BUTTER MAKERS

Do you want to make 3c. per lb. extra?

READ AND LEARN HOW.

The season for making and packing Butter has now commenced, and once more shippers are devoting columns of space to telling Butter-makers the country over how to make and pack the article that sells well in the English markets.

The concensus of their advice is "USE THE PROPER GRADE OF SALT." Thousands of pounds of Butter have to be left in the country every year that if properly treated with good salt would realize handsome figures for the shippers in the markets of the old country and put a much larger amount into the pockets of the makers.

FINE DAIRY SALT.

We have now on hand a large supply of the best DAIRY SALT in 56 lb. Sacks. Butter-makers using this article will make no mistake, as it is recommended by the largest shippers. Place your orders for a sack at once.

REGULATING LAKE SIMCOL.—The people here are much pleased with your timely article in the last issue of THE POST. The Chronicle of Whitby also has an editorial on the question. From the facts advanced the government cannot in the public interest avoid pushing this matter. At present I have good reason to know that a great majority of the boat owners are with us. They were as one against us before. We simply want the Ontario government to regulate those lakes, Simcoe and Couchiching, so as to keep them at or near low water mark. The department's own engineer says this is feasible. The total costs including changes at Sparrow lake, would be about $12,000, while the value of the land benefitted and reclaimed would reach well on to $300,000, if not fully that. I will have more to say on this again.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT — A sad drowning accident occurred in the Otonabee river here Tuesday morning between the two dams at The Dickson Co's mills. The victim was Everett Kid, a 9-year-old son of Mr. M. R. Kidd, grocer, of Georgest. The little fellow, in company with his brother, aged II years, was fishing from a pile of slabe which lined the river bank in the mill-yard. The pile of slabe shifted, throwing the unfortunate little fellow into the current, which is very swift at this point. His elder brother, noticing Everett struggling in the river, jumped in and heroically went to the rescue. He reached the drowning lad, and had brought him nearly to the shore when he lost his hold and the doomed boy was carried away out of reach. The parents of the unfortunate boy have the sympathy of the entire community.

HON. MR. BLAINE'S POLICY. He Wants Reciprocal Trade Belations with Latin America.

Washington, July 14.—The following letter from Secretary Blaine was received to-day by Senator Frye:-BAR HARBOR, Me., July 11, 1890. DEAR MR. FRYE,-I have just received intelligence from the highest commercial authority in Havana that American flour, under the new duties imposed by Spain, cannot reach the Cuban market under a cost of $11.46 per barrel-counting the shipping price in New York at $4 80 per barrel. Spain holds the market for herself, and is able to send European flour at a price which totally excludes the American flour from the markets of Cuba and Porto Rico. Other articles of American growth are likewise taxed by Spain to the point of prohibition. This one-sided commerce will seriously injure the shipping routes which are still in American hands largely, if not universally. It would certainly be a very extraordinary policy on the part of our government just at this time to open our markets with-Cuba and Porto Rico furnished the United larger consumers than any other nation in the world. To give a free market to this immense product of the Spanis plantations at the moment Spain is excluding the products of American farms from her market, would be a policy as unpre-

Our trade with the American Republics. as well as with the West India Islands, has been for many years in a most un-satisfactory condition. The aggregate balance of trade with all Latin America is heavily against us. A single illustration will suffice. Since we repealed the duty on coffee in 1872 we have imported the products of Brazil to the extent of $821,806, 000, and have sold to her only $156,135,000 of our own products. The difference—$664,671,000—we have paid in gold or its equivalent, and Brazil has expended the vast sum in the markets of Europe. You can readily see how different the result would have been if in return for the free admission of Brazilian coffee in our markets we had exacted the free admission of certain products of the United States in the Brazilian markets. To repeat this error with sugar to an amount three times as large as with coffee will close all opportunity to establish reciprocity of trade with Latin America. The charge against the protective policy, which has injured it most, is that its benefits go wholly to the manufacturer and the capitalists, and not that this is not at all true, but still it is the most plausible and therefore the most hurtful argument made by the free trader.
Here is an opportunity where the farmer
may be benefited—primarily, undeniably, richly benefited. Here is an opportunity for a republican congress to open the market of forty millions of people to the products of American farmers. Shall we selze the opportunity or shall we throw it away?

