKET BY-LAW. On motion the market committee was empowered to have low copies of the market by law printed for distribution.

LOOKING AFTER INDUSTRIES. On motion of Dep. reeve Lennon and Coun. Chandra, the following resolution was carried:—It being understood that the Dominton Organ company is thinking of removing their factory from Bowmanville, a committee be appointed to find out what inducements would be necessary to locate in Lindag. THE TOWN HOSPITAL

Mayor SMYTH, in course of a few re-marks about the building used as a home for the aged, suggested that the town hospital be used for the purpose. An arrangement would have to be made with the township of Ops-perhaps the town might buy out the township's share in the building.....It was finally arranged that Dap, reevel, so non-should see the township authorities about the matter,

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE'S HUDGET. Town Engineer Bowman read a detailed statement of the work necessary in the different wards. The sum proposed for the south ward was $1.430.37; north ward, 31 113 21; east ward, $814.54. Council then went into committee to consider the various items and a long discussion took various items and a long discussion took place....Coun. BROWN said that a great deal of work had already been done without any authority having been given by council; such a course was very wrong. It was shown that of the $4,000 set as a limit only about $2,300 really remained to he spent in the diff rent wavde.....It was finally moved that the work already done by the engineer be accepted, but that no new work be undertaken without permis-wion from the council. This was carried, and the report was referred back to the committee to be cut down.

If Rev. Dr. Caven, president of the equal rights association of the Dominion, voices the policy of the association in his manifesto, published in Toronto recently, the attempt to turn the equal rights mevemen to the advantage of the tory party in Ontario has utterly failed. The reform members of the association doubtless realize that in helping to put Mr. Meredich in power in this province they would be simply strengthening the hands of Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson, the very men whose action in ratifying the Jesuits Estates act a matter of deep regret that he could afcalled the equal rights association into ford them no relief. This was the way existence. It is not Mr. Meredith, but he treated his friends! Sir John Masdenald, who is the real leader of the opposition to the Mowat written. But when I saw reverend government. Three years ago Sir John gentlemen using strong language and Micdonald, Sir John Thompson, Sir asking their hearers upon the statements that present there was flector Langevin and other members of made by them to do what they could to the Dorainion ministry, stumped Ontario Oliver Mowat, I had little difficulty in with and for Mr. Meredith; the federal determining that it would be criminal in premier describing the Ontario opposition | me to be silent upon matters with which I Premier describing the Unterio opposition leader in Ottawa and cliewners as "my lieutenant." Witness the recent pilgrimage of tory candidates for the Ontario in conclusion that which no candid and assembly to Ottawa to consult with the unprejudiced reader will hesitate to asfederal ministers and obtain pointers and funds for the approaching campaign. Do based of beauth in purchasing a dumping the people of Ontario want the valuable timber lands of the province and the surplus which has been assumulated by years of careful reform rule to be handed over to tory heelers, to be dealt with as the Dominion government dealt with Indian reserve and North-west timber lands in the Robillard and Rykert cases? If not the Robillard and Rykert cases? If not they must keep Mr. Meredith and Sir John Meedonald's henchmen out of power in Ontario. With respect to the pending election, Principal Coven says that the equal rights association must not be allowed to become an instrument is the hands of designing persy men, and that those sho displayed no interest in the equal rights movement until they imagined that it could be used for personal or party onds should be given a wide bestir. He says that with respect to the separate schools question it desernot appear that the pust relations of the pur-

"For, after all, we can only indge of men by dealing with hard facts, and I came to the conclusion that in neither of these particulars had either of the reverend gentlemen many, if any, oppor-tunities of forming an estimate of his conduct.

"It so happens that un. er both circumstances I have personally been associated with him. I will state the facts and I 21 lieutement-generals and major-generals, will allow the impartial reader to draw his four governors of British colonies, one adjutant-general, one adjutant-general, own inference.

"At the fall of the Sandfield Macdonald administration it was succeeded by the Tache-Macdonald administration. administration, like the one that preceded it, was weak. Any trifling motion if brought up would have secured its overthrow.

"The occasion came when the estimates were brought down. The late Sandfield Macdonald announced to his friends that he proposed affirming the five year grant of $20,000 to Sir Win. Logan. A grant made in the interest of science, looked at from the standpoint of the politician merely, it would have been to the advantage of Oliver Mowat to have recorded his vote against the appropriation, and thus brought his party back to power; did he do it? No!! Not only did he refuse to be a party to such a policy, but he in-fluenced others so that the passage of such a resolution was impossible. That was his conduct towards his opponents!!