I do not doubt that in many respects the tariff bill pending in the senate is a just June 19, with as much practical wisdom as was ever stated in so short a space. Our foreign market for breadstuffs grows narrower. Great Britain is exerting every nerve to secure her bread supplies from India, and the rapid expansion of the wheat area in Russia gives us a powerful competitor in the markets of Europe. It becomes us, therefore, to use every opportunity for the extension of our market in both of the American continents. With nearly $100,000,000 worth of sugar seeking our market every year we shall prove our nearly $100,000,000 worth of sugar seeking our market every year we shall prove ourselves most unskilled legislators if we do not secure a large field for the sale and consumption of our breadstuffs and provisions. The late conference of American republics proved the existence of a common desire for closer relations. Our congress should take up the work where the international conference left it. Our field of commercial development and progress lies south of us.—Very sincerely yours,

James G. Blaine.

Lord Stanley's Visit to the Lindsay Con

—Many friends in Emily and Verulam will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Richard White, a former resident of Emily, who died in Cannington Monday evening last after a protracted illness of about a year. Deceased resided in Lindsay for a time about six years ago, and afterwards removed to Cannington, where he started business in the boot and shoe line. The body was brought to town on Wednesday morning, and was met here by the members of Emily Orange Lcdge No. 952, to which deceased belonged, who eccorted the remains to their last resting place in Eden cemetery.

Squinting at Toronto.

It may seem odd to most people that a district manufacturer can compete-and successfully, too-with city establishments. Such is the case, and there must be something in it when Belleghem, the furniture king of Peterboro, entered the business arena and carried off an order of large size under the very noses of Toronto houses-if houses can be said to have roses. Belleghem had scarcely got through furnishing Dr. Potte's new residence than he received a large order from a Toronto citizen-almost a duplicate of that received from Dr. Potts. Belleghem's success in this respect is a matter that should cause Peterboro to reflect, as there might be a probability of Belleghem following Mr. Cox and removing his large wirehouse and factory from that town to the city. While such a casualty might be deplored there is no disputing that the excellent value given in furniture is such that trade will flow into his hands even more freely in the metropolis than it has done in the town and country. and country.-10-1.

Lindsay Board of Education. A meeting of the board of education was held Monday evening last in the council chamber to receive and consider the estimates for the current year and consider the applications for the position of classical master, left vacant by the resignation of Mr. W. S. Milner. The following members of the board were in their places:-Mr. John Dosson, chairman, and Mesers. J. R. McNeillie, J. D. Flavelle, T. Stewart, John Kennedy. R. J. McLaughlin, Col. Deacon, Thos. Walters, D. Ray. J. L. Dunsford, J. D. MacMurchy and R. Kennedy. Mr. McNeillie presented the report of the finance committee, which recommended payments of accounts agreed the property of the finance committee, which recommended payments of accounts agreed the Silk, B. and also read a statement of accounts.

gregating ?168.79; and also read a statement of the estimated expenditure for the current year on behalf of the collegiate institute and public hoois, as follows: COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE. Repairs,..... Improvement of grounds, Deductions. overnment and county grants... Fees from pupils... Sundrice......

Some little discussion took place in connection with the above, Mr. Walters remarking that he hoped the board would issue a detailed statement of the expenditures this year for the benefit of the ratepayers. He understood this was to have been done last year, but instead a bare abstract was issued. It was important that the ratepayers should fully understand where their money was going. On motion the finance record are in accordance with the wise policy of protection. But there is not a section or a line in the entire bill that will open a market for another bushel of wheat or another barrel of pork. If sugar is now placed on the free list without exacting important trade concessions in return we shall close the door of a profitable reciprocity against ourselves. I think you will find some valuable hints on this subject in the president's brief message of June 19, with as much practical wisdom as was ever stated in so short a space. Murchy, chairman of the managing committee, presented a report recommending that the sum of $200 be expended in improving the grounds of the collegiate institute, and that Janitor Passmore be requested to procure a residence for himself nearer the building.....Mr. Walters said he did not altogether approve of the way the managing committee had done its work with regard to the improvements made last year. Money had been spent and work done that nad never been approved of by the board.....Mr. MacMurchy took strong exception to Mr. Walters remarks, who, he said, came there after a two months' rest to criticise the work of the