"The next thing was one in which his own political friends were largely interested. The Canada Car Co. had invested $500,000 in stock of the company, and for the carrying on of its work had executed a contract with the government for the use of the prison labor, to be supplied by the central prison. The contract to the company was a disastrous one. Frequently interviews were had with Mr. Mowat as premier. He realised the enormous amount which they had invested in the undertaking He realised also the positive unfitness of the prisoners to do skilled work. But while cautiously receiving any deputation which the conpany might send, and giving it the most patient hearing, ne assured them that his duty as a cabinet minister lett him no alternative but to treat with them upon the text of the contract, and it was to him

"I have hesitated in writing this letter-the first one of the kind I have ever was personally familiar. I felt that upon these points it was my duty to speak out. "I make no comment. I merely state cept, vis:—That the man who can recognize the good in his opponents and refuses to step into power by means to which his judgment could not assent; that the man who, dealing with his friends in the discharge of his official duties, looks at matters between them, not so much from the standpoint of the interests of his friends as from the public good, is a safe man to trust, is a man of whom any people ought to be proud, belonging as he does to a class which many will feel is unhappily

Also he considered the Methodist people quite capable of judging aright in politics, without any clerical or semi-clerical advice, and, moreover, he wished to give to such of the brethren as might differ from him no provocation to heated discussion and angry feeling. He was not, however, unwilling to state his political opinions, and he concluded his letter with the following observations:

"Influenced as I have been by those considerations in framing my own conduct, I have been pained to find that they are not shared by many of the Methodist ministers of this city, some of whom, having a firm political platform, sought to give the strength of their influence to the cry, Mowat must go.

"When I read the speeches of these reverend gentlemen, personally known to and respected by myself, the question arose to my mind, what do they know about him from personal association with him? What do they know about him from personal association with him? What do they know about him from personal association with him? What do they know about him from personal association with him? What do they know about him from personal association with him? The attention with him? The Alleged "Mysterious Disappearane of a Farm Papil Explained. [To the Editor of THE POST.]

STR.-In your issue of April 11th you published the report of the Ottawa Citiz :n's reporter's interview with J. A. Barron. eeq., M.P., with regard to the mysterious disappearance of farm pupils from the vicinity of Lindsay. Mr. Begbie was well known there as hiring with me. I should therefore feel obliged by your inserting his letter to me, received a few days ago. I may add that I introduced Alderson to Begbie at Lindsay station, the latter having driven me there to meet the former for the purpose of showing him a farm at Balsam lake, at the request of Adamson, named as the sgency in Toronto. A'der-son then discovered that Begbie's cousin was at Gueiph college with his (Alderson's) son. I kept young A'derson at my "loz but" from the 10th till the 23rd. His father came on the 22ad, taking his supper in the "hut" with my two sons and Mr. Pathick (the ordinary laborers mentioner), Begbie driving him and his son to the Benson house, the latter returning and walking in the next morning. So much for warm per-sonal friends. I must add that Begbie came to me at Baleam lake Nov. 17th, 1882, for one year, but remained with me until April 23rd, 1885. He is and was a thorough gentleman in all his ideas and actions. My xcuse for troubling you is that such mis representations should not go uncontradicted, although I flatter myself as far as I and my triend are concerned they fall harmless, atill they are calculated to injure this country, - Yours etc., Thos, WINTER, Coboconk, May 10th, 1890.

DEAR WINTER, -I always had a strong objection to rushing into print with either real or fancied grievances, and I wish most heartily that Mr. Alderson shared my objection to the latter. Despite my prejudices, however, I must ask you to contradict most emphatically the statements that have found their way into print lately anent my supposed disappearance. In the first place I was never drunk either in Winnipeg or any other town in Canada. In the second place, I never sought to conceal my whereaboute, having been in correscondence with customs authorities of poudence with customs authorities of Canada on more than one occasion, having culy reported according to law each time I visited friends in Canada, which has been fairly frequently. Thirdly, I am in constant correspondence with English friends and relatives, having written to and heard from them about every two weeks for the last seven or eight years. Fourthly, I am free to say that I countyou and yoursamong my moss intimate friends, I was going to say warmes: friends, but if a casual acquaintanceship of a few days entitles one mas to call another "his warm personal friend," then I presume the term would not be applicable to a friendship which extended over a term of years and which I, for my part, would be most happy to renew. As to Mr. Alderson, I signd him up at about his true value, I, e, as a self-important busy-body, always ready to promite saything that would imply he was a mas of countrierable influence, but equally ready to shuffs out when the true came, and submequent events proved the corrects sees of my judgment. Queryf Does a "warm presonal friendship" of a few days.
